If numbers count, the annual school fair sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association was a big success. Pictured here are a "few" of the fair-goers as they elbowed their way from one concession to another in the gymnasium. Concessions in other parts of the school were equally attractive to hundreds attending the fair. The Courier offers a ten dollar award to the first person who can identify every individual in the picture before next Tuesday.

What's a fair without hot dogs? There was a continuous lineup at the food booth operated by the Kiwanis Club. By closing time the cupboard was completely stripped except for a few stray bottles of mustard and catsup.

It's Your Money

Out of the wilderness of Washington comes a report that the government is spending more than a million dollars to find out if and why a monkey loves his mother, according to the Industrial Press Services.

Specifically, states the report, the National Institutes of Health, operated by the Public Health Services, are going to spend $1,201,925 of the taxpayers' dollars for a monkey study of "the affectional relationship of the infant monkey to his mother."

The government is planning on this monkey business at a time when the federal deficit amounts to billions of dollars a year and the public debt is near $300 billion.

Any farmer in Charlevoix county could give a pretty reliable report on the relationship of mother and offspring, be it monkeys' cattle, sheep, pigs or chickens. And we doubt if they would ask a cent for the knowledge they have gained over years of experience.

Price Fixing by Legislation

Will the Michigan state legislature set a precedent by establishing a price for gasoline? Reports are that Senate Bill 1400 and House Bill 756 will do just that.

These two bills have not received much public attention, intentionally or otherwise, but when government attempts to legislate manufacturers or retailers prices, it's time for the public to open its eyes. Once such a precedent is established we can foresee the end of the free enterprise system which was the basis of this country's phenomenal growth to world leadership.

Mr. Citizen has for the past few years been so self satisfied with his lot in life that he has been lulled into a coma by the assurance that government is his provider. Motorists gripe now and then about the price of gasoline. Usually the extent of the gripe is to blame the oil companies and the dealers for robbing them.

We in Charlevoix are paying approximately 38.5 cents for a gallon of regular gasoline. The dealers take is six cents per gallon from which must come his operating expenses and losses through bad accounts. The tax take is approximately 11 cents per gallon which includes federal, state and sales taxes. That means that taxes are taking the lion's share of the cost of an essential commodity which in no sense of the word can be classified a luxury today.

It's about time Mr. Citizen started howling plenty loud at his representative in the United States Congress and in the state legislature.

Winter Disclosures

During bright, warm, summery days the strong and weak creatures of the North get along very much alike.

Not so in winter!

Winter's storms snap rotten limbs while healthy boughs bend, but do not break.

Cold blizzards test the vitality of Nature's wild children. The strongest things in Nature now reveal their strength, and the weakest show their weaknesses. The heartiest creatures survive. The frail sicken, and sometimes die.

So it is with man.

We discover little about ourselves when life is pleasant. But storms of disappointment, discouragement and defeat are times of self-disclosure.

Life's wintry weather shows us what we are.

General Public Warned Against Spring Racketeers

Watch out for Spring rackets is the warning issued this week by Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Chief of Police Joseph L. Smith.

Beware of the fancy deals that offer you bargains on everything from landscaping to siding, roofing, painting, chimney repair, peat moss, tree trimming and septic tank cleaning to name a few. Spring seems to bring out the con men in these 'rackets, all of whom seem to be such 'nice' guys.

Know the firms which you are doing business . . . check them out before you sign a contract. An honest firm does not fear your questions or your request for investigation.

Call the Chamber of Commerce or the Police Department, both of whom will get as much information as possible concerning the business.

Today's youngsters don't leave footprints on the sands of time—just tire tracks.

Tomorrow is the greast labor-saving device off today.

Mrs. Robert Richards of the Charlevoix school faculty and president of the district will preside at the meeting.

Carl Spitler of Petoskey, delegate to the Constitutional Convention, will discuss con-con educational and legislation issues.

Also to be discussed are the Department of Classroom Teachers Delegate Assembly to be held at Centrai Michigan College Mar. 23-24, the 1962 fall regional conference, the annual MEA convention to be held in Denver in July, the MEA leadership conference and proposed revision of the MEA constitution.

Community Factors Of School Consolidation

The proposed consolidation of the Central Lake, Ellsworth and Charlevoix school districts has brought to light much information about the three areas that might not have been brought out had not the Citizens' Schooi Study Committee, named to study the feasibility of such a merger, deived into it during the survey.

Among these are community factors which, included among other things, the history, the present day economy and the living habits of the three communities.

For instance, it has been shown that the districts have much in common: all were lumbering centers in their day; all are today, by virtue of their geographic location, in the heart of the resort country, both summer and winter; all are attracting small industry to supplement their economy; the residents of all three districts utilize many of the same services and facilities patronizing, in many instances, the same banks, shopping areas, hospitals, doctors, dentists, rccreational facilities and services.

A brief resume' of the districts reveal how much they paraliel each other, a factor necessary if they are to be compatable within a consolidated district.

Central Lake, for instance, was originally a lumbering town which is now dependent on farming, the resort business ond a cannery and pickle packing plont to support its economy.

The school district covers the popular Chain-of-Lakes, Torch Lake and the Grand Traverse Bay Resort area and the villages of Central Lake, Eastport, Torch Lake and Pleasant Valley.

The village of Central Lake where the high school is located offers the basic shopping facilities, a newspaper, library, banks and the services of three doctors and a dentist. The residents hove access to hospitals in Bellaire, Charlevoix, Traverse City and Petoskey.

Trese are nine churches in the district with a membership if approximately 450. All have active youth organizations.

For recreation many residents participate in the various outdoor sports available in the area, fishing, boating, softball and others; all are avid fans of the school sports program and support an extensive summer juvenile recreation program.

Residents of the school district have supported all school proposals since 1950, records reveal.

A poll of where residents of the district did their shopping and obtained their services show that more than 50 per cent now go to Charlevoix for some of the services or to visit friends.

School enrollment for kindergarten through twelfth gradea rose from 412 during the 1957-58 school year to 424 this year.

The school census for tha district covering the children in the 5-19 year age group rose from 407 to 501 during the same period.

Ellsworth, like Central Lake, was founded as a lumbering center and later turned to farming with many farmers today supplementing their income by working in Ellsworth, East Jordan or Charlevoix.

The community boasts 13 retail stores with most of the outside shopping being done in Petoskey or Traverse City.

Hospital facllities in Charlevoix are used most extensively.

Banding is done in Ellsworth, Charlevoix, East Jordan and Central Lake.

The community has four churches.

School enrollment in the kinlergarten through twelfth grades rose from 287 during the 1957-58 school year to 304 this year. This does not include the 72 elementary age students attending the Christian school.

The school census for the district covering children in the 5-19 age group dropped from 453 in 1957-58 schoo! year to 431 this year.

Charlevoix, the largest of the three communites, was platted in 1876 when the Pine River channel was completed though it had been a village before then.

Its first school was a log structure built in 1861. A century later the new junior-senior high school was completed. The elementary school was constructed in 1927; the old high shool constructed in 1901 was razed upon completion of the new high school and the addition to the high school built in 1952 converted for use as a cafeteria and classroom area.

Like the others, Charlevoix was once a lumbering community and a commerical fishing center. It has been a summer resort since the late 1870's. In recent years it has become a winter resort and industry is being developed.

During the past three years, an average of 30 new homes per year have been built in the school district. An undetermined number of these are summer homes. These families probably would not add to the school enrollment.

The city boasts its own hospital, two banks, a newspaper, library, a variety of retail stores as well as several wholesale outlets, various types of recreation. Charlevoix is a fourth class city with its own municipally-owned water, electric and sewage disposal facilities.

A new nuclear power plant is being built within the school district.

Churchea representing 11 denominations are located in the area.

There are three doctors and three dentists with offices in the community.

Charlevoix is the county seat for Charlevoix county.

Public school enrollment, kindergaten through twelfth grades, has grown from 876 in 1957-58 to 1014 this year. The number of tuition students has increased from 28 in 1958-59 to 44 this year. Approximately 135 students in the elementary grades attend St. Mary's parochial school.

The school census for the district in the 5-19 year age group increased from 1134 in 1957-58 to 1185 this year.

Shell dealers suggest 10 ways to cut car repair bills

Your car is probably the second biggest single investment you'll ever make. Here are 10 pointers from Shell that can help you protect that investment. They're easy to follow. And they might well save you a lot of trouble, as well as needless expense.

1. Check your cooling system hose for weak spots. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they are craeked, cut or swollen, they could give way at any time and cause engine temperature to soar. The result: a troublesome breakdown. Less serious, but a potential cause of overheating, is a debris-clogged radiator. Ask your Shell dealer to use his air hose to clear away clutter on the outside of your radiator.

2. Touch up scratches before rust sets in. You can discourage the spread of rust by using touch-up paint on body scratches. Rust also likes to plug drainage holes on the underside of car doors and body panels. Keep those holes open (a screwdriver or any pointed instrument works fine) and you may well prevent a rusted-through door or body section.

3. Avoid 100-foot trips. It's a mean trick to start a cold car, drive it just a few feet, then turn it off. Yet people often park in front of their homes, then drive into the garage later on. This can inerease engine wear, dilute your oil with unburned fuel and give sludge morc chance to form. If at all possiblc, drive right into the garage when you arrive home.

4. Look for oil streaks on inner walls of tires. It may take a bit of backbending, but it's well worth the effort to check the side of your tires you seldom see—the side facing in. If there's any sign of leaking fluid on tire walls, tell your Shell dealer. A leaking brake cylinder or rear axle oil seals could be at fault. Either can lead to extensive repairs if not corrected right away.

5. Obey the cardinal rule of car care. A professional lubrication job is still the best way to keep your car in good health. But it should be done on a regular basis—not "every so oftcn." For safety's sake, Shellubricate cvery 1000 miles. If your car has an automatic transmission, your transmission fluid level should be checked regularly. Your Shell servieeman can do this for you during Shellubrication.

6. Never "gun" your car to warm up your engine. It doesn't help a bit. Matter of fact, it can do more harm than good, cven increase cngine wear. Many drivers also think it's worthwhile to idle their cars on a cold morning. But, with today's modern engines, it isn't necessary. It just wastes gasoline. Far better to start your cngine, wait a few seconds until it's running smoothly—then be on your way, but at moderate speed.

7. Check a terribly neglected little accessory. People seldom give their windshield wipers a second thought—except when it rains. But wipers wear out too. Instead of wiping your windshield, they can smear and scratch it. Wiper blades are easy to replaec—but windshields aren't. Ask your Shell dealer to check your blades and wiper arms next time you see him.

8. Get a midwinter anti-freeze check. If you've had to add water to your radiator in the last few months, you may have less anti-freeze protection than you think. Let your Shell dealer check your coolant with a hydrometer—to make sure an extra cold night won't cause trouble. Reminder: If you got a Shellzone anti-freeze guarantee this winter, you're entitled to free refills, if necessary, until April 1, 1962.

9. Don't let front wheels hit the curb. Banging front whcels against the curb is tough on wheel alignment—and tires too. So, approach the curb carefully when you park. This sounds like a small thing, but it can help prevent costly front end problems. Suggestion: look at the tread on your front wheels right now. If they show uneven wear, your front wheel alignment may need attention.

10. Give your car an occasional change of scenery. A steady diet of city driving adds to the combustion deposits inside your engine. This deposit buildup can reduce your car's power and, eventually, may cause trouble. But many of the deposits that come with city driving will fly out the exhaust when you hit the open road. So, take your car for a turnpike drive this weekend. It can be good exercise for it. And a pleasant afternoon for you.

Weather Balloon Comes to Earth on George Goike Farm

Occasionally one sees a weather balloon put aloft some place west of Lake Michigan passing over but seldom does one come to earth in this immediate area.

Last week, however, was the exception for a balloon with weather instruments attached came down on the George Goike farm located on the Boyne City road approximately four miles east of here.

According to information found in the instrument box, the balloon and its 'cargo' had been put aloft at the U. S. Weather Bureau station at Green Bay, Wis., Feb. 27 and probably came to rest near the Goike home the same day though it was not noticed until Feb. 28. The instrument box was attached via a long string to what was left of the balloon that, according to the information attached, would burst when it reached an altitude of 16 miles.

Directions for packing and returning the instuments to Radiosone, Joliet, Ill., were included. The family has already mailed the instruments complete with details of its recovery to Joliet.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION .....

by M. L. Weell
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

All The Way To OPA?

Carried to its logical conclusion, the "supply-management" theories of Agricultural Secretary Orville Freeman can lead America backward to the daya of OPA, when the Office of Price Administration controlled the prices of nearly everything.

As usual, agriculture is the first target of the new political theory with planners eagerly watching to see public reaction to the government-control schemes. At first glance the proposals embodied in the "Food and Agricultural Act" of 1962 seem to spell out just another farm program, but farmers are quick to point out that there is little likelihood that supply-management will stop with their industry.

"It's the beginning of the end for our competitive free-enterprise system," said one farm leader who added, "Once the supply of food falls under government control, all related industries will have to whip into line. This includes those who handle or process food in any manner from truckers to bakers, . . . to canners, freezers, or supply any of the others. Indirectly it includes all the allied industries upon which 40 per cent of the jobs of this country depend."

Several examples of what would happen to farm-incentives alone, were brought out in hearings to set the stage for a National Turkey Marketing Order. "If the turkey industry had been under government control we would never have developed the broadbreasted all-white meat turkey we now enjoy," one farmer testified. "What incentive will producers have to improve quality or build markets if the government is his only market, and tells him how many poults he can market?"

The supply-management proposals of the Secretary have prompted Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau to say, "No one can disagree that the present farm program is an admitted failure resulting in costly surpluses and storage costs. But what the government planners will not admit is that the present chaotic situation is a direct result of government price-fixing and the reliance on supply-management policies. Instead of correcting past mistakes with less reliance on government management of agriculture, the federal farm doctors prescribe aditional doses of their nostrums."

Beaver Isle Gas Shortage Relieved By Coast Guard

The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw Monday morning plowed through ice 22 inches thick to deliver 2,000 gallons of gasoline to the Charlevoix county road commission branch at Beaver Island. The road crew had exhausted its normal supply of motor fuel in combatting the above normal 74 inch snow fall this year.

The Mackinaw arrived at 7:30 a.m. Monday plowing through ice up to 22 inches thick. The cargo of gasoline barrels which had been picked up at Cheboygan was unloaded onto the ice offshore from the Beaver Island Coast Guard station.

All county road commission storage tanks on Beaver Island were filled before the close of navigation last fall, a supply normally sufficient to operate the island road equipment throughout the winter. When the gasoline supply was exhausted recently, emergency fuel was obtained from Jewell Gilespie and Lloyd McDonough service stations until the arrival of the Mackinaw.

If nothing can be done about it, why not lock the door and go to bed?—I.T.M.

CHS Students To Begin Spring Public Speaking Activities

The Charlevoix high school is among the 375 Michigan schools that have enrolled in the spring program of the Michigan High School Forensic Association.

Spring public speaking activities will begin in the local school at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Mar. 15, when students, appearing in five different divisions, will appear before judges in the high school all-purpose room.

The divisions and entries in each follow: oratory: Jerry Boss, James Ferguson and Almac Arvilla; extempore speaking, Mary Ann Klooster and James VanderWall; interpretative reading, Donna Berg, Sally Cross, Sharon Abfalter, Jack Stewart and Elaine Martin; declamation, Susan Pearl, Franz Erickson and James Stewart and Humorous reading Marilyn Lesher.

Judges will be the Rev. Harold E. Kohn, Mrs. Kit Carson and Mrs. Robert Hamilton.

All students are appearing under the direction of Mrs. Robert Martin, their speech instructor. Winners in next week's event will advance to the district competition to be held here later this month.

Annual Blue and Gold Dinner Staged at Elementary School

The Cub Scouts, their Den Mothers, Cub Scouts committee, Cub Master R. L. Hooper and Leonard Burns, Neighborhood Representative along with members of the sponsoring organization, the Kiwanis club, and their respective husbands and wives, gathered at the Elementary school cafeteria Wednesday for the annual Blue and Gold banquet.

The event marks Boy Scout month for the young Scouts.

Mr. Burns welcomed the guests and served as master of ceremonies, introducing Mr. Hooper who told of the need for more den mothers.

The movie "Once a Boy Scout" was shown by Glen Snider, president of Kiwanis club. Rev. Alexander Wood gave the invocation. Webelos Den presented the flag for the opening ceremony.

Earl Holburn assistant Cub Master and Webelos den leader presented awards. Den mothers were recognized while Mrs. Snider cut the cake.

The Cub Scout committee thanks the school for the use of the cafeteria for the banquet; the Kiwanis for the cake, rolls, coffee and mints supplied for the dinner; Maxbauers Creamery for the milk; and Harry Pearsall for the use of his P.A. system.

Acknowledgments were also made to the city for providing a meeting place and to Mr. Burns for all of his efforts in the scouting program.

The Vikings had to come from behind after trailing 17 to 12 at the quarter and 31 to 24 at halftime to knot the score 41-all before coming up with the three point victory to defend their second place standing. Gabby Nowak had 23 points for Gaylord followed by Art Tebo with 15. Grayling played without Sherm Nell who was elsewhere writing an entrance examination.

"The Stomach Turning Point"

By Jenkins Lloyd Jones

Editor of Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune

Editors Note: Following is the text of a talk given by Mr. Jones at the fall meeting of the Inland Press Association. He speaks out in challenge to the American Press. It is a challenge as well to those who would perppetuate the American tradition. Others may find it offensive.

This afternoon I am about to inflict upon you e jeremiad.

Long before the prophet, Jeremiah, uttered his lamentations about the evil behavior of the Children of Israel the world had seen many calamity-howlers. We heve cuneiform tablets describing the moral decay of Babylon end Cheldea. We have hieroglyphic inscriptions predicting thet Osiris and Ra will smite the Egyptians for their wickedness. And eo when I rise today and make some comments about the moral climete of America, and about our responsibilities therefor as temporary custodians of America's press, I speak in avery old tradition.

Tha calamity howler! It is customary to dismiss such fogeyism as I am about to display with a tolerant laugh. For while it was freely predicted all through the ages that the world was going to Hell, it hasn't gone to Hell yet. Who can deny that in practically all the crafts and certainly all of the science we are farther advanced than we ever have been. Why not be cheerfully optimistic?

I think I can tell you why. Human progress hes never been steady. It has washed back and forth like waves upon a beach. Happily, there has been an incoming tide, so the waves have washed higher and higher as each great civilization came on.

But the pathway of history is littered with the boncs of dead states and fallcn empires. And they were not, in most eases, promptly repleced by something better. Nearly a thousand years elapsed between the fall of Western Rome and the rise of the Renaissance, and in between we had the Dark Ages in which nearly all of man's institutions were inferior to those which hed gone before. I don't want my children's children to go through a couple of centuries of dialectic materialism before the sun comes up again.

So the Jeremiahs haven't been so wrong, after all. It is sad to watch thc beginnings of decay. It is sad to see an Age of Pericles replaced by the drunken riots of Alcibiedes. There was, indeed, just cause for gloom when into the palaces of the Caesars went Nero and Caligula, and when the once-noble Praetorian Guard became a gang of assassins willing to sell the throne to the top bldder.

Alaric's Goths finally poured over the walls of Rome. But it was not that the walls were low. It was that Rome, itself, was low. The sensual life of Pompeii, the orgies on Lake Trasimene, the gradually weakened fibre of a once self disciplined people that reduced them at last to seeking safety in mercenaries and the payment of tribute—all those brought Rome down. She went down too early. She had mueh to teach the world.

And so, ladies and gentlemen, I look upon our own country and much that I see disturbs me. But we are a great people. We have a noble tradition. We have much to teach the world, and if America should go down soon it would be too early.

One thing is certain. We shell be given no centuries for a leisurely and comfortable decay. We have an enemy now—remorseless, crude, brutal and cocky. However much the leaders of the Communist conspiracy may lie to their subjects about our motives, about our conditions of prosperity, about our policies and aims, one thing they believe themselves implicitly—and that is that we are in an advanced state of moral decline.

When Nikita Khrushchev visited Hollywood he was shown only one movie set, that of a wild dance scene in Can-Can. He said it represented decadence and I am sure he really thought so. It is a dogma of current Communist faith that America is Sodom and Gomorrah, ripening for the kill.

Do you know what scares me about the Communists? It is not their political system, which is primitive and savage. It is not their economic system which works so badly that progress in a few directions is purchased at the price of progress in all the rest. It is their puritanism. It is their dedication and self-sacrifice.

It does no good to comfort ourselves with the reflection that these are products of endless brainwashings, of incessant propaganda, of deprivation by censorship and jamming of counter-information and contrary arguments. The dedication is there. Tho confidence that they are morally superior is there.

The naive questions of your Intourist guide reveals only too quickly that she thinks she is talking to a self-indulgent fop from the court of some latter-day Louis XIV. In the school yard the children rush up to show you, not their yo-yo's but their scholarship medels. And when you offer them new Lincoln pennies as souvenirs they rip off their little Youth Pioneer buttons and hand them to you, proud that they ere not teking gifts, but are making a feir exchange.

The Russian stage is as austere as the Victorian stage. Russian literature may be corny but it is clean, and it glorifies the Russian people and exudes optimism and promise. Russian art is stiffly representational, but the paintings and the sculpture strive to depict beauty and heroism—Russian beauty, of course, and Russian heroism.

And what of us?

Well ledies and gentlemen, let's take them one at a time.

We are now at the end of the third decade of the national insanity known as "progressive education." This was the education where everybody passes, where the report cerds were noncommittal lest the failure be faced with the fact of his failure, where all moved at a snail pace like a transatlantic convoy so that the slowest need not be left behind, and all proceedcd toward adulthood in the lockstcp of "togetherness." Thus the competition that breeds excellence was to be sacrificed for the benefit of something called "life adjustment."

With what results? We have watched juvenile delinquency climb steadily. We have produced tens of thousands of high school graduates who move their lips as they read and cannot write a coherent paragraph. While our Russian contemporaries, who were supposed to be dedicated to the mass man, have been busy constructing an elite we have been engaged in the wholesale production of mediocrity. What a switch!

When was the last time you as editors and publishers, examined the curricula of your local schools? How did your schools rank on the standardized Iowa tests? When have you looked at your philosophy gehind their grading schools' report cards and the system? Have you asked to examine any senior English themes? Have you offered any recognition to your schools' best scholars to compare to the recognition you accord your schools' best football players?

For the funny thing about "progressive educators" is that theory vanishes when the referee's whistle blows for the kick-off. In the classroom they pretend to grade subjectiveiy, against the student's supposed capacity, lest he be humiliated by natural inadequacy. But on the football field they never put in a one-legged halfback on the theory that, considering his disability, he's a great halfback. They put in the best halfback they've got, period. The ungifted sit on the bench or back in the stands even though they, too, might thirst for glory. If our schools were as anxious to turn out brains as they are to turn out winning football teams this strange contradiction wouldn't exist.

Having neglected disciplines in education it was quite logical that we should reject discipline n art. The great painters and sculptors of the past studied anatomy so diligently that they often indulged in their own body-snatching. And today, after many centuries, we stare at the ceiling of the Sistinc Chapel or et the walls of the Reichmusee end marvel at their works.

But this self-discipline is of little concern to the modern nonobjective painter. All he neede is pigment and press agent. He can throw colors at a canvas and the art world will discover him. He can stick bits of glass, old rags and quids of used chewing tobecco on a board and he is a social critic. He can drive a car beck and forth in pools of paint and Life magazine will write him up.

Talent is for squares. What you need is vast effrontery. If you undertake to paint a cow it must look something like a cow. That takes at least a sign-painter's ability. But you can claim to paint a picture of your psyche and no matter what the result who is to say what your psyche looks like? So our museums are filled with daubs being stared at by confused citizens who haven't the guts to admit they are confused.

But the Age-of-Fakery in art is a mild cross that American civilization bears. Much more serious is our collapse of moral standards and the blunting of our capacity for righteous indignation.

Our Puritan anceators were preoccupied with sin. They were too preoccupied with it. They were hag-ridden and guilt-ridden and theirs was a repressed and neurotic society. But they had horsepower. They wrested livings from rocky land, built our earliest colleges, started our literature, caused our industrial revolution, and found time in between to fight the Indians, the French and the British, to bawl for abolition, women suffrage and prison reform, and to experiment with graham crackers and bloomers. They were a tremendous people.

And for all their exaggerated attention to sin, their philosophy rested on e granite rock. Man was the master of his soul. You didn't have to be bad. You could and should be better. And if you wanted to escape the eternal fires you'd damned well better be.

In recent years all this has changed in America. We have decided that sin is largely imaginary. We have become enamoured with "behavioristic psychology." This holds that a man is a product of his heredity and his environment, and his behavior to a large degree is foreordained by both. He is either a product of a happy combination of genes and chromosomes or an unhappy combination. He moves in an environment that will tend to make him good or that will tend to make him evil. He is just a chip tossed holplessly by forces beyond his control and, therefore, not responsible.

Well, the theory that misbehavior can be cured by pulling down tenements and erecting in their places elaborete public housing is not holding water. The crime rete continues to rise along with our outlays for social services. We speak of underprivilege. Yet the young men who swagger up and down the streets, boldly flaunting their gang symbols on their black jackets, ere far more blessed in creature comforts, opportunities for advancement, and freedom from drudgey than 90 per cent of the children of the world. We have sown the dragon's teeth of psuedo-scientific sentimentality, and out of the ground has sprung the legion bearing switch-blade knives and bicycle chains.

Clearly something is missing. Could it be what the rest of the world's children have been given—the doctrine of individual responsibility?

Relief is gradually becoming an honorable career in America. It is a pretty fair life, if you have neither conscience nor pride. The politicians will weep over you. The state will give a mother e bonus for her illegitimete children, and if she neglects them sufficently she can save enough out of her ADC payments to keep herself and her boy friend in wine and gin. Nothing is your fault. And when the city fathers of a harrassed community like Newburgh suggest that able bodied welfare clients might sweep the streets the "liberal" editorialists arise as one man and denounce them for their medieval cruelty.

I don't know how long Americans can stand this erosion of principle. But I believe that some of my starryeyed friends are kidding themselves when they pretend that every planeload of Puerto Ricans that puts down at Idlewild is equivalent in potential to every shipload of Pilgrims that put into old Plymouth. Nations are built by people capable of great energy and self discipline. I never heard of one put togother by cha-cha-cha.

The welfare state that taxes away the rewards for responsible behavior so that it can remove the age-old ponalties for irresponsible behavior is building on a foundation of jelly. It is time we stopped this elaborate pretense that there is no difference between the genuinely unfortunate and the mobs of rellefers who start throwing bottles every time the cops try to make a legitimate arrest.

Finally, there is the status of our entertainment and our literature.

Cen anyone deny that movies are dirtier than ever? But they don't call it dirt. They call it "realism." Why do we let them fool us? Why de we nod owlishly when they tcll us thet filth is merely a daring art form, that licentiousness is really social comment? Isn't it time we recognized Hollywood's quest for the fast buck for what it is? Isn't it plain thet the financially-harrassed movie industry is putting gobs of sex in the darkened driveins in an effort to lure curious teenagers away from their TV sets? Last week the screen industry solemnly announced that henceforth preversion and homosexuality would no longer be barred from the screen provided the subjects were handled with "delicacy and taste." Good Lord!

And we of the press are a party to the crime. Last year the movie ads in our newspaper got so salacious and suggestive that the advertising manager and I decided to throw out the worst and set up some standards. We thought that due to our ukase there might be some interruption in advertising some shows. But no. Within a couple of hours the exhibitors were down with much milder ads. How was this mirecle accomplished?

Well, it seems that the exhibitors are supplied with several different ads for each movie. If the publishers are dumb enough to accept the most suggestive ones those are what they get. But if publishers squawk the cleaner ads are sent down. Isn't it time we all squawked?

I think it's time we quit giving page 1 play to the extra-marital junkets of crooners. I think it is time we stopped treeting as glamourous and exciting the brazen sheck-ups of screen tramps. I think it is time we asked our Broadwey and Hollywood columnists if they can't find something decent and inspiring going on along their beats.

And the stage: They raided Minsky's so Minsky's has spread all over town. Bawdiness has put on a dinner jecket, and seats in the orchestre that used to go for six-bits et the Old Howard and Nichols' Gayety are now scaled at $.80. Oh, yes. And we have lots of "realism." Incestuous Americens. Preveted Americans. Degenerate Americans. Murderous Americans.

How many of these "realistic" Americans do you know?

Two months ago an American touring company, sponsored by the State Department and paid for by your tax dollars, presented one of Tennessee Williams' more depraved offerings to an audience in Rio de Janeiro. The audience hooted in disgust and walked out. And where did it walk to? Right across the street where a Russian ballet Company was putting on a beautiful performance for the glory of Russia. How dumb can we get?

We are drowning our youngsters in violcnce, cynicism and sadism piped into the living room and even in the nursery. The grandchildren of the kids who used to weep because The Little Match Girl froze to death now feel cheated if she isn't slugged, raped and thrown into a Bessemer converter.

An there's our literature. The old eye-poppers of the past, which tourists used to smuggle beck from Paris under their dirty shirts, are now tame stuff. Compared to some of our modern slush, "Ulysses" reads like the minutes of the Epworth League. "Lady Chatterly's Lover" has been draped with the mantle of art, and is now on sale in the corner drugstore to your high-school-age son or daughter for 50 cents. Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer," which resembles a collection of inscriptions taken from privy walls, is about to join Lady Chatterly. The quick-buck boys have apparently convinced our bumfuzzled judges that there is no difference between a peep show and a moral lecture.

And, of course, we have our latter-day historical novels in which the romance of man's upward movement from savagery is lost in a confused welter of bunhling anh tumblings. Ihe foreign reader of one of these epics on the development of the American West must marval that our forefathers found time to quell the Comanches, plow up Kansas and build the transcontinental railroad while spending practically all their time in the hay.

Don Maxwell of the Chicago Tribune has recently asked his book department to quit advertising scatological literature by including it in the list of best sellers. The critics and the book publishers rave denounced him for tampering with the fects. I would like to raise a somewhat larger question: Who is tampering with the soul of America?

For nations do have souls. They have collective personalities. People who think well of themselves collectively exhibit elan and enthusiasm and morale. When nations cease believing in themselves, when they regard their institutions with cynicism and their traditions with flippancy they will not long remein. When they seek learning without effort and wages without work they are beginning to stagger. Where they becomc hedonistic and pleasure-oriented, when their Boy Scouts on their 14-mile hikes start to hitch, there's troubie ahead. Where payola becomes a wey of life, expense account cheating common, and union goonery a fiercely defended "right" that nation is in danger. And where police departments attempt to control burglary by the novel method of making it a department monopoly then the chasm yawns.

Ladies and gentlemen: do not let me overdraw the picture. Ibis is still a great, powerful, vibrant, able, optimistic nation. Americans—our readers—do believe in themselves and in their country.

But there is rot and there is blight and there ie cutting out and filling to be done i fwe, as the leaders of free mcn, are to survive the hammer blows which quite plainly are in store for us all.

We have reached the stomach-turning point. We have reached the point where we should re-examine the deliberating philosophy of permissiveness. Let this not be confused with the philosophy of liberty. The school system that permits our children to develop a quarter of their natural talents is not a champion of our liberties. The healthy man who chooses to loaf on unemployment compensation is not a defender of human freedom. The playwrite who would degrade us, the author who would profit from pandering to the worst that's in us, are no friends of ours.

It is time we hit the sawdust trail. It is time we reviewed the idea that there is such a thing as sin—just plain old willful sin. It is time we brought self-discipline back into style. And who has a greater responsibility at this hour than we, the gentlemen of the press?

So I suggest:

Let's look to our educational institutiona at the local level, and if Johnny can't read by the time he's ready to get married let's find out why.

Let's look at the distribution of public largesse and if, for it is producing the sloth and from alleviating human misery, irresponsibility that intensifies it, let's get it fixed.

Let's quit being bulidozed and bedazzled by self-appointed longhairs. Let's have the guts to say that a book is dirt if that's what we think of it, or that a painting may well be a daub if you can't figure out which wey to hang it. And if some beatnik welds together a collection of rusty cogwheels and old corset stays and claims it a greater sculpture than Michelangelo's "Devid" let's have the courage to say thet it looks like junk and probably is.

Let's blow the whistle on plays that would bring blushes to an American Legion stag party. Let's not be awed by movie chareeters with barnyard morals even if some of them heve been photographed climbing aboard the Presidential yacht. Let us pay more attention in our news columns to the decent people everywhere who are trying to do something for the good of others.

In short, gentlemen, it's cover up the cesspool and start planting some flowers.

Well, that's the jeremiad. I never thought I'd deliver one of these. I never dreamed I'd go around sounding like an advance man for the Watch-and-Ward Society. I used to consider myself quite a liberal young man. I still think that on some people bikinis look fine.

But I am fed up to here with the educationists and pseudo-social scientists who have underrated our potential as a people. I am fed up to here with the medicine men who try to pass off pretense for art and prurience for literature. I am tired of seeing America debased and low-rated in the eyes of foreigners. And I am genuinely disturbed that to idealistic youth in many countries the fraud of Communism appears synonymous with morality, while we, the chief repository of real freedom, are regarded as being in the last stages of decay.

We can learn a lesson from history. Twice before our British cousins appeared heading into a collapse of principle, and twice they drew themselves back. The British court reached an advanced stage of corruption under the Stuarts. But the people rebelled. And in the wild days of George IV and William V it looked as though Britain were rotting out again. But the people banged the reform lawe, and under Victoria went on to the peak of their power.

In this hour of fear, confusion and self-doubt let this be the story of America. Unless I misread the signs a great number of our people are ready. Let there be a fresh breeze, a breeze of new honesty, new indealism, new integrity.

And there, gentlemen, is where you come in. You heve typewriters, presses and a huge audience.

How about raising hell,

Con Con Report

By Edward K. Shanahan

A majority of the Constitutional Convention delegates are dissatisfied with the present method of selecting Supreme Court Justices but so far haven't agreed on what to do about it.

The result is a deadlock with a special committee seeking to compromise differences and come up with a better plan than we have now and one which can win aupport on the floor.

At the present time, candidates for Supreme Court Justice are nominated at political party conventions and then run for election on a non-partisan ballot. The method of nominating is set by law, not by the Constitution, which says only that nominations shall be made according to law but that all elections for judicial office shall be non-partisan.

The present system has been attacked frequently as not "truly non-partisan" inasmuch as the nominations are msde at political party conventions. In the subsequent elections, the partles naturally support the candidates they have nominated. Many people feel this is a"hybrid" aystem and that the courts should be cither truly non-partisan or truly partisan..

It is interesting to note that of the eight present Justices, five were originally appointed to the Court by the Governor and subsequently were elected by the people, while three obtained their post orginally through statewide election.

In order to improve the method of selecting Justices, four different plans were advanced on the floor of the Constitutional Convention, but all four were defeated by the delegates.

One plan would have a nine-member court selected from seven judicial districts. Sponsors argued that the district plan would elminate the expense of statewide campaigning, would attract top caliber candidates throughout the state and would assure close ties between the court and the people. This plan was defeated 69 to 58.

A second proposal would permit the governor to appoint the Justices for an eight year term from a list submitted by a commission, after which the Justice would run for re-election on the simple question of whether he should be retained. This was defeated 90 to 25.

A third would have adopted the Federal system, with the governor making appointments for life with the advice and consent of the State Senate. This lost, 95 to 30.

The fourth plan would let the governor appoint for an eight year period, with the Justice then standing for election. It was defeated 89 to 32.

With this situation confronting them, the delegates agreed to postpone further consideraton of the judicial article of the Constitution until some compromise plan can be worked out. Also involved was the proposal to set up Intermediate Appellate Courts to hear appeals from the Circuit Courts. Discussion of this was delayed because of the difference of opinion on how Appeliate Courts Judges would be selected.

The delegates decided not to take a hand in a controversy which has raged in the Supreme Court over how to select a Chief Justice. The Supreme Court is split at the present time on this question, but the Constitutional Convention will not attempt to resolve it. Delegates felt this was a matter the Court should decide within itself. While the five Democratic judges on the court want to name a successor to Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, a Republican, they cannot agree on who it should be. The Constitutional Convention will not intervene to settle this point.

Courier Photo

There's one way to get up in the world, according to Fred de-Castro proprietor of the Ship-Shape motel. He believes all of the snow in Charlevoix falls on his driveway. Pictured he stands on top of the pile. Note that his head is above the telephone wires.

Spring Breakup Poses Danger of Flood Damage

Michigan residents with homes or cottages along lakes and streams are warned to brace themselves for dangerous flood conditions which threaten to break loose when spring breakup begins.

The warning comes from Conservation Department engineers who report that conditions are reminiscent of those in 1947 and 1948 when the flood damage toll ran high in many parts of the state.

"The next few weeks will tell the story, especially in southern Michigan when the breakup usually occurs first," says Hathaway J. Hanes, Department engineer. "If intermittent freezing and thawing takes place for several weeks to gradually wear away the heavy ice and snow cover, much of the runoff will seep into ground water reservoirs," Hanes reports.

Rapid thaws mixed with warm rains would, however, mean heavy runoff which could cause serious damage in many lowland areas, he adds.

Owners of cottages in lowland areas would do well to move furniture, mattresses, and other articles above the ground floor level of their buildings. Electrical equipment, particulary motors in well pits, should be temporarily removed if they face the threat of being flooded.

Wells should be protected against contamination by temporarily capping the casing.

Justice Court News

Justice John Connolly reports the following cases which appeared in his court recently:

Donald J. Haase, 32 of Petoskey, charged with improper stopping of a motor vehicle on the highway, pleaded not guilty to the charge. Trial was set for a later date. Summons was issued by the State Police.

Charged with speeding: Gerald E. Beer, 23, of Saginaw, who paid $15.00 fine and $4.30 costs; Walter R. Ebers, 33, of Sparta, who paid $5.00 fine and $4.30 costs. Summonses were issued by the State Police.

Mary C. Ford, 46, of Petoskey, charged with ignoring a stop sign, was ordered to pay $5.00. Summons was issued by the State Police.

Emergency Call Saves Pet Mouse

A pet mouse of an eighth grade boy from Melvindale, Mich., is recovering from a bad cold thanks partly to the help of Conservation Department.

Biologists at the Department Rose Lake wildlife experiment station, who probe the mysteries of deer and elk maladies and other weighty game problems, quickly sent the youth some mouse food and some feeding tips when they heard about the plight of his pint-sized pet. One of the station's biologists keeps a supply of food for some pet mice of his own.

The youth, David Evans, recently reported his little friend was well on the way to recovery. "I fed him what you told me to, he loves it, and he is getting better since I started feeding it to him," David wrote.

David enclosed 50 cents for "mouse medicine" in his first letter to the Department. But it seems that his pet got just what the mouse doctor ordered without need of medicine and, of course, the money is on its way back to David.

Wonderland Bowlers Hold Banquet

More than 130 members of the Winter Wonderland Bowling Association composed of bowlers from Charlevoix and East Jordan gathered at the Argonne recently for the annual spring banquet.

Top prizes for the tournament which preceded the banquet were as follows: best team score, Paul Bunyan Lanes; doubles, Mrs. Stanley Fiedorek and Mrs. Josephine Bindi; singles, Mrs. Sherman Thomas of East Jordan and all events winner, Mrs. Don Johnson.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Earl A. Young on Tuesday. Roll call will be bulb or seed exchange.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOLS
MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING
February 19, 1962

Present: Lieberman, Dinwiddie, C. Smith, Martinchek, Blanchard, Martin, A. Smith and Bennett, Supt. Absent: None.

The meeting was called to order at 8:08 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of February 5, with those of the recessed meeting held February 6, were read and approved.

It was moved by Martin, supported by Dinwiddie, that bills in the amount of $2,324.50, payable from General Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 7-0.

The President announced a meeting at Ann Arbor of the Michigan Association of School Boards March 27, and the Bureau of School Services on testing March 21 — also at Ann Arbor.

Also, the Citizens Conference and the Board of Education Spring meeting at Alpena were announced.

Discussion was made of the need for a 3rd grade teacher and the necessity of consolidating the elementary grades still further by increasing the number per room.

Plans were made for a preliminary budget to be presented at the next meeting, including the actual needs for the operation of the school in terms of the number of teachers needed.

The planned policy of the Board for the retirement of teachers at the age of 65, by general agreement was continued for the coming school year, except where special consideration would be given to unusual needs.

The salary schedule was considered from the viewpoint of increasing the number of increments, increasing the top and also for increasing the beginning salary. No action was taken.

Mr. Bennett reports on the trial of the TV program for elementary grades through the use of temporary equipment. It was moved by A. Smith and supported by Martin that the TV program be accepted and continued in the grade school for the remainder of the school year by rental of equipment. Carried: 7-0.

Mr. Odmark and Mr. Rice, representing the professional problems committee of the Teachers Club, appeared and indicated that the teachers group recognize the problems of the Board and realize the difficulty of making an immedite decision on salaries. They requested that the Board give a letter of intent to each teacher regarding their retention for the 1962-63 school year, which would continue until salaries could be adjusted. Also, they offered the resources of the Teachers Club and their committee to meet with the Board for the best solution of the teacher problem.

The meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Kiwanians Hear Herman C. Meyer

Herman Meyer of Petoskey, past lieutenant governor of Division 15 and a member of the board of directors of Kiwanis-sponsored Forney-Clement project, gave a detailed report of the work accomplished through the project and showed slides of the project facilities at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor at the regular dinner meeting of the club Monday.

Under the project, the Kiwanis clubs of Michigan support a floor at the University hospital and a recreational area on another floor where crippled or underprivileged children may receive treatment. Mr. Meyer said that at the present time the clubs of the state were also interested in assisting the Mary Free Bed hospital in Grand Rapids with a new 'therapy through music' program.

Urge Boat Owners To Enter Venetian Boat Parade

Civic groups, service clubs, fraternal and church organizations have been invited to enter decorated boats in the 1962 Venetian Festival Boat Parade scheduled for Sunday, July 29, by William R. Carey, president of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce.

In issuing the invitation, Mr. Carey said that enthusiastic participation by these groups will assure an outstanding spectacle to climax the 1962 Venetian festivities.

A minimum of 24 boats has been set as the goal for this year's parade which last summer only attracted nine entries.

If the Venetian Festival is to be the community's major summer event, then interest in entering decorated boats must be created for many people come to the community for the event only to be disappointed.

All boat owners in the area are urged now to start planning their prize winning decorations and, more importantly, to lend their active support to this community project.

More money but less fish

We receive volumes of "news releases" detailing the take of fish from the Great Lakes by commercial fishermen. Most of these reports bemoan the fact that the take is getting smaller every year and extole the efforts of the conservation programs to maintain the supply of fish in the Great Lakes.

It brings up one question and we don't have the answer. Are the efforts aimed at keeping commercial fishermen in business or at providing a supply of fish for those who fish for the sport of fishing and will be heartened by a small reward for their time and expense?

The Great Lakes and the fish therein are public domain. On that thesis they should be maintained for the best interests of the public at large. That poses another question. Should the fishing on the Great Lakes, inland lakes, streams and rivers be controlled by government for individual benefit or commercial benefit?

Last year's commercial take by Michigan commerical fishermen is valued at $2,900,000, according to a report from the state Department of Conservation. Poundagewise, the report included 2,183,800 pounds of yellow perch and 214,500 pounds of Lake trout and most of the latter from Lake Superior. Both species were once the big attraction of individual fishermen to the Great Lakes. Smelt, too, have been a big attraction to individual fishermen. The commercial take last year was 1, 400,000 pounds as compared to the questionable amount taken by individuals.

Don't be mislead that only the commercial fishermen appear greedy. We have seen many an individual who has taken more fish than he could use, given friends all they would take, and still throw away a portion of the catch. An abundance of fish was once one of our natural resources. Since the government is paying the cost of maintaining a supply of fish in the Great Lakes, should it be based on a virtual subsidy to commercial fishermen or to the individual fisherman? Both contribute to the economy of the state, but we ask, which contributes the most benefit to all.

Conservation departments and bureaus are crying for more money for their programs to improve fishing. Other departments are crying for more money to make fishing sites more accessible to more people. It has become an endless cycle. The cost to the taxpayers, sportsman and commercial are likely to increase steadily while the fish supply decreases..

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

For a greater joy
Than that already mine
I do not ask.
Instead, O God,
For this rare artistry
The gift of bringing joy
To others.
I pray —
Give me the observing eye
That sees another's need,
The thoughtful mind
That weighs another's woe,
The sympathetic heart
That feels another's pain.
Give me the ready lips
That speak the word of hope,
The willing hands
That lift another's load,
The prayerful spirit
That lays another's misfortune
At thy feet.
Amen.

CONSOLIDATION?????

In tha near future the residents of the school districts covered by the Charlevoix, Ellsworth and Central Laka schools will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" on consolidation of their schools. During the past few weeks tha proponents of consolidation have presented proposals, outlining the advantages to be gained in lower costs, larger curriculum, lower taxes and so forth.

If the proposals being made were realistic and factual, much lesa couid be said in protest of Consolidation. However such is not the case, the proposals are not realistic, and any advantages to be gained from Consolidation are by far in the minority, as compared to the disadvantages.

It is a sad fact learned by many the hard way—that the grass is not always greener in the other man'a pasture. In spite of the deiightfui signs and proposals to the contrary, a very close and methodicai investigation of the facts is necessary, in order to prevent an unevaluated course of action. Consolidation is a final and irrevocable decision, and as such, demands that you the voter making the decision, be well informed as to the advantages and disadvantages in order that a properly evaluated course of action be taken.

The best method of gaining insight in to the probabie effects of Consoiidation is to see it in action. To do this we visited an area of five communities that have consolidated their high schools. This area is the same group of communities that have been used in support of consoiidation, they include Lincoln, Harrisviiie, Aicona, Barton City and Black River, Michigan. In fairness it should be pointed out, the Consoiidation efforts of these communities are not totally comparabie to the situation as it exists in our communities. Educationai faciiities were antiquated and condemned. A building program was ncessary to provide both elementary and high school faciiities, where n fact there were none. Elementary schools were buiit in each community, while the high achooi was built, centraily located. We can however be guided by the results of this Consolidation, and comparing them with the initial proposals. It might be a revelation to aee how far off a proposal, or guess (many times they are one and tha sama) can be.

The originai estimate of building costs PROPOSED to these communities was $980,000.00—this figure was exceeded by some $80,000.00. It might be said, "such is not the case here, we are not invoived in a building program". Piease remember, at the moment of Consoiidation, we have utilized the maximum capacity of facilities at Charievoix, and immediateiy we wiii be faced with the need for additionai facilities.

It was orginaiiy proposed that an operating and debt retirement millage of 13½ mills be sufficient. This was raised to 16½ shortly after Consolidation. There is now a request before the voters for an additional 8 mills, raising the total to 24½ mills.

Six additional courses were inciuded in proposals, and were in fact added to the curricium. It is now being suggested that in view of deficit spending, five teachers and one bus be eliminated.

The transportation department, consisting of eighteen buses and three station wagons, cover routes ranging from six to forty miles, and is operating at $12,000.00 in excess of estimated costs annually. All children living one half mile or less from main routes must walk to and from these main routes.

Individuals interviewed in these communities indicated; tax increase in one case from $8.00 per assessed $1000.00 to $58.00 per assessed $1000.00, in another interview the actual tax increased from $98.00 per year to $207.00 per year.

The above mereiy skims the surface of problems with which we will be faced, upon consolidation of our schools.

More on this in next week's edition.

The 4 that goes around acting like a V-8...Tempest!

Used to be that people swore by V-8's and V-8's alone. And then along came Tempest's spunky 4 to steal their thunder. The hottest version of this 4 (166 hp) puts out more horsepower then any other production 4 in the world. More torque, too. And every version, standard 110 hp on up, is smooth and silent and effortless. About the only thing Tempest doesn't share with the big boys is its appetite for gasoline and spare parts. Try a drive in a Tempest 4 soon, hear? You might as well save while you're swinging!* Pontiac Tempest

Uniform Distress Signal Adopted

A RAISED HOOD and a white cloth tied to the car door handle has been adopted as the uniform distress signal for motorists who must make an emergency stop on a freeway. Michigan State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and State Police Trooper Billie Kelley demonstrate the distress signals on a freeway near Lansing. The policy, adopted by the nation's state highway departments, urges motorists who make emergency stops on freeways to stay in their vehicles until help arrives.

What's different about Rambler's rustproofing?

It goes all the way up to the roof. Only Rambler has Deep-Dip rustproofing—entire body immersed in primer paint right up to roof—plus 8 other body rustproofing steps.

What's different about Rambler's brakes?

They stop when other brakes can't. Double-Safety Brake System has tandem master cylinders. If front brakes fail, rear brakes still work and vice versa. Self-adjusting brakes standard, too.

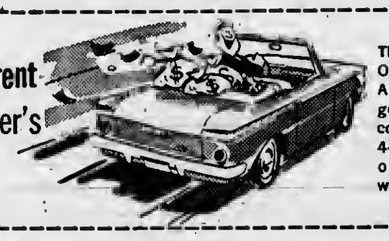
What's different about Rambler's headroom?

It's greater than any other American car's. Rambler Classic 6 and Ambassador V-8 beat all other makes in front-seat headroom (even Cadillac)—can seat six 6-footers easily.

What's different about Rambler's muffler and tailpipe?

They won't rust out. Ceramic-Armored muffler, tailpipe guaranteed against defect as long as you own your new Rambler. If either rusts out, collision damage excepted, a Rambler dealer makes free replacement.

What's different about Rambler's prices?



They're America's lowest. Only Rambler brings you America's lowest suggested retail prices for convertible, 2-door and 4-door sedans and wagons—all quality-built with Rambler excellence.

Bids are solicited on the basis of a lump sum for the entire work.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Michigan State Waterways Commission, 1004 Cadillac Square Bldg., Detroit, 26, Michigan; the office of the City Clerk of Charlevoix, Michigan, and at the office of R. S. Scott Engineering Co., Inc., 405 River st., Alpena, Michigan. Copies thereof may be purchased from the latter at the rate of $5.00 per set.

All bids must be accompanied by a certified check or bidder's bond payable to the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, for the sum of five per cent of the accompanying bid to secure the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, by reason of the withdrawal of the bid on the failure of the bidder to enter into a contract or performance if the bid is acceptable by the City of Charlevoix, Michigan.

The City of Charlevoix, Michigan, reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities therein. No contractor may withdraw his bid for a period of 30 days subsequent to the opening of the bids.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a 100 per cent performance and a 100 per cent labor and material bond.

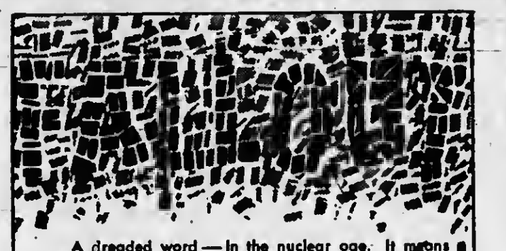
Hugh Mayne, Clerk.



A dreaded word — in the nuclear age. It means radiation death or the potential malformation of the human race.

But to men in military service it can be a welcome phrase: "Fall out!" — words of rest, of duty done, of leave.

If you want to avoid radioactive fallout, go ahead and dig in, bury your head in a shelter. Ignore the warning of tent. If you want the rest that God gives through His Son, Jesus Christ, then "Fall In!"

That's what the Christian church is urging you to do this tent. "Fall in." To hear the words of forgiveness and gracious reward, "Fall out," you must first join the ranks of those who march after Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

He heals the malformation of sin in your life. He places you into the new formation of those who receive life through His name.

The lutheran Church in your community is sounding the divine order this tent: "Fall In!"

New Science Course To be Added at NMCC

A new course, Fundamentals of Chemistry, will be added to the curriculum of North Central Michigan College this fall, according to Dean A. Shankland, who said that the course was being added in line with the college's policy to give as comprehensive college program as possible to its students.

This particular course, designed for individuals entering a field of study in which a complete working knowledge of chemistry is not required, will bring the college's chemistry offerings in line with those being offered in other colleges and universities.

Among the fields of study where this new chemistry course will suffice are nursing, conservation, agriculture, home economics, teaching of biology and other liberal arts programs. It will carry three hours of credit and will consist of three hours of lecture per week plus two to three hours of lab. The course will not carry credit for majors in engineering or chemistry which requires General College Chemistry, now being offered at the college.

In addition to these two courses, North Central also offers fore second year students Qualitative Analysis and Quantitative Analysis.

Economic Survival

Representatives of Michigan's dairy industry were shocked to the core recently when a retired professor from the University of Illinois told them that they would have to reach undreamed peaks of efficiency and accept hard facts of life that include increasing trends toward socialism.

"There is evidence that socialism will increase;—as long as the common man has the right to vote, he will select the canditate who will promise the most for him."

Speaking was Dr. P. H. Tracy, Professor Emeritus of Dairy Technology, University of Illinois and now a consultant to the dairy industry. His audience included some of Michigan's leading dairy farmers, dairy processing representatives and University staff members, gathered in Lansing as a "Dairy Advisory Committee" to the Michigan Farm Bureau.

"The dairy industry may approach the status of a public utility," Tracy warned, stating that government regulation of production, packaging, labeling and advertising of all food products will be intensified. He predicted that government will not only attempt to control the quality, but the quantity of milk as well.

Tracy told the dairymen that they could expect to operate in an atmosphere that included reasonably high levels of purchasing power "of the mass of people" maintained there at the insistence of government and at the expense of higher-income producing members of society.

Dairy plants will specialize in their operations, limiting the items made in any one plant so as to be able to operate more efficiently, Tracy said. "Super stores will continue to control the market for dairy products;—in order to survive, independent dairy plants will turn to company-controlled retail outlets, vending operations, captive markets and diversification into other lines." he predicted. And plants that survive, Tracy said, will "mechanize and automate."

"This is not intended as a gloomy forecast," Dr. Tracy said. "The point I wish to make is that things in the future will be different and changes in the dairy industry will be rapid. Opportunities will exist but the fields of operation will be different. Scientific management will be the order of the day and more skills will be needed,—this applies to organized farm groups as well as to private enterprise."

Farm Bureau Opposes New Ag. Proposal

"Complete rejection" of Secretary of Agriculture Freeman's farm proposals has been expressed by presidents of county Farm Bureau organizations meeting in annual conference at the Camp Kett leadership center.

County presidents took time out from an otherwise busy schedule to study the Congress after the details of what they called "a 'fantastically expensive' feed-grain program, complicated three-price plan for wheat, stiff penalties and tight controls on dairy farmers" have been exposed.

In their statement, the presidents representing approximately 70,000 Michigan farm families of Farm Bureau, called proposals to use government stocks of wheat and feed-grains to compel farmers into acceptance of the proposed control program, "nothing short of naked coercion,—making a mockery of so-called 'democratic farmer-referenda.'"

The farm leaders stated, "It is naked coercion to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to dump up to 300 million bushels of surplus feed- grains and 200 million bushels of surplus wheat to break the market price any time farmers vote against the proposed control schemes.

They added that the proposed farm act contains "many contradictions"—among them licensing the right to sell their own products and proposals to restrict the expansion of American farm markets at a time when the President is asking Americans to become more competitive in foreign trade.

The county officers revlewed other national and international issues, but placed most stress on the proposed farm act, which they said was more than just "another farm program" and would lead to a completely controlled economy if allowed to pass.

They urged consumers to join them in opposition to what they called "these food and farmer control achemes."

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? Con Con Report

After hours of bitter debate, the Constitutional Convention approved a proposal calling for tighter judicial review of the orders, findings, and decrees of all the state's administrative agencies.

The proposal, which gives courts the right to determine whether an administrative decree is "supported by reliable, probative (tending to prove), and substantial evidence," is expected to check the powers of some agencies very sharply. Of the state's 123 agencies, it was estimated that something more than a score hold hearings and issue directives or orders or licenses, or all three in substantial numbers.

Democrats, insisting it would handicap the work of the Workmen's Compensation Commission and the Employment Security Commission, fought the proposal to a bitter end when William D. Ford (D-Taylor), asked for a continuance and compromise—but lost. Final vote was 84 Republicans and two Democrats in favor and 35 Democrats against.

Spokesmen of both parties differed entirely in their analysis of the effect of the provision. Judge Paul V. Gadola (R-Flint), explained that appeals generally are now limited to questions of law. "If a court finds a scintilla (just a speck) of evidence, then it has to uphold the agency's decision. When a man can lose his livelihood, there ought to be more evidence than a speck; it ought at least to be reliable and substantial."

Democrats introduced a series of amendments, including one to delete the word, "reliable." Robert G. Hodges (D-Detroit), charged this word, would throw the burden of proving its evidence "reliable" onto the agency.

"There is no way a judge reading evidence can tell if it is reliable," he said. "This will throw an awful load on the agencies."

Hodges said Democrats were not concerned about the decisions of the agency said to be the chief target of the provision—the Liquor Control Commission.

"Our main concern is with the Employment and Compensation groups," he added. "Their work will be in jeopardy from capricious appeals. An injured workman needs money and if his case is tied up on an appeal he can't get it. These cases take a year or two and in the end the claimant has to pay 20 or 25 per cent of what he does get to a lawyer."

To which J. Don Lawrence (R-Ypsilanti), retorted: "This is just a question of philosophy. If you believe in government by law you will favor the provision. This provision is a step forward, made necessary by the autocratic powers these administrative agencies have assumed over the years."

Democrats sought an amendment which would have restricted the provision only to agencies and departments in which the state itself was involved; the practical effect would have been to except injury and unemployment decisions. These cases are tried between employer and employee.

Other agencies affected included the Public Service and Corporation and Securities Commission, Drivers' License Bureau, etc., as well as the professional and tradesmen licensing agencies such as the State Plumbing Board and the Examiners of Barbers.

However, Delegate Ford insisted that the provision will also damage city and county building and safety commissions. "Under this, landlords won't have to fix up a house; it will be cheaper to appeal," he said.

"Every man is entitled to a review in a court," said Lee Boothby (R-Niles). "The agency hearing officers wear three hats; judge, jury, and prosecutor. The only protection a man has—with his living at stake—tavern owner or plumber, is a full review in the courts."

Winter's crucial period for deer has arrived in northern Michigan, according to Conservation Department district game supervisors.

Rayders Capture District "C" Title

Charlevoix Defeats Boyne City 53 to 49

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up a 53 to 48 victory over Boyne City Saturday night to capture the 1962 Class C district title and to advance to the Regional Class C tourney at Petoskey.

This marked the second straight year the two teams had clashed in the district finals. Last season the Rayders won over the Ramblers 38 to 31 in the finals.

This also marked the first time in recent years that the district tourney was held anywhere but Petoskey and the first time a tournament has been held in Charlevoix since the 1940's.

The championship game Saturday night was the third of the week for the Rayders who edged Harbor Springs, a strong contender, 56 to 52 on Tuesday and East Jordan 58 to 35 Thursday night. On Wednesday night, Boyne City dumped Pellston, who, as N.M.C.C.C. champions, were favored to take the tournament. The Ramblers defeated the Hornets 41 to 38 to advance to the finals on Saturday night..

In Saturday's game, the Charlevoix Rayders found themselves trailing 16 to 7 at the end of the first period but got back in the game the second quarter, outscoring the Boyne Ramblers 17 to 8 to cut the visitors' margin to one point, 25 to 24 at halftime.

A seesaw battle developed for the first few minutes of the second half before Charlevoix pulled ahead for the first time in the game and remained ahead 40 to 35 at the three quarter mark. As the game went into the crucial eight minutes of the final period, the Rayders continued to control the game all the way though the scrappy Ramblers remained at their heels, cutting their lead to two points several times.

Starting for Charlevoix were the Pearl twins, John and Dan, in the forward spots, George Majors at center, Henry Wagner and Stan Martin in the back court.

Frank Curtis saw action in the first and second period and Dave Rader alternated with Majors at the pivot spot during the second, third and fourth periods.

Boyne City got off to a fast start, outscoring the Rayders in the first period 16 to 7 with Larry Gunderson leading the attack with three buckets as all five starters scored. Charlevoix's scoring was limited to two field goals by John Pearl, one by Martin and a free throw by Dan Pearl.

In the second period, however, the Rayders took command with John Pearl scoring three field goals from outside, Martin driving in for two plus scoring three points from the free throw line and Wagner and Rader hitting for one field goal each to cut Boyne City's halftime lead to one point, 25-24 after the Ramblers had scored only three field goals ann three free throws.

As the game went into the second half, a seesaw battle developed during the opening minutes with each team scoring two quick buckets. However, with two minutes gone the Rayders moved into a lead they never relinquished. With nearly everyone sharing the scoring honors the Rayders romped to a 40 to 35 third period advantage. Majors had three field goals, Wagner, two field goals and two free throws and Dan Pearl and Martin one field goal apiece. Boyne City had 19 points, all on doublepointers.

As the game went into the final period, the Ramblers fouled as they battled for possession of the ball, giving tre Rayders numerous trips to the free throw line where John Pearl, Dan Pearl and Wagner hit on two attempts each for a total of six points and Martin connected for two field goals and on three of seven tries from the free throw line.

Boyne City outscored the Rayders 14 to 13 on six field goals and two free throws with Bob Snyder and Tracy Newville keeping the Ramblers in the game. However, the Ramblers consistent fouling of Charlevoix players in the heat of the game gave the Rayders seven trips to the free throw line where they collected a total of nine points to keep pace of the tempo.

It was the free throw line that gave the Rayders the winning margin in the totals. They collected 15 points on 23 attempts while scoring 18 field goals and drawing 12 personal fouls. Boyne City had 21 field goals, seven of 12 successful attempts and 13 personel fouls.

Martin paced the game with 18 points including six field goals and six of 10 free throws. He was followed by John Pearl with 12 including five field goals and two of three free throw attempts and Wagner with three field goals and four out of four from the free throw line. Majors came through with three field goals for six points, Dan Pearl had five points including one field goal and three out of three free throws andRader had one field goal.

Groups Responsive To Decorating Boats For Venetian Night

The response to recent letters to local clubs and service organizations to participate in the annual Venetain Boat parade has been most gratifying according to William R. Carey, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Several have indicated their intentions of entering a decorated boat in the parada scheduled for the last Sunday in July or their willingness to decorate a boat for a boat-owner who lacks the time to decorate his own craft.

The enthusiasm shown by these groups has been most encouraging Mr. Carey said but added that many more entrants are needed if the goal of a minimum of 24 boats is to be reached.

Boat owners wishing to enter the parade and compete for tha cash prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce are urged to contract the chamber office.

Charlevoix Loses Class C Regional Title to Frankfort

The Charlevoix Rayders, seeking their first Class C regional title since 1955, lost the battle of the free throw line Saturday night in bowing to the Frankfort Panthers who won by a score of 52 to 48 to advance to the quarter-finals against Houghton.

The Rayders outscored the Panthers 22 to 15 in the field goal department only to lose on the free throw line, where the victors connected on 22 of 27 free throws while collecting 12 personal fouls. Charlevoix scored on only four of 14 attempts while collecting 17 personal fouls including four in the final four minutes of play which gave Frankfort its winning margin.

Charlevoix, with a 38 to 37 lead going into the final period, rolled to a 46 to 36 lead with four minutes gone in the final period when the roof caved in. In the remaining time, Frankfort scored eight points from the free throw line in four trips plus three quick buckets to one basket by Stan Martin at the final horn.

The Rayders had overcome a 14 to 13 first period dificit to go ahead 25 to 24 at halftime and to remain ahead 38 to 37 going into the final period. Two buckets by Dave Rader from the pivot position and one each by John Pearl and Martin gave Charlevoix a 46 to 38 lead. In the ensuing minutes George Majors went to the bench with his fifth foul, Charlevoix missed three opportunities for bonus shots from the free throw line while the panthers capitalized on theirs as the Rayders fought for possession of the ball as time ran out.

John Pearl paced the game for the Rayders with 16 points, Majors had 13, Martin 10, Frank Curtis and Rader four each and Henry Wagner one. Dan Pear was the fifth member of the starting line-up.

Bill Johnson paced the game with 20 points for Frankfort. Del Parsons had 12 and Mel Stratton 10 for the Panthers.

The loss was a hard one for the Rayders who had battled tbeir way through a rough district tournament and downed a strong Roscommon squad by a score of 65 to 47 to advance to the regional finals against Frankfort who had a record of 21 straight wins going into Saturday night's game. The Rayders went into the game with 11-9 record.

In their game with Roscommon Charlev[illegible] forged to an 16 to 13 first quarter lead; increaed the advantage to 29 to 21 at halftime and 40 to 30 going into the final period.

John Pearl had 16; Martin 15; Dan Pearl and Majors, 10 each; Wagner, eight; Curtis four and Bruce Murray, two.

Frankfort won over Traverse City St. Francis 68 to 54 and Cheboygan Catholic 51 to 43 to advance to the finals.

Basketball

Charlevoix and Frankfort basketball fans, as well as other spectators got their money's worth at Petoskey Saturday night when the two teams contested the regional championship. Postmortems might reveal why the Rayders lost. Had the Panthers lost, the postmortems might be equally true.

But regardless of the results, the only justification for having sports contests in any educational system is to teach good sportsmanship. Whatever the contest, all of us like to win. But if it isn't a contest what's the honor in winning?

The Charlevoix Rayders and the Charlevoix fans should be commended for their spirit of good sportsmanship in the face of a loss. As the crowd poured from the Petoskey gymnasium, Charlevoix fans; and particularly Charlevoix students, were still yelling the praises of the Rayders. They accepted the defeat without griping.

We can only congratulate the Frankfort Panthers for their victory and commend both teams for giving us a contest that kept us on the edge of our seats.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

As blue-gray evening settled over the North I left our doorway for a twenty-minute ramble along our wood's edge. Lassie went along.

We walked the west trail that skirts our Wide Sky acres and splashed in tiny rivulets that flow down the ruts. We ambled up the ashphalt spur-road until we came to the east trail that brought us homeward again. Everywhere the earth seems fluent now. The snow, the deepest in many years, is slowly melting, yielding to the tender presuasion of the sun and surrendering to the caresses of warm south winds.

Now the waiting land rests in its bath of thawing snow, savoring a prelude of quietness that precedes the call of spring peepers, the gay choruses of returning birds, and the whir of a billion wings.

And now the land gathers strength for work that lies ahead. Soon it must push countless grasses and flowers from hiding and support another year's produce of waddling woodchucklets and gamboling lambs, impudent bear cubs and timid fawns, apple blossoms in familiar orchards and fern-shadowed pink lady-slippers on the banks of hidden brooklets. For its great new burden of buds, blossoms and fruit, and little, creeping, running and fluttering things the earth silently summons its powers.

Then suddenly, one day, we shall feel the big push when everything comes alive, when all that was bud will be blossoming, when all that was cold will be sun-warmed, when all that was pallid and frail will be flushed with the blood of life.

Wouldn't we humans too leap to life if we, instead of our customary fretful, peevish, strained bustling, waited for the gentle, persuasive touch of the Enternal upon us? Wouldn't we be more productive of good if we, too, learned to turn our faces Heavenward like the earth, in spring, turns toward the beneficent sun?

Dear Harold;

My thanks to Jenkins Lloyd Jones for his "jeremiad" and thanks to you for printing it. Easter Seal Promotion to Aid Crippled Children

Aproximately 4,000 letters mailed this week will carry the familiar Eester Seals of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults into homes in Charlevoix county, Mrs. George Lusk, president of the Charlevoix county chapter of the organization, has announced.

Fifty per cent of the funds derived from the sale of the Easter Seals are forwarded to the state chapter to support its many projects including hospitals, clinics and research facilities in the state and elsewhere and the remaining 50 per cent is used in the county to assist crippled and handicapped children and adults. This assistance includes outright financial assistance to help provide hospitalization or medical care or to purchase equipment needed to assist or rehabilitate them. Assistance has also been provided for physical or occupational therapy.

The local chapter also provides funds to the Mary Free Bed hospital for extraordinary expenses of Charlevoix county patients being treated there.

During one of its five years of operation, the local chapter used funds on hand to purchase polio vaccine for the school children in the county when other sources of funds were depleted. While its funds have been rather limited, the officers of the chapter feel that it has been able to provide emergency assistance in numerous cases of hardship.

This year the Charlevoix county chapter plans to join with several other northern Michigan chapters in establishing a two weeks summer camp at Indian River for crippled and handicapped children.

Crippled Children and Adults dates back to 1957 when it was organized under the guidance of the late Kenneth B. Forbes. During this time it has received $3,490.42 in contributions.

Among those serving on the board of directors are Mrs. Lusk, president; Mrs. Ralph S. Hamilton, second vice president; M.J. Foster, treasurer; Mrs. Wayne Belding, Mrs. S.E. Coleman, Lawrence Foley, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Keith Miles, Mrs. Eleanor Speigl, Mrs. Joseph Williams, Mrs. Robert Zeltler, Mrs. Walter Rice and Mrs. Edward Beene of Ironton.

Michigan's birth rate continued a four-year decline in 1961 according to provisional figures released recently by the Michigan Department of Health.

There were 191,638 births reported to the health department's statistical methods section last year—2,230 fewer than 1960, giving the state the lowest yearly birth rate per 1,000 poppulation in the last decade.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION .....

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

A Mad Man Ravas

Entirely too much publicity has been given to such people as the Iowa farmer, turned self-styled instructor to Khrushchev and his Soviet agricultural chiefs, now in deeper-than-ever trouble over Russian farm failures.

They doubtlessly mean well and no one can question motives back of attempts to show Russia how to feed her people. Yet the brutal fact remains that if Russia ever does learn how to produce sufficient food to really matter, —she will direct that knowledge as any other,—toward the complete destruction of the United States as we know it.

A six-hour "secret" speech by Nikita, almost all of it devoted to farm failures and what will happen to those "responsible,"—left little doubt in anyone's mind that there will be plenty of push toward boosting agricultural output. Attempts to use the remote, virgin lands for crops unsuited to the harsh climate and short growing season, coupled with inexperienced "volunteer" help from city areas, has done nothing to ease the food shortages.

Khrushchev thought corn waa the answer, and well it might be. But corn that is properly planted, harvested and fed, does no one any good. Corn that is caught immature when the frost hits, serves no one. It's enough to make a mad-man rave, and so he did—six hours of it.

One result has been more volunteers. Young people who are willing workers for a system that is all they know, but bringing with them remarkable little other than strong backs. Khrushchev knows what's lacking. He knows it as well as we do. He saw it at work in America. Freedom to plan, to gain, or to fail. He toured our country to find out that this is really true and he sent his top men here to dig deeper. And we've held nothing back,—really.

But why should a free people, proud as we are of the productivity that is has brought us, be so anxious to pass along our unique farming know-how? Knowledge that has released all but eight per cent of our population (compared to 50% in Russia)—from the tasks of farming.? Why this eager rush to tell-all to the world's worst dictator, himself responsible at an earlier stage in his bloody career for the starvation of thousands of people?

Why this death-wish?—This senseless, happy desire to help to dig our own graves?

MICHIGAN HAS HAD a savings and loan law on its books aince 1887 although the popularity of this type of banking institution has only been publicly noted in the last decade or ao.

Growth of savings and losn associations in the state over the last six years, for example, has amounted to more than $367 million, state officials report.

Today there are 35 associations which report total assets of more than $656 million. The assets report for the fiscal year which ended June 30 noted an increase of $72 million over the previous year, officials said.

"These increases hava occurred despite unsteady economic conditions in Michigan during the life of the savings and loan system," said Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay.

Savings and loan associations have been the object of proposed legislation in the past several years to bring the reserve requirements and tax and branch office regulations into line with those on commercial banks.

The associations differ from banks in that they are mutually owned by "savings shareholders," said Slay.

"This type of financial institution, with 105 offices throughout the atate, is performing an increasingly important dual function to the public by providing safe and convenient savinga and investment plans and long-term, monthly payment homa loans," said the commissioner.

JOB PROSPECTS FOR the June college graduate are good, according to the Michigan Education Association.

On the average, June graduates will find a $485 monthly wage awaiting him at his first job. This represents on increase, on the average, of $10 a month over last year, the association ssid.

Indications are the high salaries will range around $542 for engineers and the low will be $448 a month for business trainees.

MICHIGAN IS EXPECTED to be among the first ststes in the nation to put into effect President Kennedy's recommendation for a mass immunization program to combat four of the worst childhood diseases: polio, diptheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

In production as the department currently is a new three-in-one antigen to be blended with bulk Salk polio vaccine. This is expected to be ready for free distribution throughout the state by this year, aaid Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

Plans call for producing enough of the quadruple antigen to immunize the estimated 200,000 children who are born or move into Michigan annually.

USED CAR DEALERS are often the object of criticism for guarantee terms, or the lack of them.

The Michigan Automobile Dealers Association recently initiated a program designed to improve the "public image" of used car salesman and dealers. It has aome definite advantages to the public.

The association started a program in over 200 Michigan cities under which auto deslers issuc a "permanent warranty," under a plan known as the Guaranteed Warranty plan.

The plan guarantees the used car buyer a 15 per cent discount on all parts and all labor costs for a year after the purchase. This warranty applies to the dealer where the car was purchased, plus an estimated 5,000 other participating dealers in 10 other states and the Canadian provincee of Ontario, the associatoin said.

Gilbert Haley, executive vice president of the association, said the plan does not cost the price of a car.

Purchasers of used cars are given a warranty card and a list of participating Michigan dealers. In the event of needed repairs, the car owner has them taken care of at any listed dealer. When presented with the bill, the owner shows the warranty card, entitling him to the discount.

Automatic fire extinguishers have recently posed problems for the consumer protection division of the Attorney General's office.

"Msny families are being pressured to buy automatic fire extinguishers which are misrepresented as approved by the state Fire Marshall and by 'name' insurance and chemical companies," said Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Some recent buyers of extinguishers reported that the products were not approved and some were loaded with chemieals found to be dangerously toxic.

State law requires certain atandards of safe content for some fire extinguishers, but the law does not cover aingle family dwellinga. The law leaves the homeowner on his own, Kelley said.

The Attorney General's advice to prospective purchasers of extinguishers equipment is to check the aales claims before the purchase is made.

"If in doubt, ask the State Health Department to analyze the extinguisher for safety of content," Kelley aald.

Folder Proposes Crops for County

Field Crop recommendations for Charlevoix County are described in a new publication now available to this county'a farmers, according to Ed Rebman, County Extension Director. These recommendations are based on field trials conducted at Michigan State University and at various locations throughout the state.

Extension Folder F-289 can be obtained from the County Extension Office at Boyne City. This describes important cropping practices used in the production of field crops. Legume forage crops, cover crops for corn, and field crop varieties are aome of the subject included.

A private line telephona is always ready for you to use. And friends can reach you when they wont you. And though it may seam hard to balieva, in town a private line costs only pennies a day more thon a party lina doas. it's a down-to-earth blessing at a down-to-earth cost. If you live in town and now have party lina servica, why not coll us about getting a private line telaphone soon?

PASSING THE BUCK usually refers to letting "George" do something nobody else wants to do. But that's a far ery from the reason why your telephone company arranges with others to accept payments for phone bills. Since many people like to pay bills in person, we had to find a way of making this possible at a reasonable cost. So, at no extra cost to you, we've arranged for several conveniently located banks and other businesses to accept payments for us. It all helps keep your phone bills low, while making sure you get the service you want.

CONSUMER PROTECTION is a primary responsibility of the weights and measures division of the State Department of Agriculture.

The past calendar year was a busy one for the state unit when a number of short weight outbreaks were noted in concentrated inspections of grocery stores.

In all, the department reported only 646 convictions for law violations. Some 248, or 38 per cent of these violations of weight and standards laws, were for short weight or short measure.

The number of convictions, however, do not clearly depict the department inspection activities. In reweighing or checking quantity, 171,020 packages were checked during the year and 39,740 were found to contain less than the quantity listed.

Many of these short-weight disclosures were corrected by the 305 seizures of the items, the department said.

Additionally, a total of 1,336 seizures or "stop sales" orders were placed on more than 10 million pounds of commodities which did not conform to the law.

Gov. John B. Swainson called for legislation this year to bone up the laws relating to weights and standards but ran head-long into a problem: enforcement.

Department officials pointed out that present laws could stand tightening, but even currently the major problem is the difficulty of using 40 inspectors and seven supervisors to check the estimated 75,000 establishments which come under the laws.

The Governor then called for legislation to help make every shopper an inspector, a bill which would require retail meat stores to provide a scale for the consumer to check weight. A first attempt to pass the measure failed in the Senate, but Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, hoped to gain support for the proposal later in the session.

TROUBLE ON THE HIGHWAYS across the nation fails to lend itself to the uniform S.O.S. distress signal used on lakes and waterways.

A uniform distress signal has been adopted, however, for use on freeways where getting out of a car to signal for help could cause additional trouble.

Weather permitting, the American Association of State Highway Officals advise motorists who need help on the freeway system to raise their car hoods and tie a white cloth to the door handle close to passing traffic.

Under no circumstances should a motorist walk on a freeway. This makes him vulnerable to accidents or might cause a driver to swerve suddenly, the Association reports.

If the trouble occurs at night, motorists should have their tail lights and interior lights on in addition to raising the car hood. A turn light should also be left on so passing drivers won't mistake the vehicle location for the through traffic lane.

If a disabled vehicle blocks any part of a traffic lane, other warning devices, flares, flashing lights, lanterns or reflectors, should also be used to warn oncoming traffic.

PARENTAL PRESSURE ON YOUTH preparing for college can be a deterrent to success in full utilization of the youth's own aims, the Michigan Education Association says.

Theoretically, there may be one perfect college for each child, but the Association warns that parents who emphasize the importance of gaining entrance to "the school" can cause unintended problems.

"While your child is waiting for acceptance by a college, help him realize that his success does not depend upon admission to any one college," the professional organization advises.

"No matter where he goes, he's likely to find more books than he can read in four years, more equipment than he can master, and teachers who will be wiser than he is even when he is a senior."

The association advises parents to remember that regardless of enrollment pressures at a given institution, "somewhere in the nation there is still space in an accredited college for every qualified high school graduate.

HOW HEALTHY ARE YOU? The answer may surprise you, according to the State Health Department.

A recent sampling of Michigan's population told the department that nearly two of every five persons in the state between the ages of 21 and 70 need to see their doctor.

In a testing of some 639 persons, the department measured height, weight and blood pressure and tested the blood and urine. Some 249 of the persons showed some abnormality and 124 were referred to their physician.

The results showed little difference between the sexes. About 40 per cent of the men and 39 per cent of the women exhibited some irregularity.

Most prevalent abnormality was disproportionate height-weight measurements. Abnormal blood pressure of high levels of sugar in the blood or urine were also found in many of the persons who considered themselves in perfect health.

Six members of the Charlevoix Rayder basketball squad, including three regular starters, will be among the 46 young Northern Michigan Class C athletes who will be abandoning prep cage careers at the conclusion of the current basketball season. Msny familisr to aports fans while others have given their respective teams much needed 'bench strength'.

Heading the list at Charlevoix are Stan Martin, George Majors and Henry Wagner who have made regulsr appearances on the basketball court for the past four years, first as members of the J-V squad and more recently with the Varsity. Others who will be graduating in June are Tony Duerr, Barry Pierce, Pertti Salmela, Finnish exchange student who joined the team this season, and Gary Bslch who will be 19 before the next season starts.

Elsewhere in the league, several teams will be losing most of their starting line-ups while others will be losing only a couple starters to the annual cap and gown parsde.

Though scrappy action such as this was shown by the Charlevoix Rayders throughout their game with Frankfort in the Class C regional finals at Petoskey Saturday night, the local team lost to the Panthers by a 52 to 48 margin.

Here Dan Pearl (52) comes down with the ball in the second half of the game while his twin, John (42) blocks out a Frankfort player and George Majors (44) awaits the outcome of the action.

Transportation Dealing With School Consolidation

By Fran Martin

The proposed consolidation of Central Lake, Ellsworth and Charlevoix school districts, which will be brought to a vote of the people of the three districts on April 18, will increase the complexity of the transportation system which would be necessary under the new set-up.

Thus the aubject required an extensive study by the transportation committee composed of members of each of the school districts.

The Charlevoix high school to which students in the nine through 12 grades would be transported is 11 miles from Ellsworth and 18 miles from Central Lake. At the present time, there are 210 students currently enrolled in these grades in the two neighboring high schools which means that four buses would be needed to accomodate these students.

At this point, the transporation committee concentrated its attention to the most feasible way to transport these students.

Thia required a map showing existing bus routes, the number of students and where they would be picked up, and other pertinent information. A careful study of the map resulted in two alternative solutions to the problem.

One alternative suggested waa to maintain existing routes and transport all students to their respective centers and then reroute them to Charlevoix. The second idea was to utilize what is known as a 'dual track' system or the operation of sepsrate buses for high school students bound for Charlevoix and elementary students for Central Lake and Ellsworth.

Each of the alternatives presented certain advantages and disadvantages. For instance, if existing routes were maintained, there would be a minimum of duplication which, in turn, would also minimize any increase in operating costs. However, it would extend the length of time high school students would have to spend on the bus and the length of time elementary students would spend at school since they would have to wait until high school students arrived from Charlevoix before they could be dismissed.

The 'dual trsck' system, on the other hand, would reduce to a minimum the amount of time the high school students would have to spend on a bus, would permit the elementary and high schools to operate independent of each other on the standard length of the school day and would enable the high schoo1 to hold one bus to transport students participating in after-school activities to their respective communites. The principsl disadvantage of this syatem would be the duplication of effort which would increase transportation costs. It might be well to mention here that whlie the 'dual track'' syatem would be a bit more costly, a school diatrict is reimbursed for transportation on the basis of mlies traveled and students transported snd that this reimbursement would, to a large degree, offset the added cost of this type of transporation.

Recently a 'dual track' run was made, beginning at the most distant point southwest of Central Lake and moving north through Eastport and Atwood, west to the Dixie highway, north to Norwood and thence, into Charlevoix. On this route, 57 students would have boarded the bus. Actual stops were made along the route and time allowances made for students to board the bus. Because of the planning and the elimination of 'loops' and other problems now encount" ered, the time required to transport students the entire distance was increased very little. Major differences would be on the part of students who presently walk to school in their respective communities. These students would, of necessity, have to spend more time in transit.

It is the opinion of the transportation committee that, should the proposed consolidation become a reality, there are many ways to better the transportation system following a more concentrated study of the situation.

Weekly Report

The Constitutional Mill

The new Judicial Article, forged by the Constitutional Convention after 84 hours of debate in 14 Convention days, left much of the state's basic legal organization unchanged, yet wrought sharp changes in several aspects.

The debate, dominated by the 66 lawyer-delegates, was often boring, often bi-partisan, and always technical and complicated. While there was general agreement the state's legal system now is one of the best in the country, advocates of the new article, for the most part Republican, insist it is a sharp improvement; and the Democratic opposition charge it is a step backward in some ways.

Practically unchanged is the statewide method of electing a nine-man Supreme Court (one more justice than previously), although the struggle of delegates who wanted election by districts was bitter and protracted. They came within two votes of winning, 62 to 64.

Power to fill judicial vacancies is taken from the governor.

Brand new, but favored by everybody, is formation of a nine-judge Court of Appeals; this fight, too, was over method of election. Advocates of districting won this one easily, and power was given the Legislature to draw the districts—each must have three judges—and set election rules and time.

Bitterly contested was the elimination—after a five-year grace period—of justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners. This is labeled by Robert J. Danhof, chairman of the Committee on Judicial Branch, as the most significant and valuable change in the whole Article. The Legislature is authorized to set up a system of courts of limited jurisdiction which are to be excepted from the general rule that all judges, including probate, shall be lawyers.

"The basic trouble with the JP system is that it has no flexibility," says Danhof. "It works well in the small township, but not in heavily-populated urban townships. It is here you have the evils—collection agency justices, as well as the pressure to find defendants guilty of speeding and the like because deputies and police will take their business to the courts where they can win.

"It was to cure this that we prohibited judges from getting any kind of fee or remuneration proportionate in any way to the work or activity of the courts," Danhof explains. "The Legislature will have to schedule judges' salaries."

William D. Ford (D-Taylor), led a chorus of Democratic criticism, butthe ire generally was centered on the section which broadened judicial review of the findinga of state administrative agencies.

"Unemployed or injured workers, trying to get compensation, will suffer terribly," Ford declares. "Delay on contested cases is already from ona to two years; with easy appeal it will go from three to four years. What does a man do while waiting—starve?"

Ford also attacks giving the Legislature power to control the jurisdiction of the Probate Court. "It opens the door to the smashing of our Juvenile Court system," he says, especially if they want to establish some kind of a super market family court."

He is contradicted by Danhof, who retorts, "Juvenile Court is dynamite. The Legislature will think a long time before they hurt it. I am sure the system is safe and this way it will be open to improvement when necessary."

"Why meddle with the court system?" Ford asks: "It has been generally admitted Michigan has one of the best legal systems in the county. Now we are ending the right of the governor—a right of more than 100 years standing—to fill judicial vacancies and, I think, the usually high-type men appointed in the past will replaced by men who are just good campaigners."

Danhof agrees only that Michigan does have excellent courts. "But one of the faults is the appointment system that, along with ballot designation, has resulted in the governor practically naming all the judges. Incumbents, however they get the designation, are re-elected about 99 per cent of the time."

Under the Article, judicial vacancies can be filled only by elections set by the Legislature and the Supreme Court is limited to appointing retired judges to work until their successors can be elected.

To insure political independence of all elected judges, the Convention approved a section allowing Supreme Court Justices to become candidates for reelection merely by filing an affidavit six months before the expiration of their terms. Circuit and Probate judges can become candidates in their primaries by filing declarations of intention.

The Supreme Court must, upon request, give advisory opinions on the constitutionality of legislation after passage, but before effective date. This court, also, is ordered to establish and simplify procedures in all courts and to abolish the office of Master in Chancery.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Dear Harold:

May I, perhaps, by means of your "letters" column, solicit the counsel of your readers regarding a very serious situation faced by our State Government?

I have reference to what I consider the "core" of government which of course is money.

An excess of spending in relation to income over the past several years will create an accumulative deficit of about 90 million dollars at the end of the current fiscal year.

Now obviously an excess of expenditures over revenues can be corrected by either of two actions. Expenses can be reduced or new taxes can be levied. Many have urged that more stern limitation be placed on State outlays on the basis that the people of Michigan have been increasing their purchase of public services much more rapidly than their purchase of private goods and services. When considering increased public spending, the question must always be: Do people regard taking care of unmet public needs to be more important than the private needs that then would go unmet, because of necessarily higher taxes?

There are reasons for doubting that the fiscal problem in Michigan will be solved by curtailed expenditures. For one thing it is unrealistic to assume that the budget problem rises out of "waste" and "unessential spending." That there is waste is undeniable, but large budgets grow out of something much more basic than waste. Rather, they arise from large and growing demands for services. The illusion that we can have those services and still pare our tax bills simply by minimizing waste is a major impediment to clear thinking on the subject.

The population of the State continues to grow rapidly, requiring enlarged outlays for education and other public services. For example, we are adding about 50,000 children per year to our school population, making for a built-in increment of about 15 million dollars at existing cost levels. Waiting lists for admission to mental health facilities indicate a need for additional multi-million dollar expenditures, and so on through the entire gamut of State services.

While I personally dislike the idea of more taxes, I think it is evident that we have no choice in the matter. However, we do have a choice in the form new taxes can be imposed.

First, certain of the so-called "nuisance taxes" could be used. These taxes may be considered unfair in that they result in only part of the people paying for services available to everyone. Further, such taxes will be inadequate.

Second consideration should be given to the extension of the sales tax to services. Such action, together with overall growth in the economy could well provide enough revenue to accommodate essential needs. Further, the machinery for collecting sales taxes already exists and there would be no need for creation of another State agency.

Finally, as a possible last resort, we can consider a State income tax. Imposition of an income tax should be accompanied by overall tax revision, particularly where certain taxes on job-creating business are concerned. However, one should bear in mind two important things when considering an income tax, namely, (1) the expense involved in creating and maintaining the collection machinery and (2) the nuisance value of making returns and allowing further encroachment into our private affairs.

Now, as one of your elected officials, my attitude is that representation is a two-way street. While I have the responsibility to inform the people I represent regarding overall State problems, at the same time I must try to reflect their general viewpoint. To that end I ask that you give this matter your serious consideration and let me know your conclusions as soon as possible. A simple post card will do.

With all good wishes, I am

Maple Syrup Time Now Big Business

It's maple syrup time in Charlevoix and sap buckets hang from nearly 1,000 maple trees that border the city streets. It was a small project started by the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix in 1958 to augment the youth fund. Now it has become a sizeable business with a sizeable investment, demanding a sizeable numbers of hours from Kimanians.

Supporting the project wholeheartedly have been the Charlevoix Sea Scouts, the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts. Both Sea Scouts and Boy Scouts work at picking up the sap and help with other odd jobs as needed. Girl Scouts clean the filled containers and attach the labels. The youth organizations are paid for their work on a man-hour basis thus improving the financial atatus of their treasury.

Back in 1956 when the project was started, equipment consisted of 800 buckets, an evaporator fired by scrap wood and a make-shift boiling house set up on Bridge street. The Project was a natural and each year a few more trees were tapped.

The big expansion came this year when a permonent boiling house was constructed north of Division aye. A new stainless steel evaporator, fuel oil fired, was installed. It has a capacity of eight gallons of syrup per hour. To utilize this production, more buckets were purchased, more trees were tapped, and more work-hours were necessary. The sap flow the past week has been running approximately 1,8000 gallons per day

During the first eight days of the season, syrup production totaled 370 gallons, according to Kit Carson, chairman of the Kiwanis maple syrup committee. The maples are now at near peck run and producing about 1,800 gallons of sap a day. This means 45 to 55 gallons of finished syrup. The sugar content of the sap decreases as the season advances, thus requiring more sap and longer boiling to produce a gallon of syrup.

Who buys the syrup? Some is sold directly to the consumers and some is sold through retail outlets. Because maple ayrup is a delicate and tasty sweetening for pancakes, waffles, biscuits and other hot breads, as well as for cooking, the demand usually exceeds the production.

Charlevoix and Caro Schedule Mayor Exchange

Charlevoix will again participate in th annual Mayor's Exchange program as a part of the Michigan Week observance.

In the pairings made last week in Lansing, Charlevoix was paired with Caro, a fourth class city located in the Thumb area approximately 25 miles east of Saginaw.

Population of the community, located in Tuscola county, is 3,534.

Annual State Convention to Be Topic at PTA Meet

The annual Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held in Petoskey Apr. 30 and May 1 and 2 will be the subject of the program at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix P.T.A. to be held at the new Charlevoix high school at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Mrs. J. L. Feindt P.T.A. president, has announced.

Paul Verseput of Harbor Springs, who is in charge of publicity for the state convention which is being held in the north for the first time in 25 years, and Mrs. Harold Hayner of Petoskey, convention chairman, will be present to outline the program for the convention which will bring to the area many widely known educators and people prominent in P.T.A. circles.

An election of officers will also be held. The slate of officers approved at the March meeting, as presented by the nominating committee, follows: president, Mrs. Clayton Smith; first vice president, Mrs. Robert Pearl; second vice president, Mrs. Charles Bleha; secretary, Mrs. Robert Tollas and treasurer, Mrs. Maurice Dixon. Nominations will also be accepted from the floor.

Former Resident Dies in Canada

News of the death of a former local resident, Mrs. James Hayes, 95, at Elston, Canada, Mar. 2, has been received here.

Mrs. Hayes, whose first husband, Peter VanOrman, whom she married in Charlevoix Dec. 4, 1885, preceded her in death in 1932. Mrs. Hayes moved to Elston, Can., from Charlevoix to make her home.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lewis Mahn of Fountain, Mrs. Oscar VanDusen of Yale, and Mrs. Byron Ames of Algonac; a son, Winton VanOrman, of Sturam, Sask.; several grand children and great-grandchildren.

Rex Gosline has returned to Lansing after spending the weeknd here on business.

Four Townships Request City To Lower Fire Protection Rates

Representatives of four adjacent townships appeared before the City Council, at its regular meeting Monday night, to request an adjustment of fire protection rates.

The supervisors of Charlevoix, Hayes, Norwood and Marion township asked that the former rate of one mill on the county equalized valuation of their respective units be adjusted now that the state equalized valuation figure will be used for all taxing purposes. After some discussion, a rate of .7 of a mill was agreed on. The supervisors will present this figure to the voters of their respective units in the forthcoming election.

The council then voted to extend the water main to the Will Flow Corp. On US 31 North. This would extend the water main approximately one-half mile outside the city limits.

Bids for a new heavy duty truck for use by the street department were receivd from seven dealers. They were referred to City Supt. James Taylor and the street committee for tabulation. They will report at a later meetling. Bids were received from Bruce Donaldson, Warner Wasey of Lansing, Dilworth and Sons of Boyne City, Erber Auto Co., Conrad Klooster of Atwood, Brown Motors Inc. and the Charlevoix Oil Co. The bids ranged from $5,472 to $14,470, depending on the type of vehicle.

A resolution regarding the harbor improvement program, involving the construction of five new finger piers in the yacht basin was adopted and forwarded to the Michigan Watersways Commission. The work will be done on a matching fund basis by the city and the commission. Bids for the work will be accepted until Apr. 16.

It was decided to install florescent lights on Garfield ave. in the area of the new high school. The number to be installed will be determined by City Supt. Taylor. If this type of light proves satisfactory it may be used elsewhere in the city.

Bills totaling $14,041.92 were approved and ordered paid. The figure included a $3,207.60 payment for diesel fuel oil; a payment of $1,159.36 for fire insurance premiums to the Max Novak Agency and a payroll of $6,166.01.

Bulow, chairman and clerk of the county board of supervisors. The assurance came from Carl Hayden chairman of the senate committee on appropriations.

The senate committee on appropriation has recommended an appropriation of $101,000 for the 1963 budget. If approved this will bring the total allotment to $626,000. Total cost for completion is $892,000, Mr. Holloway said.

It's a Marked Home for Ducks

In the old days 'tis said, tramps put a mark on the house that was good for a hand-out when a fellow was hungry.

Chances are that flocks of wild ducks and geese, flying north this spring, will find a similar identifying mark on the roof of a house located on Charlevoix's north side for one Mallard duck which has spent the winter here has found the family that lives there is a soft touch for a hungry duck.

Pictured here is Mrs. H. A. Forbrig giving a handout to the duck, which lights daily on the breeseway of the Hal Forbrig home on Petoskey ave. The duck, which started coming to the house early this winter, has become so tame that the Forbrig children can come within two or three feet of him, Mrs. Forbrig said.

Voice of our readers

Editor:
Charlevoix Courier

I will not be a candidate for First Ward Supervisor in the coming election, because in order to do a good job I have to devote a great deal of time to it, and I do not feel that I can continue to neglect my private business.

Mr. Jess Smith, Mr. Ted Miller and I started work on getting the county tax equalized several years ago. When this came about Mr. Uhrick and Mr. Gebeau were on the Board. The only reason that I ran on slips in the General Election last year was, as I told the voters that I sent letters to, I felt there should be one of the original three supervisors to represent the City.

I think we are fortunate to have men of the caliber of Mr. Uhrick and Mr. Gebeau to present us, and I believe that Kit Carson, who will be a candidate on slips to succeed me, will represent us ably in county government with them, and it is my sincere wish that you cast your ballot for him.

Sincerely yours,
Ivan A. Phillips

Robins' Arrival Announce Spring

The first true harbinger of spring, a robin, arrived Sunday to bring hope that the long-anticipated season must be just around the corner.

Mrs. Fred Gill who lives on Prospect ave. thought she heard a robin chirping and when she went outside to investigate, found the happy bird in a nearby tree broadcasting the news of his arrival.

On Monday, Mrs. Barney Englehart called to report that the first robin has arrived at Camp Charlevoix despite the fact that there was only one small bare patch of ground to be found in the area. However, she added that he could find food in their many bird-feeders until the heavy snow melted.

State Adopts Resolution Honoring All Girl Scouts

The State of Michigan has honored the Girl Scouts of America on the occasion of their fiftieth golden anniversary by adopting House Resoultion No. 28.

A copy of the resolution, printed on a bordered sheet suitable for framing, has been forwarded to every Girl Scout Council in the state as well as to national and regional units. Mrs. James Gallagher, president of the Charlevoix Council has received a copy in behalf of the local council. It will be framed and placed in an appropriate place at Charlevoix's Girl Scout Camp.

It reads in part: "A Resolution Congratulating Girl Scouts of the United States of America on their Fiftieth, Golden Anniversary:

Whereas, on March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Ga., there was lighted a small candle of inspiration by 12 little girls uniting in the first troop, formed by Juliette Low, of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America, and in half a century the number of girls, women and men, conjoined in dedicated services, totals almost 3½ millions in the U.S., of whom more than 158,000 are Michigan's own;

Whereas, Girl Scouting in America is linked to 51 foreign nations in the world Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, whose total membership is about five millions, a brilliant flame lighting paths to peace, courage, resourcefulness and unselfish services to fellow beings—truly Junior Ambassadors of Goodwill;

Whereas, its American Golden Anniversary theme is "Honor the Past—Serve the Future", and during two generations of America's Girl Scouts approximately 18½ millions of U.S. residents have flourished and matured under, and bequeated their precious heritage of dedication to, these primary elements of good citizenship, healthy societal membership and foundations for happy homes;

Therefore be it resolved that the Michigan House of Representatives congratulates the Girl Scouts of the United States of America upon attaining their Fiftieth, Golden Anniversary, upon their half-century of continuous dedicated serviees and upon the selfless and loyal efforts of every member of the national, state, district and local units in propagating the highest ideals possible to mankind and in helping to make them take root and flourish".

The resolution, as adopted, was presented by Mrs. Hunsinger, Green, Michael J. O'Brien and Nakkula on behalf of the Speaker and entire membership of the house of Representatives.

Animals and humans have communieated from time immemorial.

Bulletin Suggests Best Corn Hybrids For County Farmers

Performance of 14 corn hybrids tested in 1961 by Michigan state farm crop specialists have been compiled in a bulletin now available to farmers, reports Ed Rebman, county extension director.

The revised extension folder F-87 compares each of the hybrids as grown under equal soil and climate conditions. Statistical information includes moisture content at time of harvest, average yield in bushels of shelled corn per acre, and average percentage of stalk lodging. The folder also offers suggestions which can be of value to the farmer in choosing a hybrid variety most suitable for his particular farm.

Michigan Mirror

The State Fair Grounds at Detroit lies within a 50-mila radius of 10 of Michigan's most populous counties and will soon be within an hour's drive of about 70 per cent of the state's population. But it is in use for a relatively short period during the year.

Gov. John B. Swainson, a number of businessmen in the Detroit area, and many citizens out-state would like to see this use expanded.

A 25-man Fairgroumds Development Commission appointed by the Govenor recently submitted its report of recommendations on the possible uses of the facilities now available and construction of new structures which would encourage year-round use.

All recommendations were aimed at keeping the State Fair itself the primary function of the property at Detroit's north city limits, said commission chairman C. H. Mayne.

General improvement of existing faciiitiea also was recommended. "The need for improvements grows with cach passing year," thc commission said. "Many of our buildings are in need of major repair; some of them are antiquated. As they age the cost of their maintenance increases."

A similiar report to improve the present buildings was submitted to the Legislature, at its request, in 1955. This study called for a five-year program of capital improvement. Due to lack of funds, the recommendations have gone unfulfilled each year.

New buildings for agricultural, youth, and women's activities were among tha recommendations for entirely new construction.

Rather than rely on the state Legislature finding extra money to devote each year to fair development projects, the Governno's commission recommended the improvements be financed totally througb the sale of revenue bonds.

The commission cited several developments across the nation which were financed entirely through bond sales, "never at a cost to the taxpayer; without pledging the faith and credit of the state, and without mortgaging state property."

The Legislature would, however, have to create the Michigan State Fair Authority and give it bonding power if the commission's recommendations were to be put into effect.

Perhaps the two most surprising recommendations for new facilities were those for a dormitory and civic stadium. The commission emphasized none of the recommendations were designed to compete with existing facilities in Detroit, such as Cobo Hall or Tiger Stadium.

Throughout the year a ground level pavilion in the proposed dormitory building would bouse a cafeteria leased to a private firm. During the Fair, the upper floors would provide accommodations for junior exhibitors, herdsmen and band participants. At other times, the dormitory area would be turned into a motel facility, leased to a private operation.

The civic stadium, designed to accomodate 80,000 persons at professional and collegiate sports events, represented a relatively new concept in the United Statea.

Commission members got the idea for the staduim from an 86,000-seat stadium built recently in Hanover, Germany, from rubble cleared from bombed out areas of tha city.

Rather than dig deep into the ground to provide the base for the stadium at the fairgrounds, the commission proposed using earth fill from expressway excavations to build upwards.

Much of the dirt being dug out for expressway construction in the Detroit area is being trucked into Canada and dumped. Use of the fill for the stadium base would save some trucking costs and cut down the duplication of spending in digging out for the fairgrounds structure.

Legislativa proposals by the commission got in just in time for the current session but little support was expected this year. The Legislature has been generally insistant to create units with full bonding powers.

This is expected to be particularly true during the current year, while the Legislature waits to see what action tha Constitutional Convention tkaes in the area of the state's borrowing limitation.

The late date at which bills encompassing the commission proposals were introduced also gave a little chance to promote their full effect. Next year, however, members of the commission can be expected to put fortb a strong effort for approval of the recommendations.

LEGISLATIVE DEBATES over the most controversial subjects quite often bring forth the best of the humor shown in a session. An excellent example of this came from Rep. Lloyd Anderson, Pontiac Republican, when the subject of tax solutions was being contested on the floor of the House recently.

Democrats were attacking the Republican legislators for failing to come forth with anything other than "nuisance taxes" to hike the state revenues.

"I don't care what you or we propose," said Anderson to a Democratic attacker. "If you ask the taxpayer what kind he wants, you'll find there isn't any tax he dosen't consider a 'nuisance tax.'"

The comment was taken lightly, but is probably more true than poetic.

Coyote Packs Killing Deer on Beaver Island

St. James, Beaver Island—A tragedy of the wilds was brought to light this week with tha discovery that packs of coyotes were chasing and killing deer, mostly does heavy with fawns.

The discovery followed tha sighting of two dead deer on the ice of Lake Genaserath from the air by Clyde Grant of Beaverton who was flying in to look over his island property. Lake Genaserath is one of Mr. Grant's favorite fishing sites and he flew in low over the area as he prepared to land. As he did he sighted the bodies of the deer.

Upon landing, he notified the Beaver Island Game club headed by R. W. Carlisle. In cooperation with Vernon Fitzpatrick, conservation department officer, a search party was organized to visit the area. Because of the deep snow, the heaviest in years, they were forced to abandon their usual modes of transporation and snowshoe through the woods. After finding the prints of numerous coyotes at the site of the two deer on the lake the party fanned out to travel through the isolated deer yards. They found no signs of starvation but did find the carcasses of several dead deer along with trails of blood and bits of hide where the pack of hungry coyotes had chased the deer through the deep snow, attacking and killing them when they became exhausted.

There is a marked increase in the coyote population of the island, game club officials believe. They base their conclusions on the fact that of the 10 coyotes taken by hunters this year they found nona of the nine animals captured, banded and released by conservation officers last year. It is believed the coyote population stands at about 35 animals and is increasing rapidly.

Few of us do. We belong to our parents. Schools take us over. Our jobs own us. We try to find ourselves, own ourselves. But time buys us and at last death claims us. Jesus Christ owned Himself. When Judas sold Him, Jesus knew what was up — and was giving Himself up. "I am He," He said to the mob who come to take Him.

He is the Good Shepherd who gave His life for His sheep. "I lay down My life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from Me, but I lay it down of Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again." (St. John 10:17, 18)

And He did both.

The one Man who ever owned Himself gave Himself in death — for you. That's the pattern for belonging to yourself. "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it, but whosoever will lose his life for My sake, the same shall save it" (St. Luke 9:24). The Lutheran Church is urging you to hear that message this Lent.

C H S Band to Present Concert In New Gymnasium Friday

Charlevoix high school soloists and ensembles performed creditably in the recent State Solo and Emsemble Festival at Mt. Pleasant according to C. A. Odmark, director of music in the local schools.

Two entries received the coveted first division rating. They were Richard Odmark, oboe soloist, and the oboe-bassoon duet composed of Richard Odmark and Connie Saltonstall. Both entries were heard by Florian Mueller of the Universary of Michigan School of Music.

The brass sextet composed of George Majors, Joan Riley, Bob Odmark, Bruce Kroken, Steven Kroll and Gary Stutzman was awarded a second diviaion rating, denoting a good performance with minor deficiencies which would prevent the top rating.

Robert Odmark, French horn soloist entered in Proficiency, I, a classification above the regular solo entry, received a rating of 82 per cent. A score of 85 per cent is necessary for a Proficiency I rating. As a result he did not earn the rating but performed very well in the judgment of Douglas Campbell of the Michigan state Universtry staff.

A flute duet by Marcia McCall and Roberta Hiller, a clarinet duet by Barbara Sugden and Judy Walker and a bass solo by Gary Stutzman all received third division ratings while George Majors, senior cornetist, who encountered numerous difficulties, mostly as the result of nervousness wound up with a IV rating. He will appear as soloist with the high school band at Friday's concert and Mr. Odmark has every confidence that he will do the type of job he is capable of doing.

Mrs. Leonard Burns and Mrs. Robert Tollas were accompanists for local entries.

Rev. George L. Majors and Mrs. John Kroken joined with Mr. Odmark in transporting the students to Mt. Pleasant.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

Aloneness In April

April is a month for aloneness. If you are walking with a crowd (and in nature the company of one other person often constitutes a crowd) you will be too distracted to see and feel and hear April.

Deer, now broken out of their winter retreats in the deep swamps, will flee before a crowd can see them, but they wait awhile to salute the single rambler in the woods with a twitch of the ears and the flick of the tail. Migrating warblers, responding to the urgent tug of their summer homes, troop Northward through forest glades and perch all around the lone watcher. Seldom will they hesitate near a company of strollers.

Those airy distillations of April, the damp breezes that play over pasture lands and skip over woodland trails, pause to caress the private investigator of the out-of-doors, greeting him with something like an infant's impulsive, warm, moist nuzzle. But those preoccupied with companions are somehow shunned by these gusty, shy playmates of the wild.

Brooks sing their loveliest spring songs for but one listener at a time. Spring peepers prefer a solitary auditor at their April try-outs for the summer concert season. The mild, almost silent, tinkling of melting snowbanks is drowned by the noise of more than one person's breathing.

April days are tender days. April nights are frail. Treat them gently. They are timid and shy. Try to meet them alone.

School Consolidation Report Summarized

During recent weeks, this newspaper has published the results of an extensive study made by a citizens' committee regarding the proposed consoldiation of the Central Lake, Ellsworth and Charlevoix school districts.

The voters of the three school districts will go to the polls on Monday, April 16, to decide this issue.

However, before making their final decision they are asked to review the results of the study which has brought out the following facts:

1. That quality teaching requires that teachers teach in their field of training and this is possible only when there are enough students to fill enough sections at all times.

2. Both the building and operations of rooms for special subjects, science, shops, homemaking, commerce and music cost two or three times that of regular classrooms. As a result, their operation is very expensive when there are not enough students to use them the full day.

3. There are a large number of students who are less qualified or less interested in an academic program who need to be given more vocational training in the direction of specific jobs. Also, there would be more real challenge to the academically minded students.

4. The present 28 courses at Ellsworth and Central Lake and 35 at Charlevoix would be increased to a minimum of 60 almost immediately.

5. The elementary program would be increased in the field of srt, music and pbysical education.

6. The program would be flexible enough to permit adding or dropping courses ss the needs change.

7. All youth could be educated regardless of their abilities, personal interests and their immediate needs.

8. The tax dollars will provide a school program superior to that now being offered in any of the three school districts.

Public meetings at which the proposed consolidation will be discussed will be held in each of the three communities beginning Monday April 9, at Charlevoix; Ellsworth Tuesday, April 10 and at Central Lake Wednesday April 11.

Editor's Note—The above report and previous ones, are only the findings of the citizens' committee which made a study of the feasibility of consolidating the Charlevoix, Banks, and Central Lake school districts. Readers should bear in mind the reports cover only the advantages that might be attained.

Michigan Press Association Hears Elmer E. White

Professional groups could serve the public better if they would adopt a more enlightened attitude about advertising, Elmer E. White, secretary of the Michigan Press Association, told members of a professional group at a Lansing meeting.

White stated that lawyers could fulfill thir responsibility to people who need advice much more effectively if they would use paid advertising to identify their legal needs and invite them to seek consultation.

Some professional groups establish ethical standards against paid advertising, White said, then try to develop more clients through other means which often include free publicity in news stories. Newspapers have a place in a community, he explained, and must depend upon advertising revenues to exist. Professional groups which operate within the same community are missing a bet to keep in contact with the public by denying themselves the advantages of paid advertising. They also reduce the opportunity for a newspaper to sudvive and provide its service to the public.

REPUBLICAN DELEGATES to the Constitutional Convention were sharply criticized recently when reports were published about a "secret trade" being made to assure agreement on several sections of the document being prepared.

There were changes that "principles are being compromised," by naive supporters of some of the delegates.

It is a well known and hard political fact that the basis for most legislative action is compromise, although this word can be given a negative connotation by people seeking political advantages who can find no better issue.

It now appears the only great "sin" involved in the compromise worked out by differing viewpoints within the Con-Con's GOP ranks was that the "deal" was so openly made public.

At nearly the same time as the Con-Con deal was made known, another "compromise" was being worked out between Republicans and Democrats in Legislature. The single issue involved was not as important as the several constructional provisions so it did not gain as much attention from the public or politicians.

A newspaper reporter who wrote that a "gentlemen'a agreement was being attempted, however, was severely critized for putting the pending "deal" in print.

It appears inconsistent that all politicians freelf admit, off the record, that they are willing to compromise for the public good, but they refuse to let the public know when they have reached a compromise. And it seems hypocritical for those who understand the value of compromise to rant against those who try to reconcile differences so that progress can result.

A SUBSTANIAL SHARE of an $8 million Congressional appropiation for manpower training may be available to Michigan because of the state's high unemployment rate.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett reports the training program would be of special benefit to high school dropouts and graduates unable to find work.

"Both the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Department of Labor have indicated that Michigan is in the top group of states in the nation with high unemployment and will be eligible for a substanial share of the funds," Bartlett said.

The Federal act authorized a $435 million appropriation over a three-year period to help train thousands of unemployed who lost their jobs or othera unable to find work because of automation.

Enabling legislation to allow Michigan to accept funds provided under the Federal law has passed in the House and is under consideration by the Senate. The bill provides for administration of the funds through the State Board of Control for Vocational Education.

No state funds would be needed to administer the program, Bartlett said, although the Deppartment of Public Instruction and the Michigan Employment Security Commission would participate in it also.

Under the programs, benefits also would be available to train unemployed adults and farm families with incomes of less than $1,200 a year.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO? A study by the Michigan Citizens Research Council shows some $506 million of Michigan's money during the past fiscal fears went to create and pay for 90 programs which did not exist prior to 1956.

Included were 27 new programs in the general field of education and 20 in general government operations. New programs were also added during the period in public health, montal hygiene, public welfare, safety and defense, regulatory sevices, consevation, recreation and agriculture.

An indication of how the addition of relatively small, inexpensive programs add up is seen in the Council's fact sheet on the new state services.

In the education category, for example, a $900 appropriation was made in 1956 for state historical markers. The following two years saw the money spent on this government service triple before it dropped back and evened off at below $1,000 a year.

Over the perlod since 1956, however, more than $51,000 has been spent for historical markers.

The new services and agencies dramatize how changing conditions create new needs. The list includes watercraft registration, civil defense programs, driver education, a survey of air pollution, mental institutions, a board of veterinary examiners, race track improvementa, and emergency highway patrols.

This capsule summary of some of the new programs which cost money to the Michigan taxpayer points up the problems facing the Legislature each year.

Who can say that emergency highway patrols were not needed when traffic fatalities were increasing annually between 1957 and 1959? What man could win an argument that a board of veterinary examiners was not needed when the vets themselves asked for a regulatory agency to police their own profession?

How much support could be gained for the contention that the increasing number of boats in use in Michigan did not warrant a registration system similar to motor vehicle registration.

The Council reports indicates there was littie support for keeping these and the other 80 plus programs out of the state budget. A need was evidenced for each of them. Few, however, have been dropped entirely even if the need no longer exists.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION .....

by M. L. Woell

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

Congress Hears Farmers

For the first time in recent years, a farm program developed by actual farmers has received a full-scale hearing in Washington. "Cropland Retirement," a proposal worker out by farmers in 49 states and Puerto Rico, and presented through the American Farm Bureau Federation, has been introduced by eleven Congressmen from both political parties in two sets of identical bills. Hearings on the proposals held by the House Agriculture Committee, were considered "favorable" by veteran capitol observers.

One set of bills would provide authority for the Secretary of Agriculture to extend existing Conservation contracts. The other set would set up a long-term voluntary land retirement program and needed changes in price support programs for wheat and feed grains to accelerate the adjustment of farm production to effective market demand.

In testifying before the House Agriculture Committee, Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau, said "the program is designed to solve the feed grain and wheat surplus problems within the framework of the market system.

"The cropland retirement program preserves the opportunity for each farmer to make his own decisions. It gets away from historic bases, minimum allotments, and the other problems inherent in govrnment efforts to regulate individual farming operations. This is the road to high per family net income," Shuman said.

The legislation supported by Farm Bureau has four primary objectives:

★ Opportunity to renew expiring Conservation Reserve contracts.

★ New long-term contracts for cropland retirement on a purely voluntary, competitive-bid basis, with emphasis on retiring whole farms.

★ A program to remove additional land from production to balance output and market demand.

★ Price supports for grains and wheat consistent with the need to adjust production.

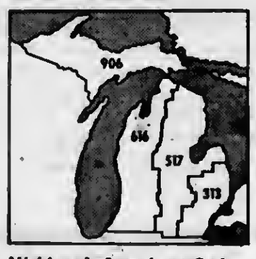
For faster Long Distance— you'll find AREA CODES listed in your new Directory



Michigan's four Area Codes. Other states have their own.

In the front of your new telephone directory you'll find a list of Area Codes. Each Area Code consists of three numerals and identifies a particular geographical area—either part of a state or an entire state.

You can use Area Codes to help speed those Long Distance calls you make to other parts of Michigan and to other states.

When you call Long Distance just look up, in the directory, the Area Code of the place you're calling and give it to the operator along with the phone number you want to reach.

Then she'll dial your call on its way immediately; no need to wait while she looks up the Area Code. You save valuable time.

You give the operator the Area Code only when it's different than your own Area Code. That's easy to remember.

You can help your friends in other parts of Michigan and other states to speed their calls to you by giving them your own Area Code.

Finances in Connection With School Consolidation

by Fran Martin

The financial picture was one of the most important phases of the recent study conducted by a citizens school study committee in connection with the proposed consolidation of the Central Lake, Ellsworth and Charlevoix school districts.

The advantages of a better curriculum, more classes, more efficient instruction and more efficient use of existing facilities are among the issues discussed thus far.

Now it must be determined how the cost for this improved program will compare with present costs.

The present costs, assessed valuations in the three districts and tax rates must be considered along with the cost of the improved program under consolidation to afford a basis for a decision in the special election scheduled for April 16.

This pertinent information follows:

District	Assessed Valuation	Present Bonded Indebtedness
Ellsworth	$2,725,000	$175,000
Central Lake	4,533,898
Charlevoix	13,028,340	980,000
Total	$20,287,238	$1,155,000

Tax assessed on valuation in the three districts

Ellsworth

1960-61	$21.00 per $1,000
1961-72	21.00 per 1,000
Central Lake
1960-61	17.00 per 1,000
Charlevoix
1960-61	13.50 per 1,000

If the 1961-62 total costs were spread over the entire area, the tax rate would be $13.46 per $1,000 valuation.

In order to better understand the total cost picture, it is necessary to know the valuation behind each student in each of the three districts; It is as follows: Ellsworth, $9,250; Central Lake, $10,243 and Charlevoix, $12,000. This would average $10,498 for each child enrolled in a consolidated district and would be a determining factor in the amount of State Aid received. Because of the 3¼ mills deductible from the $205 per pupil received in State Aid, the amount of State Aid received under the combined district would increase with the membership and assessed valuation of the 1961-62 school year. There is already evidence of an increase to approximately $25,175,000 valuation for 1962-83 which would tend to reduce the State Aid slightly.

A suggested budget has been made for the 1962-63 school year for a consolidated district. If the teachers salary schedules now in use are continued and other costs calculated on the price of 1961-62, a comparison of costs can be made. This budget used an increase of three teachers, two for the elementary grades and one for the junior high at Charlevoix. Two new buses are included, as they would be needed at the beginning. The total operating budget would require a tax levy of $219,000. This, with the debt retirement, would necessitate a tax rate of slightly less than $13.00 per $1,000 valuation.

Using this as a basis, some rather definite conclusions may be drawn in the study of finance. They are: if a comprehensive education progrsm is developed, no saving in total costs could be made; the present program could be continued at a slightly less tax cost and additional rooms, as planned in the survey, would require perhaps $1.00 per $1,000 valuation for four years in addition to the other school taxes.

This and other phases of the proposed consolidation will be discussed at length at a public meeting to be held at Charlevoix Monday, Apr. 9. Similar panel discussions will be held in Ellsworth and Central Lake on successive dates.

Industrial Art Instructors Attend Annual Convention

The thirty-fourth annual state convention of the Michigan Industrial Education Society was held in Grand Rapids Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In Grand Rapids for the convention whose theme was "Industrial Education—Essential in Today's Curriclum", were Uno Suomela and Robert J. Cook, industrial arts instroitors in the Charlevoix high school and one of their stodents, Steven Faculak. students, Steven Faculak.

Charlevoix was represented by exhibits of bench metal work, wookwork, machine shop and drafting which were displayed in the exhibit hall in the Civic Center.

Mr. Cook, who has been a member of the state board for six years, served as a recorder of a section meeting on "Production". As a board member, Mr. Cook is a member of the research committee and co-editor of the organization's Newsletter.

Among the major speakers at the convention were Dr. Carl L. Byerly, district administrator of the Detroit public schools, who spoke on the subject of "New Horizons in Preparing Pupils for the World of Work" and Dr. H. H. London, Professor of Industrial Education of the University of Missouri who presented an illustrated lecture on "Family Life, Education and Work in the Soviet Union."

In his talk, Dr Byerly brought out the needs for better preparing students for work, adding that a large percentage of students need a different type of training than they are receiving in the nation's schools. Fourteen major cities including Detroit now have study groups investigating the situation in an effort to solve the problem of how best to train students for the world of work, he added.

Dr. London presented an interesting and informative illustrated lecture on life in Russia. Of specal interest to the convention were his comments on the Russian trade schools which ranged from very poor to extremely good by American standards. In one such school he said that the school doctor received $120 per month while the teachers received $180 per month. In the trade schools a teacher presented the theory and related material to the students while the instructor was a tradesman who taught the manual skills.

Dr. London said that educators in Russia were friendly and willing to help him acquire the information he wanted. He said they also expressed the hope for peace between the U.S. and Russia and projected the thought that both the U.S. and Russia might someday have to defend themselves against China.

Voice of our readers

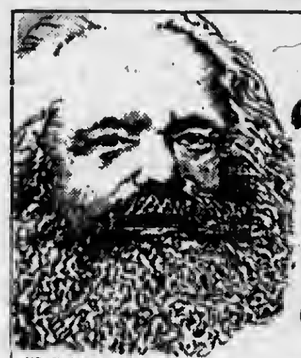
Dear Sirs:

I would like to place a change of address for my "dearly beloved" Courier. Our new address is 1411 Hoover Ave.

I would also like to tell you folks how much I enjoy receiving the Courier. There is such a variety of news in the paper, no one person could write and fill me in on all the news.

When you are this far from home the Courier is worth ten times ten cents.

Thank you,
Mrs. Karen (Pierce) Vincent



antidote for an opiate

"Religion is the opiate of the people," said Karl Marx.

What's the antidote?

You might try Antireligion.

It's not easy on the people. It means persecutions, concentration camps, children turned against their parents. It creates blotches on the face of society: church buildings in ruins or used as stables.

Or Irreligion. Of course, there are certain side effects: juvenile delinquency, teen-age crime waves, men spending lifetimes in prisons, malfeasance in office, corruption in business.

Would you prefer Secularism?

Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost — and the foremost, for that matter.

Is the cure worse than the opiate?

"Justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, . . . The love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us." (Romans 5:1, 5)

East Jordan Man Loses Left Arm in Logging Accident

An East Jordan man, Orla Robinson, 48, who owns and operates a sawmill in the Chestonia district of Antrim county, lost his left arm in a logging accident Tuesday morning.

The accident occurred when he caught his arm in a log jammer while loading logs near the sawmill site approximately 10 miles south of East Jordan off M-68. Fellow workmen summoned Dr. Jerry VanDellen of East Jordan who administered emergency aid before accompanying Mr. Robinson to the Charlevoix hospital where the traumatic amputation was repaired.

His condition was reported satisfactory by Dr. VanDellen.

He was brought to the Charlevoix hospital via city-operated ambulance driven by Chief of Police Joseph Hammond of East Jordan.

Mr. Robinson resides at RR 1 East Jordan, near his sawmill operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richardson called on Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCall at Traverse City Sunday.

While the first federal income tax law in the U.S. goes back to 1913, such laws aren't new. Egyptian scrolls indicate that taxes were collected in 900 B.C. for public works.

Farmers Protest U.S. Ag Program Proposed by Freeman

Farm leaders from 11 Midwestern states, including Michigan, have reported growing dissatisfaction with current farm proposals before Congress, while sounding an optimistic note on farmer-attitude toward a "Cropland Retirement" plan, as endorsed in their meeting, April 6, in Bloomington, Illinois.

Present at the meeting and joining in the action taken were Walter Wightman, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, and Clarence Prentice, MFB secretary-manager. They, along with other Farm Bureau leaders and officers were holding their semi-annual conference with Charles B. Shuman, American Farm Bureau president. At the session, they issued a joint statement condemning the "administration's misrepresentations which are being used in a frantic attempt to sell the farm program proposals to farmers who have shown spirited disapproval of the 'government regimentation' included in Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's proposal."

The joint statement read: "It is becoming increasingly obvious that farmers do not want the kind of pprogram being offered by the Secretary of Agriculture. Farmers have written letters and

Mayor Appoints Kit Carson First Ward Supervisor

The appointment of Kit Carson as first ward supervisor to succeed Ivan A. Phillips who had filled the post for the past eight years was approved at a special meeting of City Council held Tuesday night to canvass the votes of the Apr. 2 election.

Mr. Carson sought election to the office as a sticker candidate after Mr. Phillips announced he would not accept the office if elected though his name was on the ballot. Carson received 72 votes, one less than Phillips. As a result, Phillips handed in his formal resignation Thursday night and Mayor E. D. Hawley appointed Mr. Carson to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Carson operated the Carson Lumber Co. here for 25 years before retiring in 1961. Prior to coming here he lived in East Jordan and served as mayor of that community at one time.

The City Council, at its regular meeting Monday, adopted a resolution addressed to the Charlevoix county board of supervisors requesting the partioipation of the county in the airport expansion program.

Under the proposal, the county would be requested to participate in the program by contributing $80,000 over a four year period for the expansion of airports at Boyne City, East Jordan, St. James and Charlevoix. This would mean $20,000 annually with each of the four communites receiving its fair share of $5,000. The monies could be used for only airport expansion.

The council authorized the purchase of 8.71 acres of land in Charlevoix township from the Charlevoix road commission for a sum of $551.00. The city proposes to use the property, which was formerly used as a gravel pit by the road commission, for a sanitary land fill or an industrial site if it is re-zoned by the township.

approved and ordered paid. The amount includes the purchase of water accounts receivable in the amount of $2,153.15 and sewage accounts receivable in the amount of $1,086.04; purchase of a new car for use by city superintendent and police department, $924.00; Cities Service for fuel oil $5,031.57; insurance, $1,065.00 to Carey Agency: city-used utilities, $1,114.89; Social Security, $2,242.87 and payroll, $7,223.93.

To Hold Special Election Monday on School Consolidation

Should the Central Lake, Ellsworth and Charlevoix school districts be consolidated into one?

This will be the issue to be decided at the polls Monday when the voters of the three districts cast their ballots on two proposals relating to the consolidation.

The first proposition on which all registered voters of the Charlevoix school district may vote follows: Shall all the territory of the following districts be united to form one district: Central Lake public school, Antrim county, Charlevoix public schools, Charlevoix and Antrim counties and Ellsworth Community School, Antrim and Charlevoix county.

The second proposition on which only tax payers may vote follows: Shall the Consolidated School District, Charlevoix and Antrim counties, proposed in Proposition I, assume and pay the unlimited tax bonded indebtedness of Charlevoix Public Schools and the Ellsworth Community School?

To vote on the first proposition, each voter must be a citizen of the U.S. above 21 years of age and have resided in the State of Michigan for six months and in the School District 30 days next preceding the election.

Each person voting on proposition II must meet the above qualifications and also must have property assessed for taxes within the School District or be the lawful husband or wife of a qualified voter of the District having property so assessed.

Only persons registered as electors in the City or Township in which they reside are Eligible to vote.

In Charlevoix the polls at the elementary school gymnasium will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in order that the voters of the Charlevoix school district may cast their ballots.

Under the proposed consolidation, each of the three districts would retain their elementary and junior high schools (k through 8th grades). High school students (9th through the 12th grades) would be transported to the Charlevoix high school. At the present time there are 97 students in these grades at Central Lake and 104 at Ellsworth.

Residents of the Charlevoix school district are urged by this publication to weigh the facts both for and against the proposed consolidation and to vote in Monday's special election.

WWTV Cadillac Shifts Channels

Effective in May, television station WWTV at Cadillac will shift from Channel 13 to Channel 9 according to plans announced by Fetzer Television Inc., operator of WWTV.

The station will be operating temporarily at reduced power prior to the change-over date.

The change is being made to allow the Federal Communications Commission to move Channel 13 to the Grand Rapids area for use by a new station there.

Starting in a few days, WWTV will reduce its effective power and operate from its auxiliary antenna system. This will permit crews to remove the Channel 13 antenna from its tower, remodel the top of the tower and erect a new Channel 9 antenna. When the work is completed WWTV will make the shift to Channel 9 and resume telecasting at full power.

Station WWTV will continue to telecast the same programs on Channel 9 that it now telecasts on Channel 13 and the operating hours will remain the same.

Most viewers are not expected to notice the reduction in signal strength during the period of low power operation. However, some set owners may find that adjustments to their sets or antennas will be needed to assure proper Channel 9 reception after the change-over.

The station is licensed to Cadillac-Traverse City and serves some 40 counties in Central and northern lower Michigan.

Mr. Harold M. Totten
Charlevoix, Michigan
Dear Harold:

May I, again by means of your "letters" column, report to your readers the results of my recent request for viewpoints relative to the serious financial situation faced by our State government?

Over the entire Senatorial District, 83% of those responding are willing to assume aditional taxes in some form. The other 17%, apparrently ignoring the reality of the steadily mounting State cash deficit, insist that there should be no new taxes.

Interestingly, 34% look for an answer in extending the sales tax to services; and an identical percentage favor a complete overhaul of our tax structure, incorporating therein an income tax. Only 5% believe that the so-called "nuisance" taxes will afford a lasting solution. Another 5% feel that State-controlled gambling in one form or another can provide the necessary new revenues. The remaining 6% (May God bless them!) express the thought that whatever decision I make will be in the best interest of everyone.

Looking beyond statistical evaluation, however, two important things stand out clearly. One is that waste and unessential spending must be eliminated ruthlessly; the other is that lasting settlement of the tax question can contribute to our economic future.

During the current session I personally supported two measures which would have curtailed waste in State spending. One of those failed in the Senate; the other failed in the House of Representatives. It was interesting for me to note that the very people who resist adequate tax programs also tend to oppose sincere attempts to clamp down on unessential expenditures.

While new industrial development and expansion are not necessarily deterred by high taxes (because high taxes can be equated with a correspondingly high level of services), it is clear that the uncertainty of our fiscal question in fact is contributing to unsatisfactory economic growth in Michigan.

It is entirely possible that the Legislature will develop a stalemated situation during the current session, judging from the prevalence of apparently inflexible attitudes. Because I have only one vote out of many, it is my thought that the overall effectiveness of that vote is contingent upon my ability to maintain a flexible position up to the point of final decision. The end result, unfortunately, will not satisfy everyone.

With all good wishes, I am
Sincerely,
Thomas F. Schweigert,
State Senator 29th District,
Lansing, Michigan

Editor

For what they may be worth, here are the reasons why I am going to vote "No" on school consolidation with Elisworth and Central Lake:

1. It is questionable and unproven this consolidation is the only or even the right answer to the betterment of our educational plant.
2. The proposed district is unrealistic and impracticable.
3. It would be necessary to bond for and construct a six-room addition to our just completed high school. We could be faced with the very real problem of having voted to consolidate and later having a new bond issue fail to carry and no room for the students.
4. The valuation coming from the Big Rock plant will be a great aid to our own Charlevoix district. This estimated valuation is greater than the combined present valuations of the Ellsworth and Central Lake districts.
5. The great inequity of assessment values between Charlevoix County and Antrim County will place an uncqual and an unfair burden on the Charlevoix School district taxpayer, who will pay approximately twice as much for a like property as will the Ellsworth and Central Lake taxpayer.

An Open Letter To Our Senator

Senator Tom Schwelgert
Senate Office Bldg.
Lansing, Mich.
Dear Senator:

The voters have made it known that they are opposed to a state income tax. I'm one of them.

Financing governmental cost has reached the point where departments, bureaus, etc., are dictating to the elected representatives of the people how much money they want to spend for so-called demanded services.

From where I sit, many of these services are concocted and promoted at state expense by the various departments and bureaus to perpetuate and enlarge their status.

Isn't it about time government adopted a sound business policy? Every department and bureau in the state can always justify bigger expenditures as long as the legslature will appropriate it. I propose an across the board cut in all budgets to keep expenditures within the state's income. That is what a business or an individual has to do if they stay out of bankruptcy. If a department head won't operate on that basis replace him with one who will.

All of us aim for bigger and better things, but the satisfaction of getting them will be of short duration if it eventually means ruination.

Mr. John Q. Citizen is fsst becoming a slave to government. He already is working about a third of his time to support the government. Just how long before he will be in total bondage? We who foot the bill are looking for relief and some of us expect the Republican party to stand firm in order to accomplish that end.

Kindest regards,
Harold M. Totten

Charlevoix School District

Vote NO on Consolidation

Because Under Consolidation:

1. Property Taxes Will Be Higher
2. Our just completed High School will not be large enough and a New bonding and building program will be necessary.
3. Tax assessments are far out of line between Charlevoix County and Antrim County. Until Ellsworth and Central Lake Districts are re-valued and raised to the correct state equalized level, every Charlevoix School District Taxpayer will pay much more than the Ellsworth or Central Lake Taxpayer—even for the operation of Ellsworth's and Central Lake's own Elementary Schools.

Girl Scout News

Three members of Senior Girl Scout troop 13 went to Traverse City recently to attend another Round-up training session.

The meeting opened with a nosebag lunch with George Lesher of Charlevoix as guest of the Roundup patrol and Mrs. Louis Dunn of Traverse City as guest of the alternate patrol.

The alternate patrol was in change of the flag ceremony. Following this a uniform inspection was held to made certain the girls had their proper placement of pins and insignia.

Group singing opened with the singing of "Swinging Along" which the Charlevoix girls had prepared to teach the others.

Then the fun started! Using 'say it' eards, the girls listened to a recording that goes along with the eards and practiced the foreign languages.

During the afternoon break, the Charlevoix Scouts served a treat of vinegar tarts which they had made. These were a sample of something that might be used as a Roundup demonstration. Everyone enjoyed them and asked for the recipe.

Then back to work while the girls discussed the 'swaps' they are working on and methods and procedures of finishing cherry wood pins (swaps) were discussed at length.

The two patrols then went to separate rooms to discuss "scouts Own", an inspirational service using poems, songs and/or a special topic, for the April 14 training meeting.

The colors were retreated at the end of the day, and everyone departed for home.

Weekly Report

The Constitutional Mill

By eliminating apring elections, a revised constitutional article on elections would save about $1 million a year.

This was the estimate of Delegates Peter L. Buback (D-Detroit), chief deputy Wayne county clerk, and William J. Leppien (R-Saginaw), former Saginaw county clerk, who as members of the Committee on Rights, Suffrage and Elections, helped work out the proposal on elections.

With the exception of cities and special elections to fill vacancies, all elections "shall be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November in each even-numbered year." The bi-partisan proposal is expected to be approved in the convention's Committee of the Whole.

The Michigan Municipal Clerks' Association as well as Detroit asked that cities be excepted. "Detroit voting machines are too small for all the candidates," Buback explains. "Many officials feel city issues don't get proper attention during the heat of national and state campaigns."

"Spring is an awkward time for an election," Buback and Leppien say. "It seems to come on the heels of the Fall election, and creates an unreasonable burden on voters, party workers, and election officials. It interferes with legisiative activity. At a time when officials should be working on state problems, they are called away by the Spring campaign."

The revised 451-word article, half the length of the present one, throws out antiquities such as a guarantee of votes to Indians, and tries to solve one of the more urgent problems of representation—disenfranchisement through modern mobility.

The article authorizes the Legislature to permit electors in Michigan for less than the required six months to vote in Presidential elections, and electors, disenfranchised by moving out of Michigan to another state, to receive Presidential absentee ballots.

"Americans are moving more and more often," said committee chairman James K. Pollock (R-Ann Arbor), professor of Political Science at the University of Michigan. "The argument for six months residence is that it insures knowledge of the issues by the voter. Surely knowledge of national affairs is as great in other states as it is in Michigan."

Of the eight sections in the article, minority reports were filed on two. Dr. Pollock, who joined the Democrats in both, predicted there would be sharp debate before a decision is reached.

One minority report attacks a section that keeps the voting age at 21. The majority report charges that the youngest group of voters takes the least interest in voting; the minority, seeking to drop the age to 19, declares it is needed to balance an electorate continually containing a higher percentage of the aged.

"Young people are relatively more affected by governmental decisions than older persons," the minority report continues. "Those affected by such decisions should have a part in making them."

The minority is backed by students and faculty of Port Huron Junior College who sent in a petition bearing 452 signatures and announced they are trying to get other colleges to join them.

The second controversy involves the present constitutional provision that only property owners can vote on expenditure of money or the issue of bonds. The minority extended the property-owner qualification to include "increases in tax limitations on property."

The majority, explains that if the voting qualifications are kept as a safeguard "against excessive tax burdens on real property . . . it is hardly rational to let non-property owners vote to increase tax limitations."

The minority replies that non-property owners do pay taxes through their rents, and that "the proposal would deprive thousands of citizens who indirectly pay such taxes from participation in vital decisions on the conduct of public schools."

The present Constitutional residence requirement of six months remains unchanged. Dr. Pollock explains it is liberal; no state has a shorter time; 13 have equal time; most require a year's residence, and a few two years. The legislature also is given the right to prohibit mental incompetants and inmates of jail from voting.

The First Methodist church was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Lorraine Lee Empey and Gerald William Stebe.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Empey and Mr. and Mrs. John Stebe Sr.

The Rev. Raymond J. McBratnie officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 200 guests before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and ferns and lighted candelabra. Fashioned with a lace bodice, scoop neckline and long sleeves, the full skirt was accented with a hip bodice of lace. A crown edged with seedpearls secured her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, carnations and hyacinth florets.

A tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table which was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Assisting were Lorraine Heise, Sally Cross, Kathy Gallagher, Judy Ikens and Maralene Chew.

For traveling on their northern Michigan wedding trip, the bride wore a black and white suit, red accessories and black coat.

The couple has returned to make their home at 307 Mason st.

The bride attended the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and a veteran of three years in the U. S. Navy.

Maple Syrup Season Ending

The 1962 maple syrup season in Charlevoix is coming to a close. It has been a banner year for the project sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix. Production of the high quality syrup totaled 758 gallons to date. Pictured abouc is one of the crews that tapped the trees and hung the buckets. Left is Ralph Gillam using the power drill for boring the hole. On his back, pack style is the gasoline engine which furnished the power. Center is Brian Seymour ready to drive in the spile and right is Richard Worfel hanging the bucket to the spile.

Two pick-up tanks mounted on trailers, and drawn by jeeps were used for gathering the sap Kiwanians were assigned to the jobs of driving, supervising the gathering crew and emptying the sap into the gathering tanks, Pictured here is Leonard Burns, the driver, with a guest of John Thomas at the front of the trailer and Mr. Thomas at the rear. Bringing the sap from the trees to the gathering tank are Boy Scouts and Sea Scouts. Girl Scouts, too, helped in this operation. Girl Scouts also assisted in cleaning and labeling containers at the boiling house.

Steam rolls out of the boiling house as the final run of sap is boiled down to syrup at the rate of approximately eight gallons per hour in the new modern oil-heated evaporator. The boiling house is a new, permanent structure built this year on a site north of Division ave. The boiling house is equipped to handle the complete operation from the boiling to the finished product in the containers. At the end of the syrup season the house will be used to store buckets, spiles and other equipment until the next year. Kiwanis investment in the project is approximately $4,000. Profits are to be used to promote worthy youth projects in the community.

Farmers Protest U. S. Ag. Program

sent telegrams to Congressmen in record numbers voicing their disapproval of the government regimentation which the administration bill would establish.

"Not only has this disapproval been voiced in letters, but the press, farm magazines, and currently, a noted analyst, have reflected farmer attitude against the Secretary's scheme to control and regulate agriculture.

"Meanwhile, support for a sensible Croland Retirement program is growing. Part of this trend toward stronger and stronger support of the Farm Bureau position stems from the obvious misrepresentations which have been made by the Secretary of Agriculture and members of his staff. Farmers know that the claims that the administration's bill will raise farm income and lower farm program costs are absurd. Any law which would establish a national agricultural police force can never result in a decrease in costs of administering farm programs. Claims that farm income will be raised by the program are contained only in the promises of the Secretary of Agriculture. These claims are unsupported in the legislation itself.

"But most of all, farmers and all taxpayers resent deeply the use of state ASC committees, who are employees of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, to lobby for a bill which is sponsored by the USDA. This is clearly a case of government workers spending taxpayers' money lobbying for a bill written by their boss," the group said.

"As representatives of more than 760,000 Midwestern farmers, we urge the Congress to look carefully at the public attitude and concern which is being registered in opposition to the administration's proposal and in favor of Farm Bureau's Cropland Retirement program," they concluded.

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

Good Versus Bad Eggs

Chances are that the eggs you buy for the Easter holiday will be "imported" from some other state. Close to fifty per cent of all eggs eaten in Michigan are shipped across our borders from other egg-producing areas.

Unfortunately, top quality eggs to fill this obvious market have not always been in good local supply. One can hardly blame inter-state shippers from taking advantage of the fact.

"Describe a top-quality egg," we asked Peter Sikkema, Michigan's chief quality-egg enthusiast. "Pete," who heads the Egg Marketing division of Farm Bureau Services, is quick to reply that, "It's a U.S. Fresh Fancy-Quality' egg,—and is the best on the market because the U. S. Department of Agriculture says it must be. If it bears the 'Fresh Fancy-Quality' label, it has met specifications that put ordinary, run-of-the-coop eggs to shame," Sikkema said.

Sikkema gives these pointers on how a newly opened top-quality egg acts. It "rides high" in the frying pan, with the white supporting the yolk in a firm fashion. The yolk depth depends on support from the white portion surrounding it. The yolk may be any of a variety of colors and still be good. Color is both a seasonal and a feeding factor. If the egg runs all over the pan, something is wrong, Sikkema says. "Something that could range all the way from poor refrigeration to the age of either the egg or the hen that produced it. Older birds tend to produce lower quality eggs,—another reason why we work to get Michigan producers on a long-range quality control program that begins with the flock, continues through the feed they eat, and ends in atmosphere-controlled trucks taking them, hours old, to refrigerated super-market display cases,—at premium prices."

The inference is plain. There is a good Michigan market for top-quality eggs. Production of such eggs can pay in a big way. It could reverse the trend and make Michigan an egg-exporting, instead of importing, state. All it takes is the kind of quality product today's discriminating housewife demands,—and derserves.

Sgt. Browe Tells Story Of Life at Ice Bound Radar Post

From S/Sgt. Ted Browe, veteran airman who is making the U. S. Air Force his career, comes this interesting story about life in the far north where, from his icebound radar post, he scans air activities in Siberia.

Tin City Alaska... a fiber-glass dome atop a desolate snow-covered headland overlooking the frozen Bering Strait, this isolate post is a key site in the westernmost outpost of U.S. defenses.

Named for an abandoned tin mine that has not been worked since World War I, it is on the westernmost tip of Cape Wales in the Seward peninsula . . . only 32 miles from the Soviet-owned Big Diomede Island in the Bering Strait where it serves as a link in the Air Force early warning radar chain.

The great radar antenna, ceaselessly searching in the rigid translucent dome on the hilltop, scans the strait and most of the Chutkotski peninsula in Russian Siberia. Small pips of light mark the take-offs and fllght paths of Sovient MIGs from tha airstrip across the strait and trace their transulcent paths across the radar scopes.

From Provideniya, Uelen, Cape Schmidta and other advance strips and fields, Soviet planes risc, their progress carefully charted by the electronic eyes of the headland sentinel.

The telltale tracks are transmitted by the parabolic communication antennas on a nearby hillside to pertinent ground centers—to the Alaskan Regional Combat Center at Elmendorf AFB, Anchorage, of the North American Air Defense Command, and, if necessary, to Colorado Springs, headquarters of the command.

Tin City, like all outlying radar sitea in Alaska, is far from any center of population. Nome, a village of 2,000, lies far to the south and east. Fairbanks is 530 miles away by plane. The Bering Strait is icebound much of the year; the land is locked in a frozen grip in winter and the only communications are by air.

The strip, which is Tin City's tenuous link to supplies, is what the Air Force calls a 'hairy' dangerous one, with a cliff at one end, a mountain at the other and often turbulent winds in between.

The city's population, except for Eskimos which are miles away across rugged, rocky tundra, total 74 Air Force men and 14 civilians. Mayor of the community is Major Carl E. Reichert of Trenton, N.J., commander of tha 710th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron whose Latin motto is "primus nuntius" . . . "first to know".

The civiliams are employed by RCA, which operates under government contract the so-called "White Alice" or trapaspheric scatter system of radio communication in Alaska.

Tin City consists of a lower camp of about 10 buildings, half buried in the snow and "Hilltop", the upper site on the steep headland overlooking the Bering Strait. Tha huge parabolic antennas of the communication system are ona nearby hillside, White Alice.

Near tha strip is a small control tower and weather station and scattered across the vast expansé of white wilderness are several contractors buildinga. Near the frozen strait are a few weather-beaten shacks, all that remains of Tin City's daya of mining glory.

The Air Force personnel here serve one year tours of duty. No dependents are allowed. Outside the city there is nothing to do and nowhere to go.

Every effort is made to make the community self contained. The buildings are connected with heated corridors; an airman can walk from his sleeping quarters to the mess hall to his job without emerging into Arctic cold and howling winds.

The men live well, which is some compensation for their isolation. Two airmen are quartered to each room; the mess hall is dubbed the "Corral" and is fenced in and decorated with driftwood collected in summer from the shores of the strait.

There are five movies a week, hobby shops, shuffleboard, table tennis, snack bar, gym, barbershop and a post exchange that does a $3,500 business each month.

Air Force chaplains drop in by air about once a month, weather permitting, and remain from three to five days. The dentist comes twice a year.

In charge of the big radar dome and the eight men attending to it on "Hilltop" is T/Sgt. Donald E. Bishop of West Springfield, Mass. The men live clustered around the base of the scanning antenna, which they almost lovingly tend. About once every two weeks one of them goes down to the main camp to do his laundry and get a brief change of environment.

"Hilltop" is more than 2,000 ft. of precipitious rocky slope above the lower camp. They are connected by an aerial tramway more than 7,000 ft. long. The winds off the Bering Strait, ice on the cables and fog and mist make a tram ride to "Hilltop" an aerie trip.

For 22 minutes the car moves steadily upward 50 to 115 ft. above a world of iced rock and drifted snow. At each of the 10 tram towers an airman reports the position of the car, the condition of the cable and the ice on tha towers and sheaves.

As the car rises the world is lost in a swirling shroud of icy fog. The open car dips and sways as the wind howis around a rock cornice. A rain of ice pellets from the cable sting the cheeks of the riders and covers the steel floor. The passengers are isolated in an opaque world of wind, ice and fog.

The tramway is supplemented by a winding road, hard to keep open in winter. The tramway typifies Tin City, as it does at other radar sites in Alaska periphery, the remote isolation of these men who are "first to know" . . . the unsleeping guardians of the North American continent.

Even at 50 degrees, ice can form in your carburetor and stall your engine. Read how Super Shell's anti-icer helps to fight these mysterious stalls.

How one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fights the mysterious icing stalls that can strike when the temperature is above freezing

Odd as it may sound, you're more likely to need Super Shell's anti-icing ingredient at this time of year than in the middle of winter.

Another odd fact explains why: carburetor icing is most likely to stall your engine when the outside temperature is above freezing—even as high as 50 degrees.

How carburetors can get cold

When air flows into your carburetor, it makes the fuel evaporate. This lowers the temperature inside the carburetor.

To get some idea of what happens when the fuel evaporates, moisten the back of your hand. Notice how the skin suddenly feels quite cool? That's due to the moisture evaporating. The same thing happens inside the carburetor of your car.

Now that you know how carburetors can get cool, it's easy enough to understand how ice can form. Here's the sequence:

1. You can't have ice without having moisture first. When the temperature goes below freezing, there tends to be less moisture in the air. But when it warms up a bit—during the spring, for example—the air can pick up and hold much more moisture.

2. With your engine running, your carburetor takes in great quantities of air. At this time of year, it's very likely to be moisture-laden air.

3. The refrigerating process inside your carburetor can turn that moisture to ice almost instantly.

4. Once that ice sticks to vital carburetor parts and starts to build up to a critical level, you're an A-1 candidate for an icing stall.

How Shell's anti-icer works

Super Shell's anti-icer fights ice buildup in your carburetor by coating vital carburetor parts with a thin protective film. This film helps carburetor surfaces to shrug off the ice before it can build up to a critical level and cause you to stall.

Since you now know the facts on Super Shell's anti-icer, check the box on the right for a capsule report on the other ingredients in today's Super Shell. Then you'll know why it can give top performance all year.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

- #1 is TCP* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
- #4 is gum preventive to help keep carburetors clean inside.
- #5 is Butane for quick starts.
- #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #7 is an "anti-icer" to help check cold-weather stalling.
- #8 is Alkylate to help control "high-speed knock."
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

Farrers Examine School Problem

"Educational goals are more important than school finances, for they determine what such finance is for." That statement and others equally thought-provoking were typical of those heard at a recent hard-hitting farmer-edueator conferenee.

Called by the family Program Division of the Michigan Farm Bureau, the state-wide conference brought together farmers and those primarily interested in education. To quote one speaker, "—We're here to see what we personally can do to improve our schools. Some professional educators have turned to the idea of federal aid simply because they have grown so discouraged about the possibilities of getting real help and understanding from their local people who profess to be great supporters of the local school system, but instead do nothing."

How about these other thought-provokers? "Many Michigan residents are illiterate,—cannot read or write."

"In Detroit, 45% of the students who start the 9th grade, drop out of school before 12th grade eompletion."

"In some blighted aress, a majority of the youngsters who graduate have never earned a dollar in their lives and haven't the slightest idea of how to apply for, or hold a job."

"Is it proper for a teacher to work nine months then rush to the nearest shoe store or grocery to apply for a job for the other three, in competition with his own 10th and 12th grade students?"

"Traditionally, education of youth has been a state and local responsibility. The U.S. Constitution makes no referenee to edueation and the 10th Amendment provides that those powers not delegated to the Federal government shall be retained by the states and the people."

—Although admittedly many of the questions raised were not solved by those attending Farm Bureau's education conferenee, the two days of free-wheeling diseussion by voluntary partiepants disproved the theory that local people are not interested in, or capable of handling, their own school problems.

Techicians Assume Positions at Big Rock Nuclear Power Plant

With the start-up date for the Big Rock Point Nuclear Power Plant less than six months away, more and more members of the permanent operating staff, all specialists in their respective fields, are assuming their positions at the plant located five miles northeast of here on Little Traverse Bay.

Among recent arrivals are Donald E. DeMoor, Instrument and Control Engineer, Thomas G. Bassett, Reactor Engineer, Cyril J. Hartman Jr., Chemical Engineer and Ernest L. Murri, Radiation Protection Engineer. They will compose the technical staff of the plant where Lee M. Hausler is plant superintendent and Russell B. DeWitt is assistant plant superintendent of the $27 million installation being built for Consumers Power Co.

In their respective capacities, they will participate in the preparation of the Big Rock Point Safeguards Report and Operations Manual and will be closely associated with the final stages of reactor construction and equipment acceptance testing as the plant construction nears completion by the Bechtel Corporation of San Francisco, general contractors. They will eventually head a staff of eight technicians who will be associated directly with the nuclear phase of the plant operation.

In preparation for their positions at the nuclear plant here, all four received supplementary training and work experience in their respective fields comparable, in many respects, to that received by Mr. Hausler and Mr. Dewitt.

This has included training at the nuclear power plants of the General Electric Company at Vallecitos and San Jose, Calif., where they received, among other phases of training, a complete review of the Big Rock Point Nuclear Power plant design covered by the design group from General Electric, supplier of the nuclear steam supply system, and the Bechtel Corporation, engineer, architect, and constructor of the Big Rock Point installation.

In addition each received work experience at one or more of the following nuclear power plants: Vallecitos Boiling Water Reactor and Atomic Laboratory, Dresden Nuclear Power Station, Morris, Ill., Yankee Atomic Electric Co. at Rowe, Mass., the General Electric Co. plant at San Jose and Shippingport Atomic Power Plant.

Mr. Hartman, Mr. DeMoor and Mr. Bassett also studied at the University of Michigan where the work, on a post graduate level, covered the salient points of the Post Graduate Nuclear Engineering course leading to an M. S. degree; Mr. Hartman and Mr. DeMoor attended Taft Sanitary Engineering Center at Cincinnati and Mr. Hartman the Tracerlab Inc. at Richmond, Calif.

Mr. DeMoor, instrument and control engineer, studied the electrical engineering curriclum at the University of Michigan before transferring to Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., where he was graduated with a BS degree in Electrical Engineering. He also received a year's specialized training electronic fundementals and radar maintenance while serving with the U.S. Air Force and while studying for his present position with Consumers participated in a Nuclear Seminar conducted by the Westinghouse Electric Co.

He was employed briefly as an engineering aide by Speery Gyroscope before joining Consumers Power Co. in August 1956 as a graduate student-in-training. Later he served as a field teater and assistant engineer before being assigned as instrument and control engineeer at the Big Rock Point Plant.

He and his wife, Carolyn, and their 10 months old daughter, Lynne Marie, reside at 207 Petoskey ave.

Mr. Bassett, who will serve as Reactor Engineer, joined Consumers power Co. in September 1960. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan with a BS degree in Mechanical Engineering.

While studying at the university, he was employed as a junior engineer, on a part-time basis, by the Detroit Edison Co. and, following graduation, was aerodynamics engineer with the Convair Division of the General Dynamic Corp. in Fort Worth, Tex., for four years before returning to Michigan as a research assistant at the Michigan Research Institute at the University of Michigan, a position he held for two years during which he was a staff member at the university's Michigan Memorial Phoenix Laboratory (Ford Reactor). In the latter position he participated in its construction, initial start-up early calibrations and operations of the reactor. From 1957 to 1960 he was project engineer with the Power Reactor Development in Detroit. During this time he served as a consultant on a design problem associated with the University of Missouri Research Reactor project.

Mr. Bassett and his wife, Patricia, are building a new home on the Barnard road overlooking Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix. They have three children, Raymond, 4, Kenneth, 2, and Elizabeth, 1.

Mr. Hartman, Chemical Engineer at Big Rock Point, attended Jackson Junior College and the University of Michigan where he received a BS degree in Chemical Engineering. Following graduation he attended the U.S. Navy Midshipman's School at Cornell University at Ithaca, N.Y., for six months.

He joined Consumers Power Co. as plant laboratory technician at the company's J. C. Weadock Steam Generating plant in 1946. He later served as general engineer assigned to General Office, Electric Production Center, plant laboratory supervisor at the Weadock plant and general engineer assigned to D. E. Karn Steam Generating Plant.

Lend a helping hand to others while disintegrating

It doesn't take a hydrogen bomb to make you fall apart. All it takes is time — age — birthdays. They're all working on you.

When you rent a tool, a floor sander or a gasoline saw, you use it for all it's worth for as long as it's yours. Time is running out with the body you have on loan.

How are you using it? Have you read God's directions to you lately? He gave them to you in the Bible and in His Son, the Word made flesh. The Lutheran Church is explaining these directions in these days of Lent.

The Lenten message tells you what He has done for you: Jesus Christ lived for you and died for you and rose from the dead for you. "Hereby perceive we the love of God, because He laid down His life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren." (I John 3:16)

Best of all, the life and death of Jesus Christ doesn't show you up, it lifts you up. Take His hand and you'll be able to lend a helping hand to others.

C of C Membership Drive to Begin Mon.

Plans for the 1962 Chamber of Commerce membership drive beginning Monday and continuing for one week have been announced by William Carey, Chamber president.

Enrollment of new members to build up the Chamber's present membership of 137 is the primary purpose of the drive which this year will be conducted by the Finance and Membership committee beaded by Miss Katharine Fitch and Robert S. Hamilton.

In enlarging upon his statement, Mr. Carey said that the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce apends approximately $15,000 annually to advertise, exploit and make known the industrial, commercial, recreational, civic and resort advantages of the city and the surrounding area. While this is a substantial sum, it is not nearly enough to cover costs of an extensive promotional program which is necessary to do a more effective job.

With this in mind, it is the Chamber's purpose to solicit every possible source to increase membership subscriptions during the 1962 membership drive, Apr. 23 to 28, to obtain the necessary funds to expand Chamber activities and stimulate business.

Supervisors Adopt Tentative Budget Of $363,293.25

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors adopted a record high tentative budget of $363,293.25 for 1963 before adjourning the 94th annual spring session of the group Saturday following a five-day meeting.

The budget, $67,943 more than the 1962 budget of $295,350, will require a 7.7 mills tax levy on the county's new state equalized valuation of $47,195,986.

The county's valuation has been increased from $40,962,100 last year to $44,842,784 on Jan. 1, 1962, following a tax study by the State Tax Commission. The increase of $2,545,422 since Jan. 1 represents new property in the county, most of which is located in Hayes township where the Big Rock Point Nuclear Power Plant is nearing completion and in Marion township where a new industry has been located.

All taxing units received an increase since last year as the result of the tax study with the exception of Hudson township whose valuation was cut from $1,017,355 to $968,707. (See pg. .... for chart).

Included in the 1963 budget is a general fund deficit of $26,319. 25. Only major appropriation that is new is one for $20,000 earmarked for airport improvement programs in Boyne City, East Jordan, St. James and Charlevoix. The four communities, which support their airports witb tax monies raised within the taxing units wbere the airports are located, have requested county participating in the program to the extent of $80,000 over a four-year perquest is that residents throughout the county utilize the facilities that are now supported only by the communities where the airports are located.

Only sizable appropriations approved at the spring meeting were one for $2,100 for a special deputy and dog warden for the sheriff's department for a six months period effective May 1 and another for $2,490 for repairs at the county jail.

A retirement program for all county employees not covered by such a plan was discussed at length. A proposal to engage a firm to study the cost of such a program in Charlevoix county was approved with each department using funds in its budget to help underwrite the cost of the study.

The board voted to exercise its right to appoint the county road commissioner instead of having him elected by popular vote as has been done in recent years. The action was approved by a 15 to 9 vote with one absent.

Resolutions requesting tbe Michigan Higbway Department to place directional signs at the interseetions of M-75 and US-27 at Gaylord and on US 131 at Elmira directing traffic to communities in Charlevoix county and a second asking the legislature to support an appropriation to the Michigan Conservation Department so that the work of the Fishing Site Division may be continued were approved at the final session of the board Saturday.

Fire Damages Howell L. Parsel Home at Ironton

The Ironton home of Mr. and Mrs. Howell L. Parsel was badly damaged by fire Saturday afternoon while the entire family was away from the house located near the shore of the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix a short distance north of the Ironton ferry.

The fire, discovered and reported by a passerby on M-66, completely gutted the kitchen, utility room snd two ear garage at the back of the house. The living quarters of the comparatively new one-story frame house were damaged by heat fire and water.

After responding to the call, the Charlevoix fire department devoted its efforts to saving the living quarters. They were joined by the East Jordan fire department which was called by another resident of the village.

The fire is believed to have started in a refrigerator stored in the garage. Flames were fanned by a strong west wind. Water was pumped from Lake Charlevoix to fight the blaze.

Besides the furnishings in the gutted rooms, a power mower, bicyeles, tools and other equipment stored in the garage were lost in the fire. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Voters Turn Down Proposed School Merger

The proposed merger of the Central Lake, Ellsworth and Charlevoix school districts was defeated by a decisive margin in a special election held Monday in all three districts.

The proposed consolidation which was listed as Proposition No. 1 on the ballot was voted down by a 1,363 to 325 margin while the second proposal, Proposition No. 2, which would have approved acceptance of the bonded indebtedness of the Ellsworth and Charlevoix district was vetoed by a vote of 1,306 to 322. Only taxpayers could vote on the latter issue.

A breakdown of the election results reveal the following:

	Yes	No
Central Lake
Prop. No. 1	124	296
Prop. No. 2	100	304
Ellsworth
Prop. No. 1	67	308
Prop. No. 2	66	291
Charlevoix
Prop. No. 2	156	711

The consolidation would have resulted in all three districts retaining their elementary schools (K through 8) with the high school students (9 through 12) in the Central Lake and Ellsworth schools being transported to the Charlevoix high school.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

A Prayer As Easter Approaches

O Thou who art God of Eternity
and
God of our quickly passing days,
Help me
To love the everlasting things
and
To make long-term plans
As if I were going to live forever.
But,
May I so conduct myself
as if
This day were to be my last.
Amen.

An open letter to the public:

A great deal of favorable comment has been received regarding the public meeting held Monday, April 9, on the issue of school consolidation. Doing a service for the Community is the principal function of Lions Clubs throughout the world and we appreciate the support and enthusiasm shown by the people in the area. We also wish to publicly thank all the people on the panel who gave so generously of their time, knowledge and patience.

It has been suggested by many people that this type of Open Forum be a continuing service for the Community. It is, without question an interesting, down to earth, "grass Roots" method of discussing issues and bringing out facts. It is understood that a better informed people makes a better Community in which to live, therefore, we will welcome any further comments along this line from the people in Charlevoix.

Do you believe a Public Forum held periodically on controversial issues would be of value to the public? The Lions Club would like to consider such an idea, as a permanent activity, to adopt as part of their Community Services program. It will depend, to a great extent, to public response to this letter. Is such a project worthwhile and would you like to see it continued? Please direct your comments to the Courier or The Charlevoix Lions Club. In your comments you may wish to include some subject matter or issue for debate or discussion, in which case both sides of the issue will be represented, provided it is considered worthwhile and to the public interest. Final determination of all subject matter rests with the Lions' Board of Directors.

In behalf of the Lion's Club, thanks for the opportunity of serving you.

Parents Should Warn Children to Avoid Strangers

Since child molestation complaints increase at this time of year, parents should strongly warn their children against accepting lures of strangers to go for walks or rides, advises Sgt. Glenn Dafoe, commanding officer of the Petoskey post of the Michigan State Police.

This cautionary advice, given now, and occasionally repeated, might prevent some child from suffering an experience which could blight his or her life and even result in injury or death, he emphasized.

Incidents of molestation should be reported to police officials immediately along with as much detail of the molester as possible. These reports will not lead to any embarrassing publicity because the press, radio and televison do not use names of parents or children except when necessary in case of severe emergency.

Fashioned with a fitted bodice scattered with pearls and crystal seqins, the gown featured a bouffant skirt. A pearl crown secured her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white mums and pink roses.

Janice Burns, as maid of honor, wore a light blue ballerina length gown fashioned with a brocaded cummerbund with a bow at the back, matching accessories and a short vell. Her bouquet was of white mums and pink lace.

Carol Davis of Grand Rapids, sister of the bridegroom, as junior bridesmaid, wore a gown and accessories identical to the honor attendant's and carried a similar bouquet.

Sharon Hanson of Grand Rapids, as flower girl, wore a gown identical to the honor attendant's and carried a minature bridal bouquat.

Wayne Davis of Grand Rapids assisted his brother as best man. Forrest Adolphson and Karl VanderLaan, both of Grand Rapids, seated the guests.

A buffet dinner and evening reception followed at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club. Miss Jean Swanson, sister of the bride, assisted by relatives served the dinner in the hall decorated by Mrs. Fritz Allard and Mrs. Donald O'Brien for the occasion. A Grand Rapids Combo played for dancing.

For traveling on their wedding trip, the bride wore a black and white checked dress designed with a bolero jacket and red accessories.

Each one is different. But each one melts.

Every man is different. But every one dies.

Consider yourself. No one is just like you. But you, too, will die. You think that as a man you ought to have more permanence than a snowflake? But every man dies!

Imagine how difficult it would be to keep one snowflake from melting! It should not surprise you to know how difficult it has been for God to save you. And God set out to preserve all mankind from eternal destruction! It is not beyond reason that such a task would cost the life of His own Son.

Nor should God in the flesh, and God on a cross, and God dying, be beyond belief. Would a 16th-century man understand a refrigeration system for preserving a snowflake? You use a refrigerator, even though you may not understand it, because you have found that it works. Millions have found that God's way of saving man works. God has been successful — He gave men life by giving His life.

That's Good Friday's message. Consider it.

Foreign Exchange Students Appear at Rural-Urban Luncheon

More than 90 Charlevoix County Farm Bureau Women and their guests gathered at the Community Church of God Fellowship hall Friday noon for the second annual Rural-Urban luncheon.

Purpose of the event, which is gaining in popularity, it to create a greater understanding between rural and urban women.

Highlight of the program planned by the Charlevoix County Farm Buresu Committee president, Mrs. William Parsons, was the appearance of three foreign exchange students who are spending the school year here and three Charlevoix students who plan to spend the summer in Europe under the Teen-Age Youth for Understanding sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

They were Pertti Salmela of Finland, Ulrich Kallmeyer of Germany and Nynka Bierma of the Netherlands who will complete their studies at the Charlevoix high school in June and James Ferguson, Elaine Martin and Martha Coleman, all juniors at the Charlevoix high school.

James Ferguson served as moderator, introducing the students and himself. He then asked questions of the exchange students dwelling on questions relating to their families, life in their respective countries compared to life here, the school systems and other questions asked most often.

The three visitors, with their charming accents and ways of expressing themselves, captivated the audience who added many questions to those addressed to them by the moderator. The local students then told where they would be spending the summer and all added that they realized their responsibilities a representatives of American youth and pledged themselves to serving as best they could as youthful 'ambassadors".

The appearance of the Charlevoix high school mixed chorus of 70 voices singing three stirring selections of religious and patriotic themes was also enjoyed by those present. The group appeared under the direction of C. A. Odmark with Mrs. Leonard Buens playing the accompaniment.

Mrs. Thomas Wieland, chairman of the five-county district, spoke briefly, outlining the work of the Farm Bureau and the Farm Bureau Women's groups on a county, state and national basis. She also introduced county and district officers who were present.

The meeting opened with the Pledge of Allegiance led by Mrs. Parsons who served as toastmistress.

Farm Bureau women and their guests from throughout the county were present for the luncheon meeting. The luncheon was served by the women of the Community Church of God at tables decorated in a spring motif with sprigs of cedar and pussywillows for the members and their guests.

DOUBLE QUICK—that's what our telephone men are these days, thanks to a new development by the Bell Telepbone Laboratories. The Bell Labs have come up with a new device called a "coil spring eonneetor," making it possible for telephone men to eonneet and disconnect small wires in half the time. It's another example of Bell System teamwork that paid off. Finding better and faster ways of doing everyday telephone jobs like this helps Miehigan Bell keep the cost of your service low, the quality high.

And what hoppier time to get a lovely new extension phone? It puts your eolls close at hand in the bedroom, kitchen, den, or bosement playroom. Think of the steps you'll save—for only pennies a day. And you can choose a style to fit your needs. A lovely PRINCESS phone—little, lovely, with a night light, too. Or a convenient wall phone for busy housewives. Or a desk phone for Dad in the den. All ore available in colors to add springtime sparkle to your home. To order, just call our business office.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS may have been a housewife's dream where the prices of butter and eggs and a lot of household things were concerned, but here's an exception: Long Distance rates actually cost less today than they did then! In 1923, for example, a 3-minute evening station call from Lansing to San Francisco cost $6.40. The charge tonight? Just $1.65, plus tax. It's another way efficiencies in the telephone business make your service a bigger value than ever before.

New Scholarships Offered at NCMC

Six new scholarships have been made available to students at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey for the 1962-63 school year according to Dean A. D. Shankland.

These six are in addition to the 32 already available and listed in the college catalog.

The new scholarships which vary in amounts include the Alvin M. Bentley Foundation Scholarship in the amount of $375 made possible by the Foundation established recently by ex-Congressman Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso. This scholarship is available to any student attending the college.

Two $100 scholarships available to any student from the area enrolled at the college have been made available by Frank M. Erbecker of Grosse Pointe and Arthur K. Rouse of Boyne City. The American Mold Engineering Co. of Charlevoix is making available a $100 scholarship for children of employees of the company. A $100 scholarship has been made available by members of Local 810, UAW-CIO Petoskey, available to a son or daughter of a UAW-CIO member. The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Emmet County Post 2051, has made available a $100 scholarship to be used by a veteran or son or daughter of a veteran residing in Emmet county.

Application blanks for these scholarships, which must be in by Apr. 15, may be obtained at the offices of high school principals in the area or the college office. Scholarships will be awarded by the Scholarship committee at North Central Michigan College. Winners will be announced early in June.

Girl Scouts Plan Four Age Levels In New Program

Names of four age levels within the Girl Scout program to replace the three-level structure in use by the organization since 1938 will become effective in September of 1963, according to Mrs. James W. Gallagher, president of the Charlevoix Girl Scout Council.

Age groupings will include the Brownie Girl Scouts, aged 7 and 8 years; Junior Girl Scouts, aged 9 through 11; Cadette Girl Scouts, age 12 through 15 years and Senior Girl Scouts, aged 15 through 17 years. Until that date, troops will continue in the present pattern of Brownie Scouts, 7 through 9; Intermediate Girl Scouts, 10 through 13 and Senior Girl Scouts, 14 through 17 years.

The new sequence of names has been selected to give the feeling of progression through the entire Girl Scout age range, Mrs. Gallagher explained. "Brownies" is the popular name for the youngest members of the movement throughout the world; "Junior" indicates that the girls are beyond the beginner level and that they may look forward to moving on to more advanced levels in the program; "Cadette" is an adaption of the word 'cadet' used in its historic sense to describe a younger son of a great family. The Cadette Girl Scout as the second oldest daughter or sister in the Girl Scout family is training herself for her future; "Senior" clearly identifies the status of the high school age group as the oldest girl member in Scouting.

The background for program changes was supplied in part by two studies conducted for the Girl Scouts of the U.S. by the Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, from 1955 to 1958. The first study dealt with needs and interests in adolescent girls, both within and outside the Girl Scout organizations, and the second study with attitudes of Girl Scouts and their leaders toward existing programs.

There will be no change in the fundamental elements of the Girl Scout program, which was shown by the University of Michigan study to be vald today as they were 50 years ago. The entire structure will be streamlined, however, and a careful design of progression will be built on the development pattern of girls growing up in the U.S. in the 1960's. A major objective is to make the Girl Scout program of informal education a more effective complement to the present-day school curriclum.

The new age levels will become effective with the simultaneous release of four handbooks for girls in September 1963. Preparations for a smooth transition in the fall of 1963 are already under way in the Charlevoix Council, according to Mrs. Gallagher.

Mrs. Benjamin S. Gill will serve as Program Launching Coordinator for the Charlevoix council. She will coordinate a large-scale effort to explain plans for changes to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the Girl Scout program; to organize troops within the present three age levels in such a way that the change to four levels may be accomplished without confusion; and to train the council's adult volunteers in details of the revised program as soon as information becomes available.

Three Local Youths Recover Airplane Landing Wheel Here

An airplane landing wheel snd strut found on the Lake Michigan beach midway between the plerhesd and North Point by three local youths has been identified as a part of the plane which disappeared on a flight from Monroe to Marquette at holiday time, according to Sheriff Robert White of Leelanau county.

The plane parts were turned over to civilian air authorities from Grand Rapids and Chicago after it was picked up here by a helicopter from the U.S. Coast Guard. Air Station and transported to Traverse City. Three local youths, Greg Seese, Tom Moore and Tom Masley recovered the wheel and strut and turned it over to the Coast Guard here.

Earlier, another wheel and strut section was found in the Christmas Cove area along tha western shore of the Northport peninsula. Since then, many pieces of wreckage including the wings with the plane's registrstion number has been recovered along s mile stretch of beach in the Christmas Cove ares, Sheriff White sald. He added thst the fuselage and motor are still missing.

Authorities are puzzled how the plane wheel and strut section came ashore here, he said, but theorized that it drifted here on an ice floe during the spring breakups and washed asbore this spring.

It will be remembered that the single engine craft, piloted hy Robert Cannon, was lost at holiday time while on the flight which would have taken him over the area where the main wreckage has been recovered. At the time the plane was reported missing, a concentrated search was conducted in the Beaver Island area after island residents reported hearing a craft flying over during a snowstorm.

Plugging Loopholes

At last it has happened. A member of the state legislature has been studying ways to reduce the cost of state government instead of looking for ways to get more taxes out of the people. Senator Lynn O. Francis of Midland has come up with an estimated savings of $131,394,942.

He has covered some 32 departments, bureaus, agencies, etc., that could reduce costs and the amounts that could be saved in each instance. It would appear he has spent more time trying to save the taxpayers money than attempting to wangle out new tax programs for more lavish state spending.

The senator's ten-page report won't be very popular with those who feed at the public trough and his proposals will, no doubt, be unpopular by those who have been beguiled into thinking they are getting something for nothing from the state government. He should, on the other hand, be commended by the taxpayers who foot the bills and they should wholeheartedly support his effort to expose unnecessary state spending.

Possibly if 33 other State Senators and 108 members of the legislature made a closer study of various budgets, the state would be in less financial straights.

Riviving The "Town Meeting"

Have we outgrown the old townmeeting where "the people" aired their views on matters of public concern? I question if we have not outgrown it but possibly we have overlooked its advantages in the recent trend of centralized government.

The Lions Club of Charlevoix recently revived the idea of the town meeting by sponsoring a public meeting to discuss and answer questions, pro and con, relative to the proposed consolidation of the Charlevoix, Ellsworth and Central Lake school districts. The sponsors did a commendable job in conducting the meeting on a non-bias basis. Both pros and cons were represented on the panel to present views and to answer the questions of those who attended.

Regardless of the outcome of the school election last week, both sides had an opportunity to become more informed and weigh the advantages against the disadvantages of consolidation.

All too often voters are indifferent to election issues with the result that a well organized minority group determines the outcome of issues that affect the whole community.

Reading Time, 30 Seconds

We regret to report that progress is not our most important achievement—that is, when it's applied to our growing tax burden.

We've just been in touch with the Tax Foundation, which has come up with some fabulous figures, to wit:

Federal, state and local governments collected nearly $55 billion in taxes in fiscal 1950, the government accounting year ending just before the Korean War.

In fiscal 1962 ending June 30, Tax Foundation estimates total tax collections will reach $143 billion.

On a per family basis, taxes have increased $1,380 to a new high estimated at $2,530 this year.

Thought you'd like to clip this and send to your budget-minded (?) Representatives.

CHS Junior Class to Present Three-Act Comedy May 4

The Junior class of the Charlevoix high school will go western in a big way on Friday, May 4, when a cast of 11 characters, assisted by a major part of the class, both on and off the stage, present the three-act comedy, "Dude Ranch".

The stage of the elementary school auditorium will be converted to a dude ranch for the evening when Sharon Wood welcomes the play-goers at 8 p.m.

The plot of this western comedy revolves around the troubles of Barbara Young, played by Connie Saltonstall, an attractiva eastern girl who visits a dude ranch and, instead of falling in love with a rugged cowboy, loses her heart to a timid tenderfoot, Bertram Weeks, played by Dwight Boss, who is afraid of horses, six-shooters and practically everything.

Complications are created by the fact that Barbara's father, Hubert Young (Carlton Smith) insists upon her marrying a he-man such as the dude ranch foreman, Sam Banks (George Majors) who likes Barbara as much as he despises the tenderfoot. This leads to a fake holdup that turns out to be true and a rattlesnake on the loose in the ranch house.

Henrietta Dudley (Elaine Martin), who runs the dude ranch, and her prospector husband, Jim, (William Dohm) along with their pretty daughter, Sally (Sharon Russell) and handsome cowboy, Bill Hicks (Dennis Bates), who is in love with sally, all do their best to straighten out the tangled romance.

Two other good-to-look-at visitors at the duda ranch,Jane Christian (Marilyn Lesher) and Bessie Palmer (Shirley Stoel) are involved in the fun and help brighten up the stage. The cast is rounded out by Huldah (Linda Neff), the maid of all work who hates all work.

All ends well, of course, but only after the tenderfoot has proved that desert cactus is quite a weapon and that courage is not the monoply of six-footers with six-shooters.

Members of the backstage crew who have been working on the set, the sound effects and the many chores necessary to such a production are expected to join the fun just before the final curtain when they participate in an on-stage square dance which climaxes the presentation.

Among the 'behind the scene' workers are Ruth Ann Miller, student director: Colleen Flanagan and Ruth Schofield, prompters; Diane Uhrick, and Doris McBride, wardrobe; Barbara Schwab, Sue Thorp and Shirley Farkas, makeup; Martha Coleman, set.

Directing the production are Evelyn Leasher, Eleanor Ratigan, H. E. Bingham, Don Carey, S. E. Coleman and Mr. Ratigan.

'Clearing House' Helps Community To Plan Events

Residents of the community who are planning to atage an event of any kind, whether it is a bake sale, dinner or a similar church or club event is asked to clear the date of the event with Mrs. Thomis Maxwell.

Mrs. Maxwell has volunteered her services as a 'clearing house' for such events in order to avoid conflicts in planning community affairs.

Mrs. Maxwell wants it understood that she does not plan the community calendar but merely will inform the organization or group planning a special event whether that date is taken by another group thus eliminating the re-scheduling of an event because of a conflict.

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOLS
MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Present: Lieberman, Martinchck, Martin Dinwiddie, C. Smith, A. Smith, Blanchard, and Bennett, supt. Absent: None.

The meeting was called to order at 8:02 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of March 19 were read and approved.

It was moved by Martin and supported by Dinwiddie that bills in the amount of $2,846.11, payable from General Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 7-0.

Details for the open meeting April 9, sponsored by the Lions Club, to be moderated by Hall Hill of the American Mold Co., were discussed.

It was moved by Al Smith, supported by Martin, that Mrs. Shirley Lusk be appointed to the Board of Election Inspectors to replace Mrs. Henrietta Weisler, and that Mrs. Hazel Matson be appointed an alternate. Carried: 7-0.

Plans were completed for the notices for petitions for nomination of candidates to the Board of Education, to be presented at the Annual Election to be held in June rather than in July as in the past.

Names of several persons as census takers were suggested to Mr. Bennett for the current school census in May.

The suggestion was made that Martin Elzinga be sent to the Bus Maintenance school at Central Michigan University this year, rather than to the school maintenance and bus supervisors school at Michigan State University.

Moved by Al Smith, supported by C. Smith, that $4,000.00 be transferred from the General Fund to the Debt Retirement Fund, 1951 issue, to be repaid from a tax to be levied in 1962. Carried: 7-0.

A bid was received from Raymond Lane for cleaning the windows at the high school, but the decision was made for the regular maintenance crew to perform this task this time.

The budget was discussed, but with the question of a new State Aid Bill and other variable factors, the decision was made to present the tentative budget to the Allocation Board.

Mr. Bennett was urged to continue looking for teacher replacements, and particularly for the kindergarten and 7th grade.

A communication from the Charlevoix Teachers Club was presented, commending their Board for its efforts in the study of the consolidation program.

The meeting adjourned at 9:45 p.m.

STATE GOVERNMENT SPENDING causes a controversy every year without exception.

Every year, also, there are cries to "plug up the spending end of the money barrel and we may not have to add new taxes at the other end."

A proposal which gained little note this year was designed to plug the spending hole in the barrel. It was proposed informally by Sen. Lynn O. Francis, a Republican from Midland, but made little impact, perhaps because of timing.

Francis tried to get attention for his "cut the budget" proposals at the same time a bitter partisan fight on taxes was in the works.

The Midland Senator gave his colleagues suggestions of ways to reduce the state spending by a maximum of $131 million.

Francis said he was serious about all his proposals, although some suggestions drew remarks that he was going to a lot of trouble to be sarcastic.

Ideas which might rate serious consideration in the future involve about $5 million in savings, but budget-writers feel every "little bit" helps.

A $1 million saving could be realized if bookkeeping and accounting systems were improved, Francis said. There are now about 21 separate computer systems in state government for bookkeeping. The Senator said reduction of this to three syatems could do the same job more economically.

An "emergency appropriations commission" within the Legislature has received a $100,000 appropriation each year, but has had no expenditures in the last three years. Dropping this, as Francis recommends, would result only in a "paper saving," however, because this budget item has not been used.

Another $65,000 saving could be accomplished, according to Francis, if the functions of the Civil Defense Department were taken over by existing police agencies. Gov. John B. Swainson also recommended this action.

A 10 per cent increase in college and university fees would result in a $2.5 million saving to the budget if the revenue from the hike were used for rcommended salary increases, Francis said.

Lessened state contributions to various retirement syatems; county contributions to support of patients and inmates in mental hospitals and prisons; and elimination of duplicating efforts in public and private agencies also were suggested in the Francis plan.

MICHIGAN WEEK, the ninth annual "brag week" in the state, will add a new feature this year for the May 20-26 celebration.

In past years, there has been an award for the product which contributed most to making Michigan known throughout the nation.

This year, some community organization will receive an "Achievement of the Year" award.

Organizations of a community nature, serving a town, village, county or larger area, will compete for the prize.

"Many community organizations have made outstanding contributions to the state by attracting new business or industry or otherwise having advanced or improved the area they serve," said Milton Kendrick, chairman of the awards unit of the Michigan Week planning committees.

"It is this kind of community accomplishment which we will recognize in the new award competition," Kendrick said.

Entries in the new contest will compete in the same way products do. They will be judged on a regional basis, with the 16 final regional winners competing for the state prize.

The ground rules for the new contest are broad. They provide that the achievement need not be entirely accomplished in a single year.

Michigan's service clubs, 1,156 at last count, will play an especially active role in Michigan Week this year. The state lists some 400 Lions clubs, 280 Rotary, 210 Kiwanis, 90 Exchange, 80 Optimist, 20 Civian, and 5 Sertoma clubs. There are also five women's service clubs: Zonta and Seroptimist have 20 chapters each; Altrusa has 15; Quota has 12 and Pilot has 5.

Each club was asked by Edwin O. George, a vice president of Detroit Edison and the Week's general chairman, to help find ways to promote the state. He has already received about 30 suggestions which are available to service club chairmen.

TOURIST INTERESTS are up in arms over a proposal by the President to tax pleasure boats to provide revenues for development and purchase of national parks and recreation areas.

The proposed tax would cost Michigan residents an estimated $4 million, according to the Federal authorities.

"Michigan people are even more concerned about the long-range costs such a tax would impose on the state's economy.

Boat registrations in Michigan were the highest in the nation last year as about 430,000 pleasure craft are owned by state residents.

The money spent by these boat owners, and by those coming into the state to use the many inland lakes and Great Lakes connecting waters, is uncountable, but considerable.

Tourist association officials are fairly certain of one thing, however. Such a tax would cut down the spending by boat owners, in addition to its likely impact of decreasing the number of persons who buy boats.

Pfc. Ivan Parsons Gives Account Of U.S. Army Training Program

Pfc. Ivan Parsons, stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., with the 32nd Infantry Division, was at Fort Irwin, Calif., where his unit participated in Exercise Bristle Cone, a training program for U.S. Army and Air Force units in the tactics and techniques of desert warfare and operations. The training featured long range aerial reconaissance, air lift capabilities and offensive and defensilve ground action.

Pfc. Parsons' unit drove from Fort Lewis to California to participate in the exercise. He has written the following account of his experiences to his wife, Rhea, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Parsons.

Enroute we were stranded at Ashland, Ore., because of the anow . . . ate in the town's largest hotel and slept on the floor in the junior high school.

It has been snowing almost continually since we left Fort Lewis and we are now in California and, believe me, it's still snowing though it's not too cold. The convoy made only about 40 miles today and there have been few accidents. We have traveled through the mountains nearly all the way and I do mean big ones.

I can readily see why the lumber industry is this area's leading industry . . . nearly every town since Olympia has been a lumbering town. From where I am sititng (in a 3/4 ton truck) I can see five large aawmills. It is easy to tell where they are located for there is always a big incinerator-type thing with screened top, probably 30 to 40 ft. high, in which they burn sawdust. They smoke day and night.

On the way down we got cold for they had told us not to bring heavy clothes and nothing is heated out here.

But now that we are in California I must say I have quite a different opinion than when I first wrote.

We came down out of the mountains into the Sacremento valley Saturday and I have never, never seen such beautiful country in my whole life. When we came down, the weather cleared up and the thermometer went up to the low 70's . . . quite a change. When we started seeing palm trees which are beautiful some real tall, 60 to 70 ft. and others five to 15 ft. with big tops. Then the wainut and pecan trees which are in full bloom now . . they reminded me some of the cherry trees around Traverse City only around the trees when the nuts fall when they ripen they plant cotton, then when the nuts fall they land on the cotton bushes and it keeps them off the ground and from cracking.

Next we came to the orange trees and they are still different . . . almost a combination of willow and sour cherry trees. The commerical picking is finished so we didn't see the groves with oranges on the trees. However, we did pick some from trees near the armory where we stayed one night.

I think probably the most interesting thing I saw on the entire trip was the acrea and acres of vineyards. I was amazed at the tremendous size of them and how even and straight the rows are. They are check rowed and I don't know how they can do it so perfectly. I ean see that the wine industry is a big one here . . not only wine but grapes, raisins, prunes and many grape extracts and chemicals. I sure would like to come back during the harvest time. There aren't any leaves on the vines yet but it looks as though they are starting to grow again. It looks as though they prune them right down to the main stalk in the fall, then they have short posts 2½ to three ft. high with wire strung down the rows for the vines to grow on. I could see people working in the vineyards . . they looked like Mexicans.

As we proceeded south, around Sacremento, we got into cotton country. There isn't much in the fields this time of year for the crops have been harvested but most of the farmers were working the land and planting. It sure seemed peculiar the way they prepare the fields. They work the fields with little ridges about every 40 to 50 ft. I understand these serve a dual purpose, to help hold the moisture and to give them a place to lay their pipes for the irrigation system. Incidently, you never see wheel tractors out here, just caterpillars.

One thing I forgot . . . the rice paddies which is quite an industry too. They have little canals built all through the fields with banks around them for holdng water. They are now flooded. I understand they are seeded and flooded and then when the rice is ripe, they drain the water off and go in with self-propelled combines on tracks, like caterpillars. We saw them when we first came out of the mountains; they use the mountain streams to flood the paddies.

I also went by some cotton mills where they gin the cotton and process the seeds, oil, etc. I saw the equipment they use to harvest too, self-propelled pickers with big screen boxes. Near the factories they have yards with rows and rows of cotton bales piled up.

After we came back out of the valley and up into the mountains, it was cooler but as we started down again it got hot. We started seeing cactus in the desert which is very dry and rocky although it is beautiful. The hills are all different colors and very rough and rocky. Last night I slept on top of my truck . . no snakes there but windy.

It has been a week since we left Fort Lewis . . . only a week but packed with a life-time of experience. It's been two days since we've had a chance to wash up. We're really playing this game of war. The problem started today and this is some country for war games. You can see for miles and miles in any direction . . . kind of like great flat lands in amongst huge mountains of rocks and bolders which are almost impossible to climb. I will say one thing about it . . . it surely is beautiful but in a desolate way. There is quite a bit of wildlife though I don't know how it survives. There are foxes, coyotes, wolves and , of course, the most pleasant things like rattlesnakes, tranchillas scorpions, gela monsters and sidewinders (poisonous snakes). They are even more plentiful here than at Fort Chaffee, Ark., so I keep my eyes wide open all day and sleep on top of my truck at night.

It is beautiful today . . . the sun is shining and I would say it must be in the 70's although it gets pretty cold at night . . probably in the 40's which seems cold after the heat of the day. At night it is so light because of the sand being so white that everything stands right out. The sky is very clear and the stars seem extra bright and you can often hear coyotes yipping.

The cactus are in bloom now and they sure fascinate me. Some are 12 to 14 ft. tall and have they got pickers! They are razor sharp and from eight to 10 inches long. I don't know where the water comes from but some of the little round ones (two to three feet tall and so big around as a basketball) are just filled with water. They say if you get lost you can stay alive on them . . . drink the water and eat the pulp. There are many kinds of cactus, all very pretty in their own way.

So far it hasn't been too bad . . the wind blew a lot yesterday which makes it kind of nasty because of flying sand. Food has been regular old C rations which aren't very good but you can exist on them. We are awfully short of water but will have enough by rationing. I will miss my thermos bottle which was broken. Water warms up so fast in canteens and jerry cans.

We are up against a Task Force of the First Division from Fort Riley, Kan. Informally they are known as the agressor division or the Big Red One.

We were out most of the night last night and to give you an idea how big this is, our defensive company is holding a line five miles long and last night they pushed us back about 30 miles today and tonight we pushed them back and that's the way it will go until the exercise is over. I may be flying back instead of driving.

A couple jets just came over about 20 ft. from the ground with the sand flying up behind them.

P.S. I drove back . . another 1,000 miles. We are now awaiting orders for our next training phase at Yakima, about 200 miles from here.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, farmers were harvesting badly needed grain for tha Union armies. Michigan was ona of tha Union's important suppliers during the Civil War. And, after tha war, the State's grain farmers found a good market with Michigan's pioneer brewers.

For even then, beer was tha traditional baveraga of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for folks in Michigan and a good living for the many employeas and suppliers of the Brewing industry.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintanance of high standards of quaiity and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Charlevoix High School Band Wins 2nd Rating in State Meet

The Charlevoix high school band directed by C. A. Odmark was awarded a II rating in the State Band and Orchestra Festival held Saturday in Lansing.

While disappointed at not receiving a I rating, Mr. Odmark said he was still pleased with the performance of the 78 young musicians who made up the senior band.

George Waln of Oberlin, Ohio, gave the band a I rating while Harry Begian of Detroit Cass Tech and Laverne Reimer of rating in sightreading from Elmhurst, Ill., gave the group II ratings. This, coupled with a II rating in sight-resding from George Cavender of the University of Michigan gave the Charlevoix group a II rating, defined as an excellent performance in many respects though not worthy of the highest rating because of minor defects in performance. All the judges were complimentary to the group with such comments as "This band has a very good general tone quality and has some outstanding first chair players throughoout the band"; "There is a pleasing richness and blend of sound that I like in your band. Good work, all of you"; The atrong points of this band are basic tone, spirit, attitude and approach to the music at hand".

Only three of the 16 bands which played at the C. W. Otte Junior high achool in Lansing were given 1 division rating and none of these received a unanimous I rating from all four judges.

The band left here early Saturday and on Saturday night stayed at the Capitol Park Motor Hotel where they were housed in the beautiful new motel unit. The group departed for bome at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, arriving here at 6:45 p.m. Chaperoning the group were Mr Odmark, Mrs Ralph McRae and Miss Frances Milner of the local faculty and Louis Edwards who drove his special bus, loaded with instruments and auit-cases. Martin Ehinga and John Martin drove the two school buses used to transport the 76-piece band.

Other area bands which participated in the festival were Boyne City directed by Herbert Parrott, which was also awarded a II division rating and East Jordan, directed by Dwight Smith, participating for the first time in several years, which was awarded a final rating of III.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

Springtime Performance

Now Spring, the lady magician, waves her wand and, presto change, the North—a dead, brown-and-gray thing—leaps to life. Barren limbs of trees and shrubs turn mauve, then yellow-green. Pussy willows emerge to smell the newly thawed earth and to sniff the rain. Waddling woodchucks appear in meadows and fence rows. Wasps waken from winter sleep and crawl slowly about the window panes.

Then Spring suddenly raises her wand and the silent stage throbs and sings. From the gloom of the marsh a glee club of spring peepers break into song, accompanied by the low bass strumming of bullfrogs. Grackles and redwing blackbirds chant a chorus. Rain gently plays its soft percussion rythmns on country ponds and streams and on village rooftops, sidewalks and pavements, and somewhere off-stage thunder-drums roll, abrupt and loud. All this sound has been elicited from wintry silence by the deft wizardry of Dame Spring.

When the act is over entertainer Spring will retire from the stage to her other, favorite, role of mother, to hum soft wind-songs to tender, tiny, new-born, furry and feathery things asleep in her ample lap.

The Sermon: "SUCH A TIME!"

The Reverend Harold E. Kohn, Preaching

If you now regularly attend another church in our town, this notice is but a neighborly greeting and wish that you and your church may prosper. If you do not already have a church home, it is an invitation to attend Charlevoix Congregational Church next Sunday.

Kipke-von Hellens Vows Spoken In First Congregational Church

The First Congregational church was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Bennie Lee Kipke and Second Lieutenant Carl Robert von Hellens, U. S. Air Force.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leonard Kipke and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ilmari von-Hellens of Hamburg, Germany.

Arrangements of white gladioli formed a setting for the double ring service at which the Rev. Harold E. Kohn officiated in the presence of more than 50 guests. Mrs. Jerry Shupert, at the organ, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street length gown of bridal satin for her wedding. Fashioned with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves the gown featured a full skirt. A pearl crown secured her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of orchids and white hyacinth florets.

Mrs. John Gibson of Kalkaska, as her sister's only attendant, wore a gown of apple green and white floral print silk and headdress of the same material. Her bouquet was of white gladioli and hyancinth florets.

Donald J. Bambach of Holland, brother-in-law of the bride, seated the guests.

A reception and luncheon followed at the Grey Gables Inn. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake.

For traveling on their western wedding trip, the bride wore a beige sheath dress and matching jacket and beige accessories and an orchid corsage. After May 10 the couple will be at home at 2511 West Bijou st., Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is also a graduate of Anderson College, Anderson, Ind., with a B.S degree and Richmond Professional Institute, Richmond, Va., with a Master's degree in Social Work. The bridegroom is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va., with a B.S. degree. He is presently stationed at Ent Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colo., with the U. S. Air Force.

Wedding guests were present from Lansing, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Holland, Ottawa, Ont., Can., Kalkaska and Spring Lake.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn F. Carpenter have announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan Paige, to Gary L. Snover, Commissaryman, third class, U.S. Coast Guard.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Snover of Bay City.

A June wedding is being planned.

The bride-elect will be graduated in June from the Ellsworth high school. Mr. Snover, who attended the Bay City schools, is currently serving aboard the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Sundew stationed here.

Charlevoix Bands to Participate In Massed Band Festival

The annual Northern Michigan Massed Band Festival will be held next week with 22 bands participating in sectional festivals at Cheboygan, Boyne City and Gaylord on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, respectively.

The Charlevoix high school senior band will participate in the Gaylord section Thursday rather than the Boyne City festival as was originally planned. The change became necessary due to conflicts of activities, according to C. A. Odmark, director of the local band.

Other bands attending the Gaylord festival will be those from Frankfort, Gaylord, Benzonia, Copemish, Kingsley and Elk Rapids.

The program for all three sections will follow the tradltional format with each band presenting a concert performance including a march and a selection of its choice. Following the concert performance, the bands will participate in a band parade through the business district of the host community. A rehearsal of the massed bands in preparation for the evening massed band concert will follow the parade. The concert by the assembled bands is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in all three communities.

An innovation this year will find the area band directors on the podium during the massed band concert in place of an outside guest conductor. It is felt by the directors of the district that more interest will be shown by the parents and the friends of the participating bands if the area directors were to take turns in directing the massed band.

Area directors will also serve as critics at the three sectional festivals, Calvin Whitmore of Benzonia will serve as guest critic at Cheboygan, Mr. Odmark at Boyne City and Rodney Cumberworth of Traverse City at Gaylord.

The festival is open to the public with a nominal charge being made which will permit attendance at the individual performances of the bands, the massed band rehearsal scheduled for about 4 p.m. and the massed band concert at 7:30 p.m.

The Charlevoix band is expected to present its concert performance at approximatcly 1:30 p.m. Mr. Odmark said he was hopeful that parents and friends would make an effort to attend the festival and hear the truly thrilling sound created by 341 young musicians.

Bands participating in the Cheboygan festival will be Mackinaw City, Rogers City, Onaway, Inland Lakes of Indian River, Cheboygan, Petoskey junior band and Grayling making a total massed band of 292 students.

The Boyne City festival will bring together 432 young musicians from Leland, Central Lake, Mancelona, Harbor Springs, Petoskey Senior, East Jordan, Traverse City, Suttons Bay and the host band.

Total particlpation in the three day festival made necessary because no community has facllities large enough to entertain all 22 bands will be 1061 instrumentalists.

Annual Band Candy Sale In Full Swing

The annual Band Candy sale has been in full swing during the past week with more than 800 pounds being sold to date by the 156 Charlevoix high school senior and reserve band members, according to Jerold Murdick, president of the sponsoring organization, the Charlevoix Band Parents Association.

More than half a ton of Murdick's famous peanut brittle was made especially for the association by Murdick's Candy Kitchen here, packed and wrapped by band members and band mothers and sold by band members.

Only 200 pounds remained to be sold. If you have not purchased your candy, you are asked to contact Mr. Murdick or C. A. Odmark, baad director, who will dispatch salesmen with candy to your home.

The Band Parents organization would like to thank Neff Brothers and Edwards IGA Food mart for furnishing bags; John Rathburn who furnished the special wrappers; the Charlevoix Courier for the publictty so generously given the project and especially Earl Crandall, who, though not a band parent, bas given most generously of his time in assisting Gould Murdick in the candy preparation. Credit is also given the students who volunteered their services. The combined efforts of those people have resulted in a profit of almost $500 which will be used to under write the cost of housing the band during its recent trip to Lansing. Any additional funds will be applied to the Interlochen scholarship fund.

To Stage U.S. Savings Bond Drive Here

The U.S. Treasury will conduct a Freedom Bond Drive in May and June, the first nation-wide drive for Savings Bonds since 1951 during the fight against communist aggression in Korea.

The drive is not due to a lag in bond buying or holding for in 1961 sales were up and redemptions were down, compared to 1960.

The threat to the free world which does not need to be spelled out is the reason for the need for increased sales in order to meet the costs of keeping peace in a way that also braces the nation's economy agsinst the strains that defense puts upon it.

The chairman of the volunteer Savings Bond committee in Charlevoix is Rohert Bridge of the Charlevoix County Sate Bank.

'Money Tree' Gift Bears White Lilacs

When Mr. and Mrs. Walter Henley celebrated their golden anniversary recently they received a 'money' tree, the branch of a lilac tree placed in styrofoam to which money in various denominations was tied.

After picking the orginal 'blossoms' from the tree, Mrs. Henley kept the 'tree' which shortly had real leaves. Last week the 'tree' blossomed again, Mrs. Henley reports, this time with white lilacs.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Doctor visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs John Klooster of Ellsworth.

Charles Kayner of Adrian spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kayner.

Children Assist Sick Neighbor

The concern of neighborhood youngsters for one of their friends resulted late Wednesday afternoon in the finding of Mrs. Lou Comfort who was too ill to reach the telephone to call for assistance.

Rickie Fochtman, his brothers, David and Gerald and Eugene Farkas were playing near the Comfort home when Rickie decided to call on Mrs. Comfort. Upon hearing the child at the door, she called to him, told him she was ill and asked him to get help. Finding the door locked the older boys boosted Eugene, the smallest of the quartet, through the milk chute while Rickie went for his mother, Mrs. Richard Fochtman, who entered the house when Eugene unlocked the door. She summoned Dr. Robert G. Martin who ordered Mrs. Comfort to the hospital via ambulance.

The story has a happy ending for Mrs. Comfort returned home Tuesday. Among her first visitors were her little neighborhood 'children'.

City Ups Budget For Fiscal Year

The Charlevoix city council, at its regular meeting Monday night, adopted a budget of $198,961.80 for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

The new budget is an increase of $7,861 over the 1961-62 budget of $191,100 as adopted, but $43,868 less than the total expenditures of $242,829.49 for the fiscal year which ended Feb. 28. The additional cost of operating the city was underwritten with money from the electric utility fund.

The 1962-63 budget will necessitate an eight mill tax levy on the city's state equalized valuation of $7,801,350 which will raise $62,410.80 toward the budget. A breakdown shows two mills or $15,602.70 will be earmarked for the street district and six mills or $46,808.10 for the general fund.

Last year 17 mills levied on the city's county assessed valuation of $5,260,200 brought in 2.5 mills or $13,150.50 for the street district; 12.18 mills or $64,069.24 for the general fund and 2.32 mills or $12,203.66 for the general obligation bond tax. However, the lotter was placed in the general fund and monies from the electric utility fund used to retire the bonded indebtedness on the light plant.

Estimated revenues from other sources which will be applied to the budget include: property taxes and related items which includes the $62,410.80 mentioned above plus an estimated $1,600 in interest and penalties on taxes and an electric utility contribution in lieu of taxes in the amount of $30,000 for a total of $94,010.80; revenue from other governmental agencies (Motor vehicle, Liquor, Sales, Intangible taxes, trunkline maintenance and Gasoline Tax Refund), $62,950; Public Service Enterprises (golf course, cemetery, docks and airport), $20,400; miscellaneous revenues (business licenses, property and equipment rentals, fire department, street department, parking meter revenues and fines, sale of property, contributions, shuffleboard and skating rinks, etc.) $21,601.

Revenues will be dispersed as follows: contingent fund, $8,175. (This does not include a contribution toward the support of the public library which last year totaled $2,590); Streets, $62,145; Police Department, $22,212; Cemetery, $12,610; City Hall, $4,950; Parks and Recreation, $19,935 which includes a $7,870 appropriation for tennis courts, two slides and two jungle gyms; Fire Department, $12,935; Golf Course, $9,275 including $1,500 for cart racks and furnishings for new clubhouse; City Clerk and Accountant, $3,295; City Treasurer, $2,625; Mayor and Council, $3,450; Health Department, $7,575 which includes $5,000 for new city dump; Airport, $2,575 including $1,500 for 50 per cent of purchase price and installation of homing device; City superintendent, $3,850; Justice Court, $400; Legal, $1,500; Elections, $1,425; Assessor and Board of Review, $1,820; Dock and Harbors, $13,104 including capital outlay for launching ramp and spring pile at commerical dock; Sewers, $900; Skating rink, $2,000; Parking meters, $2,150.

Announce Open House for National Hospital Week

Formal open house at the Charlevoix Hospital is planned for Saturday afternoon between 2 and four o'clock in observanee of National Hospital Week, Miss Ann Baumgardner, superintendent of the hospital has announced. Visitors will be conducted on a tour of the hospital and refreshments will be served.

Purpose of the open house is to acquaint residents of the area with the local facilities available for administering medical care. Few persons fully realize the extent of the medical services provided, although the project has been financed by contributions from area residents and the many persons who have summer homes in the community. Miss Baumgardner believes it would be a gratifying experience to those persons who made the hospital possible, if they would pay a visit and see for themselves what their contributions have meant to the community.

The 44-bed hospital was built at an original cost of $800,000 which included furnishings and essential equipment. Since it was opened to the public Aug. 31, 1954, new equipment has been provided by the Women's Guild of the Charlevoix Hospital and individuals and today the hospital is one of the most modern in a community of this size. See pictures on page 10.

Contributions each year have helped materially in maintaining the high standards of the hospital, according to Miss Baumgardner. Contributions the past year totaled $7,121.06.

Value of the hospital to the community is clearly indicated by the number of patients admitted each year. There were 1189 patients admitted last year and that is close to the yearly average since the hospital was opened.

While the physical assets have been important for good medical care and treatment, there is another factor that lends itself to speedy recovery of patients. Miss Baumgardner has found this in her steadfast objective to maintain a cheerful and comfortable atmosphere. She says it can almost work miracles. It is apparent the entire staff agrees with this philosophy because the Charlevoix Hospital has acquired

Dr. Robt. Tollas Seeks Election To School Board

With the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the Board of the Charlevoix school district only three days away, only one candidate has filed a petition for the two vacancies on the board, it was announced Wednesday.

At noon Wednesday, Dr. Robert C. Tollas, local dentist, was the only prospective candidate who had made known his intentions of seeking election to the school board.

There will be two vacancies to be filled. Both Robert G. Lieberman, who has served as president of the board for two years and Dr. Robert G. Martin who has filled the treasurer's post for the same length of time, have stated that they will not seek re-election to the board after completing four year terms.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions for the June II election is 4 p.m. Saturday. Nominating petitions, which may be obtained at the elementary school office, must have 25 signatures before being filed at the school office or with the secretary of the board, Burr Blanchard.

Other members of the board are Darrell Dinwiddie, Albert H. Smith, Clarence H. Smith and Joseph Martinchek Jr.

City Schedules Public Hearing On Re-Zoning

A hearing regarding the proposed re-zoning of the property located on the northwest corner of Petoskey ave. and Burns st. from Residential II to Commercial II to permit construction of a service station and 50,000 gallon bulk gasoline storage plant will be held at the council room of the City Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 22, preceding the regular meeting of the City Council.

The hearing was scheduled after a representative of the McClanahan Refinery and Norman D. Anee appeared before the council Monday to request the re-zoning of the property, more commonly known as the Washington school property, from Residential II to Commercial II to allow construction of a new service station and bulk storage plant by the Leonard Refinery Co. They also asked that Commercial II be changed to include a bulk plant which has not been permissable under Commercial II in the past.

Unless there are objections to the proposed re-zoning of the property by means of a petition, attendance at the meeting or in a letter addressed to the council it has been the standard procedure in the past to approve the request.

The Council meeting at which the hearing will be held was postponed one day because of Mayors' Exchange Day May 21 when city officials will visit Caro and Charlevoix will host city officials from the Tuscola county community.

Your Hospital

Many of us who have had little or no experience as patients in a hospital might become a little apprehensive if our doctor told us we would have to go to the hospital for a few days of treatment or surgery. If, however, we were more familiar with what the modern hospital could do in the way of medical care and the medical equipment available, we would be more at ease when critical illness or injuries hit close to home.

This is Hospital Week. Purpose, to afford you an opportunity to get acqauinted with the facilities your hospital can offer when you need it. Few, if any, hospitals in communites of our size have a hospital that is better staffed or equipped and our hospital is one of the important assets of our community.

On page 10 is a picture story of what is immediately available, if or when you need it.

It is easy to be awed, and even scared, if as a patient, we are more or less suddenly rushed into an examination room filled with mysterious equipment. During hospital week, we who don't know what it is all about, have an opportunity to visit our hospital and learn what is available to assure the best of medical care in any emergency.

Charlevoix Hospital will have open house Saturday, from 2 to 4 p.m. We admonish you to study the picture story on page 10 and then visit the hospital open house prepared to ask questions, and see, the facilities that have been made available if or when you need them.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

Mystery All Around

Now in early May man becomes somewhat loosened from his bonds of practical needs. He need not struggle nearly so hard to keep himself warm as he must in winter, nor to cool himself as he does in summer. His odd hours are not filled with shovelling snow from walks and driveways. The garden has not yet grown weeds that must be destroyed, and the grass is not tall enough to need cutting. There is more time for leisure-hour contemplation in the out-of-doors than either winter or summer allows.

In May a many can look at and listen to his surroundings and ask the big questions: "What is the meaning of all this? Where does it all come from? What is the purpose of all?" May is misty with mystery.

To saunter through May days without wonder is like walking through an art gallery while looking for lost trinkets on the floor. Beauty is spread all around, but the stroller has no eyes or heart for it. Only a mind that is very much alive, alert, and awe-struck can savor May. The mind that dares to lift its thought far enough to see how much is still unknown, the mind that possesses a central certainty that its own knowledge is scanty, its comprehensions fragmentary and its explanations woefully incomplete—such a mind stands some chance of appreclating the month of May.

The gardener emerging from his back door to take another look at sprouting lettuce and radishes; the fisherman on the stream bank flicking his fly at a likely-looking pool; the stroller in the woods looking for mushrooms, adder-tongues, violets or spring beauties; the city dweller visiting the country, whose body and soul quicken with new life as he lifts his head to the flood of fragrances that sweep across the land in early May—these mingle their souls with what is at the same time near at hand land far away, touchable, but beyond ones grasp, known, and yet never thoroughly known, and in the newness of spring the sensitive soul is likely to be more than ever aware that the exciting, visible world is but sign and symbol of that Invisible Reality that upholds us all.

Jesus spoke admiringly of the attitudes of little children: "Except ye become as a little child, ye cannot enter the Kingdom of Heaven." The Master did not wish His disciples to be infantile or childish, but childlike, having an innocence of heart and an inocence of eye, having hearts and eyes unjaded by over-familiarity with the world and with people and a know-it-all familiarity concerning God. When Jesus spoke of possessing a child's attitude, perhaps he had much else in mind, but this, at least: a child's capacity for awe and wonder.

Childlike wonder is compounded of mental aliveness shown in an absorbing interest in ones surroundings, a penetrating curiosity that persistently asks "Why?", a responsiveness to the world around it and an expectancy of new surprises. Such wonder crowds out seeds of boredom and cynicism that wildly blow about the earth finding fertile soil in disinterested and satisfied souls. So in May the impressionable childlike wanderer in woods and field, by lake and stream, wonderingly draws near his childhood and nearer to the Kingdom, vaguely sensing that springtime is a revelation, a disclosure of beauty and delicacy, of order and progress, of both simplicity and intricacy, of a certain fitness of things, of intelligence and craftsmanship that tell us much about the world and a little about the World-Builder.

An English poet, W. H. Davies, has suggested a good guage for measuring life. He has said "Let us not judge life by the number of breaths taken, but by the number of times the breath is held, or lost, either under a deep emotion, caused by love, or when we stand before an object of interest and beauty."

May you enjoy a breathless month of May!

Firearms Registration?

From time to time, we hear from presumably well-meaning people who ask for a "firearms registration law." This proposal, simply stated, would require the civilian owners of firearms to register them with local law enforcement or other agencies. The usual reason given for compulsory firearms registration is "safety"—and to aid in reducing crimes involving firearms.

There are a number of reasons why we should be strongly opposed to any such law. In the first place, it would not disarm the criminal. The armed criminal is almost invariably illegally armed to begin with (stolen weapons, concealed weapons, etc.).

Even more important is the right of the American citizen to keep and bear arms. The second amendment to the Constitution states: "A well regulated Militia being necessary to the security of a free State the right of the people to keep and bear Arms shall not be infringed."

An important footnote to history is that no dictatorship has ever been imposed on a nation of free men who have not first been required to register their privately owned guns, so they could be seized by the dictatorship.

By the act of registering the firesrms, a written record is made of the owner and the type of weapons he has. He becomes the first target of the dictator. Every modern dictator from Hitler through Castro has used this technique to disarm resistance.

England made an almost fatal mistake by disarming her civilian population 20 years before World War II. Bracing for Hitler's invasion, American civilians answered her urgent pleas with thousands of privately owned firearms loaned or given to the British, giving them and additional line of defense.

The rifle or shotgun is as closely tied to the American farmer and American history as the plow and the axe. Let us learn to use them properly, but let us not give them up.

There might come a time when a well-aimed bullet will be as important as those fired at Concord and Lexington by men who minutes earlier had their hands on the plow.

PITTSBURGH LATEX HOUSE PAINT

FOR WOOD OR MASONRY EXTERIORS

You don't need to wait for siding to be thoroughly dry before painting. New LATEX House Paint goes right on over surfaces dampened by rain or dew.

You'll be surprised how easy this new LATEX handles. No need to brush back and forth—simply flow on paint and brush it just enough to cover with smooth, uniform finish. Repaint within an hour.

And once dry, its hard finish protects your home years longer with a durable shield against unsightly dirt, stains and blisters.

Among the speakers at the all-day workshop were Mrs. Henry Sill of Jackson, president of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries and Mrs. J. L. Loker of Zeeland, president-elect of the organization.

Mrs. Harry Gebeau, district president, presided at the meeting. Others attending were Mrs. Floyd Brown, district president, Mrs. E. K. Shanahan, president of the local Guild, Mrs. Don DeMoor and Mrs. S. E. Coleman.

"Into the World" will be the theme of the convention with programs stressing the importance of the mission of the church in the world as it is expressed through the life of the laity.

Edwin J. Madill Reappointed to Canadian Post

Edwin J. Madill, U.S. Consul and principal officer in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, has been notified that his tour of duty at Calgary has been extended another two years, to bring his potential total to seven.

Mr. Madill is the nephew of Miss Mae Orlowski and son of the late Mrs. Josephine Madill.

A news story in the Calgary Herald and an editoral in the Albertan reveal the esteem the residents of Calgary hold for Mr. Madill.

The Calgary Herald writes in a news story: "This (the news of Mr. Madill's extended tour) is good news for Calgary for in the years since his first appointment Mr. Madill had won admiration and respect for his competent and friendly performance of duty. In fact, the only change in Mr. Madill's status most Calgarians would like to see would be his elevation to consul-general, a rank more consistent with the multitude and complexity of his tasks."

An editorial which appeared in the Albertan also called attention to the extension of his duty. It reads as follows: If one were to look for a Canadian city with a local problem in Canadian-American relations, Calgary would be the logical choise because of the large number of U.S. citizens residing here. That it would, in fact, be an extremely poor choise is due to two factors: the readiness of Americans living among us to join in and contribute to community activities of all sorts and the able manner in which the U.S. is offically represented here by its consul, Mrs. Edwin J. Madill.

There is therefore general satisfaction among Calgarians, regardless of their citizenship, at the announcement that Mr. Madill's term of office has been extended for another two years. The tribute to his efficiency in a post which calls for special personal qualities will be widely endorsed.

Committee reports were also heard during the business meeting.

Clifford Lagerman of Traverse City and Dennis Custer of Battle Creek were guests at the meeting. Group singing directed by Byron Wright with accordion accompaniment by Less Payne concluded the meeting.

INCENTIVE to fishermen! They're there, but where, when and how to get'em. Irv Drost (1) and his fishing companion, John DiMartino of Boyne City, knew the answer last week when they went on a fishing excursion to Grand Marais. They returned with this showy catch of 14 rainbow trout. The largest ones weighed about eight pounds each. The third member of the party, Art George of Petoskey was not present when the picture was taken.

Ham Operator Wins Award From Grand Rapids Radio Club

Courier Photo

Phil Lawrence, widely known ham operator, pictured here in his radio shack where he is looking over some of the QSL cards (see story) which won him a recent award offered hy the Grand Rapids Radio Club. The award, one of many offered to ham operators, is given to any ham who contacts or talks with other hams in 60 or more of Michigan's 83 counties. At the last count, Phil had received 71 QSL cards, had the promise of more and is still working toward the magic number, 83.

A ham, according to the dictionary, is an amateur radio operator.

A more apt description, however, might well be a person interested in people, a person who has, at his fingertips, a ticket to far-away places vis the air-lanes without ever leaving his "shack".

Probably one of the most enthusiastic of these hams in this community is Phil Lawrence, whose delightful English accent and engaging personality have won him a myriad of friends, not only on the airways but at tha Fairport, a haven for boatmen, located on the South shore of Round Lake.

To his unseen friends he is more commonly known as K8CSM, the call letters issued to him by the Federal Communications Commission. It is with these call letters that he must identify himself when he is operating his short wave set from his 'shack', any place where an operator has his radio located. It can be a special room in his home or other building, a place where the simplest of sets is placed in a corner of a room or a special room used only to house the shortwava equipment . At the Fairport it is a completely equipped room on the second floor of the building which houses a boathouse and a residence where Phil and the G. A. Patries make their home.

Ham operators, it seems, always have a special project afoot. Right now Phil is collecting QSL cards from each of Michigan's 83 counties. At the present time he has cards from 71 counties with two others promised and is hopeful that before tha summer boating season starts he'll have the entire 83. A QSL card, to the unitiated, is really a 'receipt' card verifying that an operator has had a chat with another ham. Besides bearing the operator's number it will give other pertinent information such as the time of the chat, the kind of equipment used, the kind of reception experienced. Getting QSL cards from all counties in the state sounds like a simple thing but in some of the more sparsely populated counties there are few operators. Phil explained that there are numerous types of contests. For instance, some operators collect cards from hams in every country on a given continent, or from each of the states. "This sort of thing offers a challenge to the operator and is great fun" Phil said by way of explanation.

He returned recently from Grand Rapids where he attended his first ham convention, a gathering of more than 1500 operators from throughout the state. He said he found it most exciting meeting people with whom he had been talking for years. And, of course, these people greeted each other by use of call letters rather than the conventional use of first or last names.

Being a ham is strictly a hobby with Phil as it is with the more than a quarter of a million operators in this country licensed by the F.C.C. According to Phil, he first became interested in short wave radio while serving in the British Merchant Service more than 25 years ago. The ship's radio operator was from the West Indies and when he was gone from home he always talked with his family over his short-wave set. However, it wasn't until after World War II that Phil did anything about becoming a ham.

A native of London who was reared in Bristol, he came to the United States after having served 10 years in the British Merchant Service. When World War II started he tried to enlist in the U.S. Navy but was turned down so he went across the border and joined the Canadian service. After four years in the Canadian Navy aboard a corvette, minesweeper and frigate in the Atlantic, he returned to Chicago where another friend introduced him to the wonders of shortwave. This time he decided to do something about it and started to study. He later built his own set from parts he'd picked up here and there and still recalls the thrill of talking with new-found friends though his set was a small one snd farthest contact he ever made was Silver City, Ariz.

Phil explained that one must have a shortwave set and must study before applying for a novice license which necessitates a certain amount of theory and the ability to transmit and receive up to five words per minute by Morse Code. After a year an operator must attain a license which means he must have additional knowledge of radio and be able to send and receive up to 14 words per minute.

Though being a ham is only a hobby with most people, it has its serious side too, Phil explained. For instance, there's hardly a week when one doesn't resd about the emergency assistance given by hams everywhere . . . sending a message for assistance in the event of an accident in some isolated area or transmitting messages when all other communications are down. During the hurricanes in Texas last year it was the ham operators who were able to maintain communications when all other means were cut off by the storms; only recently an operator in Virginia picked up an SOS from another ham in South America asking for assistance in obtaining a certain medicine for a critically ill woman in an isolated village. The ham relayed tha message to the Red Cross, which, with the assistance of the commerical airlines and the U.S. Air Force, was able to rush the medicine to the stricken woman; in metropolitan areas hams also assist the police in various ways, especially over busy holidays or weekends; hams, too, have a very important role in all Civil Defense programs. The stories of the services these people offer are countless.

They are also helping in other ways. When it was announced that a Discover rocket would be fired aloft in December for experimental purposes ham operators learned there was a small space aboard the rocket that would be used only for ballast. Thcy asked and received permission to build a short wave radio of a given size and weight to fill the ballast compartment. Thus Project OSCAR, Orbiting Satellite Carrying Amateur Radio, came into being. With parts contributed by hams across the country and others donating more than 40,000 man hours of work to its construction, the radio with a three weeks power supply, was installed in the rocket which was launched in December. For the next few weeks OSCAR beeped out the international code for 'Hi' as it was tracked around the earth. The project, which was accomplished without any cost to the U.S. Space program, made valuable contributions to the fields of communication and science.

As mentioned before, hams have a lingo all their own. For instance, CQ is a general call. If you should hear Phil on the air with such a call it might sound something like this "CQ, CQ this is K8CSM, CQ, CQ". This is an invitation, one might say, for another ham to answer his call. With the assistance of a special dictionary published in five languages, ham operators can carry on a limited conversation despite the fact that they do not understanding each other's languages.

A dyed 'n the wool' operator, Phil spends as much time as ha can on the air but with so much to be done this time of year along the waterfront, he has little time for his hobby. However, early one morning recently, when he couldn't sleep, he went on the air about 3 a.m. to see what was happening and heard a crewman aboard a Texas Tower in the Atlantic talking with his family in the state of Washington. As Phil puts it "You're never alone with a short wave set around".

Hams are not limited to any one class of people. You'll find people in all professions and trades, doctors, lawyers, industrialists, tradesmen of all hinds. Nor are all operators men. More and more of the so-called 'fair sex' are becoming interested in shortwave. Listen in any morning and you'll hear a Y.L. (young lady) or X.Y.L. (married woman) talking with each other on one of the many 'nets' the women have established for themselves, Phil said. More and more young people are also joining the growing number of hams and almost as many girls as boys are earning their licenses.

In Charlevoix as well as in Sheboygan, Wis., before coming here, Phil has been generous with his knowledge, helping people to get started in this hoppy. Here ha has conducted training classes for youngsters and aduits, has assisted many inbuilding their in building their sets and is always willing to share the knowledge he has acquired over the 10 years priod that he has been a ham.

And in casa those call letters, K8CSM, sound familiar it's probably because you've seen them in tha license plate on his car. For only a small additional sum, hams are permitted to have license plates which carry their call letters. This is in recognition for the service they give to their fellow men.

Michigan Mirror

VOTERS PROBABLY WILL elect a Congressman at large in November along with the other state-wide offices.

The Legislature's first attempt to reapportion the state's Congressional districts to create a 19th seat met a veto on the Governor's desk.

Republicans in the Legislature admitted the plan was a "status quo" measure, which would have left most of the districts as they are now. The new district would have created with the southwestern section of Macomb County and the southeast portion of Oakland County.

Gov. John B. Swainson and other Democrats want a general redistricting of the state. Michigan's 12th district, the western section of the Upper Peninsula, is the nation's smallest with 177,431 people, and the 16th district, in Detroit, is the largest in the nation with over 800,000 people.

The Legislature is expected to try again in the remaining three weeks of the session, but it appears doubtful the "old guard" of the GOP ranks will go along with an apportionment plan proposed by Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo.

The Morris plan was tentatively approved by Swainson and other Democrats before it was introduced but met strong Republican opposition because it included a general shift of all districts.

It would appear logical that both parties would be inclined toward settling the redistricting problem before November's election.

The problems of running a state-wide campaign are known only to politicians, perhaps, but the difficulties of being a good representative for some 8 million people should be obvious to all.

If no redistricting plan is approved in time for the fall election, the candidates for the Congressman-at-large seat most likely will fit one of two categories—either someone who has been in the Michigan political spotlight and succeeded, or a relatively new and ambitious individual.

Three persons already are being mentioned as likely candidates for the office.

Secretary of State James M. Hare declines to say whether he is seriously thinking about the position, but Democrats are anxious for him to seek the post. This perennially good vote-getter could very likely beat any opposition.

On the Republican side both a relatively newcomer and a veteran candidate hove indicated some interest in the seat. They are State Rep. Gilbert E. Bursley, Ann Arbor, and Constitutional Convention delegate Alvin Bentley, Owosso.

Bursley, who is concluding his first term in the State House, has had wide and varied experience in government positions although his present post is his first elected office. His activities as chairman of a legislative committee on economic growth have enhanced his position somewhat. The committee has held hearings in every corner of the state.

Bursley openly admits he is interested in running for Congress but apparently he does not want to face a primary fight with 2nd District Rep. George Meader, who also lives in Ann Arbor.

Bentley was unsuccessful in his bid for the U. S. Senate seat held by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara so might not be willing to attempt another state-wide campaign, but he makes no bones about the fact that he wants to stay in public life. He gave up a seat in Congress to make the Senate race in 1960.

THE EARLY MONTHS OF 1962 gave the Michigan Economic Development Department every reason for optimism.

So far this year, the ratio of industries moving in as compared to shifts out of the state is running 6 to 5. Dr. Paul Herbert, chief of the department's research division termed this "a distinct improvement" over the same period last year.

Indications are that the trend noticed in the latter part of 1961 in southeastern Michigan is continuing, Herbert said. The trend showed the Detroit Metropolitan area and the southeastern counties were staging a comeback in industrial location.

The department is planning to emphasize individual community efforts in industrial growth during the entire year, Herbert said.

"Cities and villages that have been doing outstanding work in local industrial development are being singled out for meetings of the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors," he said.

The Ambassadors is a group of nearly 300 businessmen who travel throughout the country promoting the industrial advantage of Michigan communities.

Among the notable local efforts in the limelight recently have been the attempts by Port Huron, Jackson, Detroit and several other cities to get a new district processing center planned for the Midwest by the Federal Internal Revenue Service.

Port Huron is offering a 30-year site where a new building will be constructed and leased to the government for $1 a year. The Jackson Industrial Park officials have offered 15 acres and a building for lease.

Herbert said several other cities have offered free sites in an attempt to secure the 1,400 year-round jobs to be available at the new government office.

Answers to 8 questions on car care that Shell dealers often hear

Shell dealers answer thousands of questions every year. Here are 8 that crop up all the time. The answers have helped many motorists save money. They may do the same for you.

1 What's that funny noise I hear? All cars make some noise. But be particularly alert for any squeals, squeaks, clicks, or rattles that crop up suddenly. Could be anything from a sticking valve lifter to a loose wheel lug. Ask your Shell dealer to help you track down any unusual noise. You may save yourself a big repair bill later on.

2 How can I get more mileage from my tires? Rotate all tires, including the spare, every 6,000 miles. Drive at moderate speeds. Tires can wear twice as fast at 70 miles per hour as at 45. Avoid fast cornering, "jackrabbit" starts, sudden stops. Try not to bang tires against curbs. And check your tire pressure frequently.

3 Do I really need a lube job every thousand miles? Yes—unless you have one of the newer models that doesn't require it. But with any car, remember that frequent lubrication offers your serviceman a chance to spot trouble before it costs you a lot of money. That's why Shell dealers give you a bumper-to-bumper inspection with every Shellubrication.

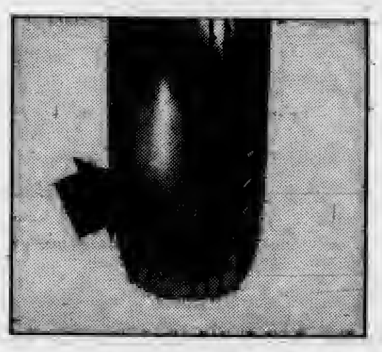
4 Can knock hurt my engine? Usually it's more annoying than harmful. But persistent knocking hampers performance and can lead to engine damage. That's why Shell scientists are such sticklers about knock. They even listen for it with stethoscopes and insist that Super Shell contain no fewer than three knock-fighting ingredients.

5 How can I make my battery last longer? Here are four suggestions: 1. Let your Shell dealer check your car's electrical system. Worn wires and loose connections can drain power. 2. Always maintain battery water to the proper level. 3. Avoid prolonged idling with radio turned on. 4. Go driving! Long drives help charge your battery.

6 What does TCP do? Shell's unique TCP* is a combustion control additive. The hot piston device above shows one way TCP works. The glowing deposit on the left has not been neutralized with TCP. In your engine, glowing deposits can ignite fuel too soon, wasting fuel and power. Deposit on right has been "fireproofed" by TCP. No glow—no power loss.

7 How often should I change oil? The American Petroleum Institute recommends an oil change every 30 days in winter, every 60 days during summer.

Note: New Shell X-100® Premium is the first premium motor oil that leaves no additive ash deposits. It fights four other internal troubles that can shorten engine life.



8 Why do my tires wear out on just one side? Most likely cause: wheels out of alignment. Result: your tires drag against the road and wear unevenly. Unbalanced wheels can also cause uneven wear and make your car shake or shimmy. That's why it's a good idea to keep tires balanced and have wheel alignment checked twice a year.

Now a question for you

Is your car giving you top performance? If there's any doubt in your mind, try a tankful of today's Super Shell. It contains 9 ingredients including a gum preventive; three knock-fighters, "cat-cracked" gasoline, a mileage booster, an anti-icer, quick-starting Butane, and Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

Lip Reading Classes to be Initiated Here

A lip reading class for deaf and hard of hearing individuals will be initiated in Charlevoix next week by Mrs. M. Bethel Clifford of the Michigan Association of Better Hearing following a meeting with District Health personnel here.

The first meeting of the class will be held at the jury room of the County Building from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday, according to Mrs. Jeanne Miles, school and community nurse who is working with Mrs. Clifford in setting up the classes.

All people with hearing handicaps are invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Clifford, who will teach the class, is an example of the results of rehabilitation services for the deaf and the hard of hearing that are available in this class. In fact, the lack of such instruction threatened to bring tragedy to her entire life.

A twin, Mrs. Clifford had difficulty keeping up with her sister. It was not until she was nearing adulthood that the cause of her inability to keep abreast of her twin's progress was discovered. The matchless team for the hard of hearing, lipreading and a hearing aid, brought her back to a normal, busy, productive life.

One of the founders of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing, Mrs. Clifford has served as its president three times and chairman of the Legislative Committee for several years. She is now setting up lipreading classes throughout the state and helping to provide counseling services to persons with hearing difficulties.

Vision Screening Program Offered For Pre-Schoolers

Plans for a pre-school vision screening program for children who will enroll in kindergarten in September of this year and in 1963 have been announced.

The program is being sponsored by the District Dept. No. 3, Charlevoix Lions club and the Charlevoix public schools.

Mrs. Jeanne Miles, school and community nurse, has asked that parents of children in this age group who were not here when the census was taken at this time last year to call LI 7-2071 before May 21 and leave the name of the child. She will then send information to the parents and arrange for an appointment.

Parents of pre-school children are urged to take advantage of this program by calling the Health unit and leaving the name and age of their child if he was not registered at census time last year.

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Sundew which has made Charlevoix its home port since June 1958 has announced plans for an open house with conducted tours through the ship from 1 to 4:30, Saturday. The ship, which has only recently completed work of placing aids to navigation in northern Lake Michigan, Lake Huron and the Straits of Mackinac, will be moored at the municipal dock during the day.

The observance will open with a luncheon for Mayor E. D. Hawley and city officials hosted by Lt. Comdr. William Richards, skipper of the ship, his officers and crew at 12 noon Saturday.

The Officers and crew of the 180 ft. bouy tender have issued an invitation to residents of the area to tour the ship during the afternoon.

In anouncing the plans, Chief Norton said that this would give the public its last opportunity to tour the lifeboat station which has been in use since 1890 and which will be abandoned later this summer when the new Charlevoix Lifeboat Station, now nearing completion, is occupied.

Registration for Pre-Schoolers Begins May 25

Friday, May 25, has been designated as enrolment day for children of the Charlevoix school district who will enter the kindergarten in September, Glenn B. Snider, Charlevoix elementsry school principal, has announced.

Parents of children whose surname (last name) begins with any letter from A through M are asked to register the pre-schoolers between 9 and 11 a.m. on that date.

Children whose surmame begins with any letter from N through Z must be registered between 1 and 3 p.m. Friday, May 25.

Parents are asked to bring the child's birth certificate and immunization record.

The 1960 Michigan Immunization Law requires a record of vaccinations, triple shots and Saik (polio) shots, signed by a doctor, which will become a part of the child's health record at enrollment time.

To be eligible for kindergarten in the fall, a child must be five years of age by Dec. 1.

Mrs. Jeanne Miles, school and community nurse, will be present to confer with parents and begin the School Health Record.

Because of the large enrollment in the present kindergarten, which has now reached a record high of 110 pupils, kindergarten visiting day will not be held this year.

All parents whose children will be enrolled in kindergarten next fall are urged to register the children on Friday. There will be no school for kindergarteners on this day to permit registration of new students.

Editors Views On Government

"Keep government out of education . . . Keep presidential power to a minimum . . Get out of socialism!"

That sums up the views of an overwhelming majority of the editors of the nation's smaller newspapers, as revealed in a survey recently conducted by The American Press. Typical of the general antipathy of editors toward the whole idea of "welfarism" is perhaps best exemplified in the matter of proposals to increase social security payments to help provide for the hospital needs of people over 65 years of age. Seventy-eight per cent of the editors were opposed to further government intervention. By contrast, 84 per cent of the editors expressed preference for a voluntary non-government plan to meet the medical needs of the aged—such as is now being completed by independent groups and the American Medical association.

Judging by the comments of many of the editors as quoted by American Press, expansion of government in the medical care field was opposed for the same reason that editors oppose government interference in other fields—a deep and abiding fear of big government and socialism.

Editors are a highly individualistic lot. The fact that they are near-unanimous in opposition to government medicine, is reason enough to take another look at this particular bureaucratic pill before swallowing it.

President Wagner of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States is critical of employers who pay lip service to hiring qualified handicapped persons and don't follow through. In his words, "Mere acceptance of the idea that handicapped persons can make good employees is a long way removed from actually hiring them. And the boss who says that they should be hired but does nothing to make sure that employment opportunities are available to them, falls short of doing a good job."

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

The Universe Goes on its Mighty Way

Man has run and stumbled pell-mell toward "progress, scratching the earth with hoe and bulldozer, defiling the atmosphere with smoking campfires, beleching chimnies and bursting superbombs, but still the universe moves on, undiscouraged, as May days joyfully testify.

Yesterday afternoon, for the briefest spell of a moment, two bits of bright orange flame illumined our streamside briches. The tiny bonfires were born on the breasts of Baltimore orioles that yearly visit these acres, search for a home-site, and build their swinging, pendant nest from the limberest of limbs where woods winds can lullaby their young. Orioles likely darted among Hidden Brook trees before the first atom bomb fell upon Japan, before the cry went up from American throats, "Remember the Maine," before the Revolutionary battles of Lexington and Concord, before the white man landed on these shores, before Christ was born or Moses descended Mount Sinai with sacred tablets of stone.

This morning our shower-swollen stream changes past my study window, unmindful of me. If I should cast a fly upon its waters, hoping to lure a wily trout, the stream would dimple in fleeting acknowledgment, then erase the mark and hurry on its tumbling way toward the nearby lake, singing of timeless things as if this creature of time did not exist.

May reminds us that the universe goes on its mighty way without significant interruptions. Earth's prodigious labor of pushing up plants is never frustrated by strikes, when the soil sulks, or when butterflies, birds and bees tire of slaving for the flowers and demand higher pay and shorter working hours. Management is liberal, bestowing side benefits in generous profusion: ideal working conditions in the best of all possible worlds, bounteous bonuses of nectar and morning dew, musical accompaniment of woodthrush song, and silvery trinkle of shower-filled stream, the fragrance of cool, forest-flavored air and the easy-on-the-eyes lighting of blue May skies sifted through the silver-green of leafing trees.

Labor—Management relationships are excellent between Earth and Owner. I pray they'll improve between Man and Maker, so that this little Earth, as well as the immense Universe, can go on its way.

Voice of our readers

Mr. HAROLD M. TOTTEN,
Editor Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan

During the time the Constitutional Convention was in session, I have tried to give you, and through you, the people of Charlevoix, some idea and report of what was being accomplished.

Today, May 10, we are about to conclude our labors and make our presentation to the people of the State of Michigan for approval or disapproval. It will be up to them to make the final judgement as to our adequacy in this task.

While there are some features that are contrary to my firm and deep convictions, it is today too early for me to make an objective evaluation. I plan, during the next few days, carefully to read and re-read our new document to the end that I can discuss with anyone knowingly of its many features. I feel that the election on this issue is the most important one of our lives.

The formal work of the Convention is being concluded, however, I feel it is but the end of the first half of the responsibility I accepted when I was elected to be a delegate. The second half consists of the report I must make. It is my hope that everyone, every group, every organization in the district will feel completely free to talk with me about this, to ask me to appear and address meetings called for the purpose.

Sincerely,
Edward K. Shanahan

Proposition Two: Number of votes cast 878; in Favor-156; Against-711; Spoiled ballots-11. On motion of A. SPEAKING OF

Medical Aid to the Aged

Do you know . . . that we already have medical Aid to the aged under the Kerr-Mills Law –

The Kerr-Mills Law was passed by the Congress last year and provides hospital AND MEDICAL SERVICES at no cost to people over 65 in Michigan who Need help. This law (administered by the State) deserves continued support and Improved implementation by our State officials because it covers both those on social Security and those in welfare status.

Without Even Giving the Kerr-Mills Law a Fair Chance in America, the Federal Administration and some Members of the Congress Urge Passage of a New Law, the King-Anderson Bill, In this Session of Congress.

Here Are Important Facts About The Administration Proposed King-Anderson Bill To Supply Medical Aid To The Aged In The Name Of Social Security . . . .

The King-Anderson Bill Is Not

IT IS NOT FREEDOM OF CHOICE—The hospital or nursing facility must be one approved by a Washington official.

IT IS NOT INSURANCE—It is a tax supported health plan (U.S. Supreme Court Decision).

IT IS NOT FREE—It taxes the lower income groups in ever increasing amounts. Salaries at $4800-5000 bear the largest increases already scheduled through 1968.

IT IS NOT MEDICAL CARE—In that it does not cover your regular doctor bill (family doctor, surgeon, etc.)

IT IS NOT EVEN HOSPITAL SERVICE—For millions of Americans over 65 not covered by Social Security.

IT IS NOT REALISTIC—9,000,000 Americans over 65 already have some form of health insurance.

The King-Anderson Bill Is

IT IS A plan which costs each beneficiary $10 a day for the first 9 days of each hospitalization with $20 minimum.

IT IS A plan which costs each outpatient beneficiary $20 for each complete diagnostic study (at a Government approved hospital).

IT IS A partly free hospital service to all over 65 covered by Social Security, many of whom are well off financially.

IT IS A bill being represented by a national opinion pool in America as "Medical Insurance" under Social Security and favored by a majority. This has been called "an exercise in deception.

IT IS compulsory socialized medicine for that part of the population covered. The Socialist Party itself calls this Socialized medicine.

IS THIS WHAT YOU REALLY WANT?

YOUR DOCTOR WANTS THE BEST HEALTH CARE FOR ALL PERSONS REGARDLESS OF AGE, BASED UPON THE NEED, WITHOUT GOVERNMENT COMPULSION

We Challenge Those in Favor of the King-Anderson Bill to Deny the Truth of the Above Statements.

We Urge All Americans who want to preserve freedom and freedom of enterprise in America to write their congressman in opposition to the King-Anderson Bill and any other proposals which would socialize any group or groups of Americans.

County Boat Registrations Show Increase

Charlevoix county boat registrations showed a marked increase over last year, figures released by the Michigan Department of State reveal.

The county now has 1,935 registered motorboats, an increase of 446 over the previous year's total.

Many new applications are expected when the boating season gets underway later this spring. New boat owners are urged to register as soon as possible in order to avoid the June rush period.

Purchasers of old or new watercraft can obtain boat registration application forms at most marinas, water sports abops, sheriffs' offices and branches of State. The current license, good the Michigan Department of until Dec. 31, 1962, costs $2.00.

Under recentiy enacted Federal and State laws, a 50-atate uniform registry plan was established under which each state retained the authority and responsibility for the registration of all boats using its waters.

To conform with a nationwide system set by Federal regulations, registered motorboats are numbered in sequence of two letters, four numbers and then two letters, such as MC-1234-AA. MC is the Federal designation for Michigan and the numbers and final letters are the boat'a number.

In Charlevoix, applications may be obtained at the Sheriff'a office and at the Department of State Branch offiee managed by George A. LaBiance. The licenses may also be obtained at the latter office.

An Edlson Electric Institute spokesman, in a report dellvered to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, says that seven investor-owned nuclear electric power plants will begin operation this year. That will bring to 12 the number of such projects in which the investor-owned utilities are particlpating.

By LES JOHNSON, Manager

NEXT WEEK IS MICHIGAN WEEK—May 20-26. What better time for each of us to learn more about our great atate? Here are a few facts we thought you might find interesting:

"INDUSTRIALLY YOURS" would make an appropriate sign-off for a letter to an out-of-state friend. Nearly all the different types of industrial operations in the country can be found right here in Michigan. Close cooperstion among industry, our more than 200 industrial research laboratories, and our outstanding educational institutions has been a key factor in developing this industrial diversification. Working together, they continually explore new products, new ideas and new techniques—providing new opportunities for us all.

"SELF-SUFFICIENT" is the word for Michigan in food production. When it comes to variety of farm products, we're second in the nation. We're first in the production of navy beans, pie cherries and cucumbers for pickling. Michigan's modern farmers are busy farmers; more than 45% of our land area is agricultural. And agriculture is a big factor in Michigan'a expanding economy. Our state'a annual farm income is currently more than $750 million!

MICHIGAN IS VACATIONLAND—year round. Our many resort and sport attractions make Michigan one of the leading vacation areas in the nation. There's something for everybody's vacation fun here: water sports at our 11,037 inland and four bordering Great Lakes, snowtime fun at our more than 80 winter sports centers . . . not to mention hunting and fishing, for which we issue more licenses than any other atate. More than $650 million was apent last year in our tourist, resort and travel business, and the figures ahould grow in the future.

KEEPING UP WITH OUR GROWING STATE'S communications needs—in industry, for the farm and home, and for our busy tourist trade—keeps us busy at the telephone company, too. But we're proud to have a part in helping our atate grow even stronger, as Michigan Marches Forward.

Michigan Mirror

One million Michigan citizens without legal library facilities seems unbelievable to those who take such service for granted. But figures released by Miss Genevieve M. Casey, state librarian, indicated that this is the fact.

At least two counties, Montmorency and Luce, offer no library service at all. There is only one in Ogemaw Co. It is at West Branch, but leaves 7,650 people without service. Oceane County provides service for 6,000, but leeves 10,000 without any.

Metropolitan areas are also lacking. In populous Oakland County, the 25,000 residents of Bloomfield Hills have no legal access to a library. The 6,454 people in Novi Township are served to e limited extent by a volunteer group.

The 47,107 residents of Waterford Township also have volunteer library service, but 19,058 citizens of Troy have none.

Solutions to these situations will be sought in a meeting of interested people Sept. 19 at Lansing's Civic Center. This will be Michigan's first Governor's Conference on Libraries.

Some 800 people are expected to attend. According to Miss Casey, a special effort will be made to invite "laymen" as opposed to "professional librarians." These people will come from as wide as possible a cross-section of the state.

The hope is that an increasing awereness of the present library role as well as its potentiel can be developed; that individual or regional action can be stimulated to improve the situation.

Librarians can see how much more efficient use can be made of existing facilities and certain duplicetion can be elimeted while expanding service to a growing number of Michigan residents.

This can be done by organizing locel libraries to handle popular and frequently needed publications. They will work with regional centers where non-fiction, more technical information and data can be "wholesaled" to local points eccording to request. Regions, in turn, will work with the state library and those leading universities to provide the most technical information which is very important to a smaller segment of the population.

The basic idea, as one librarian expressed it, is to get more value for the library dollar.

WHAT HAPPENED.. IN SCHOOL BOND issues in recent years will be studied in e new project of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. Department spokesmen indicete there is no complete and accurate wey to know what percentage of local bond issues passed or failed and consequently, no wey to evaluete the factors involved in the outcome.

The report is expected to provide a better understanding of voter temperament and gulde schooi people in presenting propositions which have e better chance of passing.

Time of year is important, eccording to a hunch of one man working on the study. At first glance, a higher percentage of bond issues proposed in November and December pass than et other times. The hunch is thet the Christmas spirit prevails. September seems not too good, beceuse there is sometimes much uneasiness ebout youngsters getting beck to school.

It takes e few weeks for things to "settle". Income tax time is also e bad psychological time to propose bond issues, the study suggests, and for obvious reasons.

School issues failed in more than half the elections held in 1960-61, according to the Michigan Educetion Associetion, which now keeps close watch on such events.

MEA says thet the type of bond issue which gets most frequent approval is for millege to repay bonds issued for construction. The most frequent use of voted millage for operetions is in the Upper Peninsula and in metropolitan counties in the southeast part of our stete.

ACHIEVEMENTS IN SCIENCE and technology will be pointed up this year as part of the annual Michigan Week under direction of e stete expert in the field.

Dr. James T. Wilson, head of the Institute of Science and Technology et the University of Michigan, will ettempt to help communities throughout the stete focus ettention on this field of the state's economy.

The Greater Michigan Foundation, sponsors of the ennual event, recently published a handbook which depicts some of the factors which make science and technology important to Michigan's economy.

More than $600 million was spent in Michigan during 1961 for research and development progems. This is one of the outstanding "brag fects" in the book.

Contributions to these areas of economic growth also were outstanding from the state's colleges and universities; General Motors Corporation; the Burroughs Corporation; Parke Davis & Co.; Consumers Power Company; the Detroit Edison Company; and many other government and private orgenizations. All but a fraction of university research is financed by privete firms, foundations or the federal government.

Michigan State University, for exampie, had 1,628 research projects under wey during the year. They ranged from studies of the workings of e cyclotron to research on a pickle picker.

At the University of Michigan, research costing an estimated $30 million was aimed et eccumuletion of knowledge ebout space ships as well as the working of men's minds.

The Farmers' Image

"All bankers are rich and work just e fcw hours each week."—"Lawyers are slick charecters, and heve to be wetched"—"Editors wear green eye-shades and drink whiskey constantly." "Manufacturers exploit labor end are rich."

Such silly statements are obvious for what they are—irresponsible and not at all founded on fect. Unfortunetely, much of the "public has odd ideas ebout the kind of people thet compose an industry or make up a profession.

Farmers, for instance.

"Farmers are characters, surrounded by (e) kids, (b) hogs, end (c) dense clouds of hypocrisy as they hold out their hands for the latest government check meanwhile loudly protesting their loss of freedom,,.

Incidentally, they alweys wear strew hets, alweys stand on street corners with hands tucked into the bibs of loose fitting overells, and epparently eat nothing but straw which they chew constantly.

Ridiculous?—Of course. But good or bed, true or false, every industry projects an "image." Unfortunetely, even though farmers and their friends have done much to correct the image of egriculture, there are still those who think in picturesque characterizations.

Or perhaps worse, they picture farmers as leeding a Baronlel easy-life, filled with vast herds and rolling acres in a sort of perpetual Dude-Ranch existence fully es false as the conccpt of the banker.

First and foremost, farmers ere independent businessmen. They insist on running their own farms, and remaining "boss" of their own land. But is thet really different from other businessmen?—And how much distortion is deliberately created by those who went to fence farmers into government control schemes?

As another "Michigan Week" rolls around, we should look for similarities instead of differences . . . and ignore "images" thet cetalogue people and professions falsely.

Mio to be Site Of Annual Boy Scout Camporee

Mio, a small community in Oscoda county, will be host this year to the annual Boy Scout Camporee sponsored by the Scenic Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The camporee, whose theme this year will be "Fun and Fitness", will be held the last weekend this month, May 25, 26 and 27.

More than 1,600 Boy Scouts and adult leaders from 18 northern Michigan counties are expected to gather for the event at which the boys will test their skills in such events as log sawing, wood-chopping, tent pitching, rope climbing, knot tying and rugged obstacle courses. In addition, they will try their hand at wilderness cooking, emergency equipment preparation, basketry and improvised equipment from raw materials.

During the three-day camporee which will begin with registration at 4 p.m. Friday, May 25, the Scouts will live in tents, prepare their own food over open fries, care for their camp sites and enjoy fun and fellowship.

Patrols will engage in events and will be judged on their ability to meet given standards. All may win top ribbons if their performances meet the standards.

Church services will be held in the field for all faiths; a trading post and scout distributor will be on the grounds to supply food and scouting equipment.

A campfire program complete with Indian dancing, canoe races, a "Junior Olympics" for Explorer Scouts and a fishing contest will be among the altivities planned for the weekend.

Th camporee is the only event in which all troops and Explorer units of the council get together. Parents and friends are urged to come to the Camporee site and see the Scouts in action.

The camporee will close at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, May 27.

Some of us expect respect from our grand children, but we are fortunate if we are even noticed when other kids are in the room. I.T.M.

Lions Club Broom Sale Starts Today

The city and surrounding area will be cleaned up in a big way during the annual Clean-up week if the members of the Charlevoix Lions club have anything to say about it.

To see that the job is done properly, the service club is sponsoring a broom sale beginning today (Thursday) when members will canvass the community, selling the brooms which have been made by the blind.

Mr. Ance, as city attorney, prepared the rezoning resolution, as requested by the city superintendent, following an application for re-zoning the property by the owner. This is the usual procedure. The city attorney cannot represent an applicant in such cases.

Dumping the Dump

Finally a logical program has been worked out that can mean the end of the present unsightly, odorous and unsanitary city dump. To replace it, the city proposes a sanitary land-fill for the disposal of waste in a manner that should not be offensive to even a neighboring property owner.

Briefly here is how the sanitary land-fill is operated. First a deep trench or pit is excavated. A layer of rubbish and trash is placed in the pit and then crushed and packed by a crawler-type tractor. The rubbish is then covered with earth and packed again. The routine is repeated until the trench or pit is filled, thus eliminating offensive odors and an unsightly area.

Land-fill disposals are operated on a controlled basis. Under the proposed program the area would be enclosed and open only at regular hours for disposal of waste. There would be restrictions on certain types of rubbish and no burning would be permitted.

There is every reason to believe a sanitary land-fill of this type, under controlled management, can provide a waste disposal so desperately needed by the entire community and at the same time not be offensive to the sight and nose.

The Other Side

Washington correspondents tell us that this Administration will use all of its formidable resources in attempting to persuade Congress to pass the bill which would provide medical services to everyone drawing social benefits.

The Administration is entitled to this welfare state idea, but the arguments against it are many and compelling. For instance:

It is based on the principle of compulsion. All concerned would have to pay whether they wanted to or not—and the already high social security tax would rise sharply.

It pays small attention to the vital element of need. While people of wealth can, and do draw social security payments it would leave out in the cold the millions of elderly people who are not within the social security system, and many of whom are genuinely needy.

Other, and more sound tools, have been provided to deal with the problem of medical aid to the elderly. The Kerr-Mills bill—which establishes a state-federal system of help for the needy, with strong emphasis on local administration where administration belongs—is one. And now, a jointly sponsored plan by the American Medical Association and the Blue Shield organizations, soon to come into effect, will provide the low-income elderly with a wide range of medical services at extremely moderate cost.

Finally—and perhaps most important—if the government is to provide, on a compulsory tax basis, medical services for one age group, why shouldn't it do the same for other groups? The end of this road is clear as crystal—socialized medicine. This has cost Britain and other countries heavily, and has inevitably reduced standards of medical care.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

Where the Waters Are Disturbed

From my study window I look out upon the unceasing flow of my favorite stream, Woods' Creek, colored with sun and shadow, winding its way from nearby springs to neighboring Lake Charlevoix. Upstream a few yards from the house the brook gently glides through deep, green, spruce-shaded sliences. Directly in front of the window that illumines my desk the solemn stream suddenly breaks into silvery laughter as it plays mischievously with logs, stones and broken branches and then joyfully skips into a tree-rimmed opening where today it is greeted with fair skies. A few feet downstream the water abruptly becomes serious again, dropping its playthings, forming a tranquil, dreamy pool, perfectly reflecting the unmarred images of birches that grace the grassy bank. So the stream moves on toward its rendezvous with yonder lake, slipping through windrippled glades, dancing past sun-soaked meadows, frolicking lightheartedly in the light, sulking in the shadows.

If one wishes to probe the secrets of a stream like ours, searching for the multitude of living things that inhabit shadow-haunted depths and mystery-patterned bottoms for darters and daphnia, crayfish and crustacea, brook trout and bryozoa, the best results are to be found where the waters are most disturbed. Life is most plentiful and most vital not in the reposeful silences of still, dark pools nor in the peaceful, dreamy shadows where the stream moves slowly under protective, overhanging banks, nor in quiet, sunlit stretches of the mirror-surfaced brook where idle clouds leisurely swim on bright springtime afternoons, but in the troubled turbulences. The reason this is so? Where water is most highly agitated it becomes well supplied with oxygen—a basic necessity for the sustenance of all life. While forests, farms and swamps contribute generous supplies of decomposing vegetation to the streams, adding accumulations of poisoning carbon dioxide and reducing the proportions of oxygen in the water, turbulences caused by water dashing against rocks and dropping over falls replenish supplies of oxygen and makes streams habitable. Scientific experts who deal with water and its properties and effects say that swift water swirling among stones, dashing over logs, and cascading down waterfalls, is filled with healthy oxygen because the turbulence creates a vital contact between water and atmosphere. While still, stagnate water may be cursed with a deficiency or an excess of certain atmospheric gases, rapid, agitated, disturbed water churns into itself the atmosphere that floats just above it.

Life's turbulence, rightly used, does a similiar thing for us: it mixes Heaven into our human situation in a way that peaceful days can never do. Obstacles to our comfort, hindrances to our hopes, distresses, afflictions, misfortunes, griefs—like boulders in a brook—create the kind of disturbance that can churn the Above into the Below, the Spirit of God into the spirit of man.

James Barrie told of his mother suffering cruelly from the death of her eldest son: "She came back to her desolate home and bowed herself before God. But she never recovered from the blow . . . . That is how my mother got her soft face . . . and her pathetic ways, and her large charities, and how other mothers ran to her when they had lost a child." So trouble, gloriously used, benefits the soul.

It is not by accident that man's profound thoughts have come through disaster rather than through prosperity, that the noblest expressions of the ancient Hebrews were uttered during the Babylonian captivity rather than when they were triumphantly expanding the borders of their kingdom, that the most sublime words spoken in America were voiced during the agonizing violence of the Civil War, and not during one of America's great, gratifying economic flourishes. Prolonged success, comfort and pleasure usually stagnate us and fill us with self-poisoning self-centeredness, self-sufficiency and self-content. Troublesome tumult reveals our need. It breaks up our earthly sophistication so that Heaven's answer can be joined to earth's central questions, and Heaven's rich grace can be stirred into our deep spiritual destitution.

Just above our need hovers God's great readiness to help us, like the atmosphere lingering above a flowing stream. It sometimes takes the dashing of our souls against some dread obstructions to let the divine resources mingle with our human weakness so that our sluggish souls can be refreshed and nearly suffocated graces can be revived and begin to thrive and grow within us.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

To the Editor:

Every year for over 20 years, Mr. and Mrs. Mrzowski traveled to Charlevoix because they loved the north country and Charlevoix.

Last year Mr. Mrzowski died but Mrs. Mrzowski made the trip alone. Her summer home is one of the beauty spots of Boulder Park.

Every day, should one drive along Lake Michigan, it is a delight to see the lovely, spry woman in her 70's working in her garden, a vital part of the natural beauty she strives so hard to create.

But just as there are people in this world who love beauty and create a world of beauty in the things they touch, there are others who seek to destroy it.

Hunters (some say boys) shoot up her cottage every year. Bullets through her window lodged in her mattress. Her TV antenna is shot up and put out of commission. This year boys broke into her cottage and stole her property. The young men who broke in were caught, we understand, but no one has ever been considerate enough to think of replacing the property that was stolen or damaged.

In this busy world, is there not time enough to instill in our youngsters a sense of values and fair play?

If it is no longer meaningful to teach our youngsters to love one's neighbor, and respect his right to live peacefully and secure, then should we not at least teach them not to destroy?

And should our children destroy that which is not theirs, should they not be taught to repair the damage they have done?

Approve Bonding For New School

The Municipal Finance Comission has approved $35,000.00 of school building bonds for School District No. 4 (Ironton school), Eveline township, Attorney General Frank J. Kelly, chairman of the commission announced yesterday. The proceeds from the bonds issue will be used to erect, furnish and equip a new school.

These are limited tax bonds and are payable from a seven mill increase to run 11 years from 1962 to 1972 authorized by the electors of the school district on Jan. 30, 1962.

Directors of the school met Wednesday morning to discuss plans for the new school which will be constructed on the present site, according to Ken Tunison, president of the board. Plans, when completed, must be submitted to the State Department of Education for approval.

C.H.S. Juniors Host Annual J-Hop

The Senior Class of the Charlevoix high school will be guests of honor at the annual J-Hop hosted by the Junior class and scheduled to be held Saturday evening.

The elementary school gymnasium will be transformed into a beautiful Japanese garden as the Juniors carry out the theme of the party, "Sayonara"—a fond farewell to the graduating class. Oriental scrolls, a miniature bridge, Japanese lanterns and cherry blossoms will decorate the hall for the dance which is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. Music for dancing will be recorded.

Carlton Smith, president of the junior class, and his date, Connie Saltonstall, and Linda Neff, general chairman of the event, and her date, Dave Rader, will lead the grand march.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rader, Mr. and Mrs. William Ratigan and Mr. and Mrs. Don Carey. Mr. Ratigan and Mr. Carey are class advisors. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bingham will attend as guests of the class.

The public has been invited to attend the dance.

Council Approves Plan to Improve Sidewalks-Curbs

Special assessment charges and regulations for the construction of new or replacement of roads, sidewalks, curbs and gutters and other improvements was adopted by the Charlevoix City Council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Under the plan the city will pay a minimum of 25 per cent and a maximum of 35 per cent, depending on the type of construction, in order to encourage residents to build new or replace old streets, sidewalks, etc. City Supt. James Taylor said.

The new rates may be seen at the city hall at any time.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the council again returned to committee the problem of hospital and medicsl insurance for city employees. Several contracts are under consideration and an effort is being made to obtain the best possible insurance for the money.

A representative of the Michigan Employment Security Commission appeared before the council in answer to the city's request to establish a part-time office in Charlevoix when the unemployment load is heavlest. The city's offer to furnish room in the city hall at no expense to the commission was accepted and an office will be set up here when the unemployment load is increased in the fall.

The auditors, who are now auditing the city's books, are to be advised that inter-fund accounts receivable and payable on Feb. 28, 1962, at the end of the fiscal year are to be treated as a permanent transfer of funds in the audit following a discussion by the council.

Bills totaling $12,922.04 were approved and ordered paid. The figure includes a $1,064.25 payment for diesel fuel oil; $830.25 for hospital insurance; $1,145.69 for material and supplies for use at the new clubhouse and sewage disposal plant; $1,648.49 Swanson Gravel and Construction, for work at the sewage disposal plant and $6,285.35, payroll.

CHS Trackmen Win Regional

The Charlevoix Rayder thinclads, coached by S. E. 'Irish' Coleman, captured the Northern Michigan Class C regional track and field title at Traverse City, tallying a total of 30 1/5 points to top a field of more than 20 teams.

The Boyne City Ramblers were defending regional champions. Charlvoix last held the regional title in 1960.

Earlier in the week the Rayders had taken the Class C Conference title in the annual league meet held in Petoskey.

Blue ribbon winners for Charlevoix were Darrell Somerville who tossed the shot 44 ft. 10 in.; Larry McBride who hit the 10 ft. 4 in. mark in the pole vault to tie for first place and Joe Smith who ran the 220 yd. dash in 24.2.

Smith placed second in the 100 yd. dash; Dan Pearl, second in the 440 yd. run; Bruce Kroken, third in the mile; Burce Bartlett, a sevenway tie for third in the high jump; Rick Miller, fifth places in both the low hurdles and the high hurdles; Larry Edwards a two-way tie for fifth place in the shotput and the mile relay team (Don Berg, Al Wojan, Jack Stockwell and Kroken), a fifth place.

School District Asks Approval Of 3 Mill Tax Levy

The residents of the Charlevoix school district will be asked to approve a three mill tax levy to help underwrite the cost of additional teachers' needs and the cost of operation at the June 11 school election.

The decision to ask for three mills was made at the regular meeting of the board of education Monday night following an extensive study of the 1962-63 budget.

In explaining the decision of the board, Robert G. Liebermsn said that the increased enrollment at several grade levels will necessitate engaging from three to five new teachers.

Among these will be a second kindergarten teacher, two other elementary teachers and a Junior high teacher.

It will also be necessary to replace two elementary teachers and two science teachers who are leaving the system at the close of the current school year.

The membership during the current year has been 1,014 or an increase of 58 over 1960-61. There are 565 in the Kindergarten through the sixth grade and 446 in the top six grades including 95 in the ninth grade. This year's kindergarten has 110 members.

It is the growing enrollment at specific age groups that is causing the teacher problems, Mr. Lieberman added.

At present the teaching staff consists of 37 teachers with 17 in the elementary and 29 in the Junior-Senior high school. Except for the third-fourth grade combination room, there are 38 to 45 students in all rooms of grades three through seven.

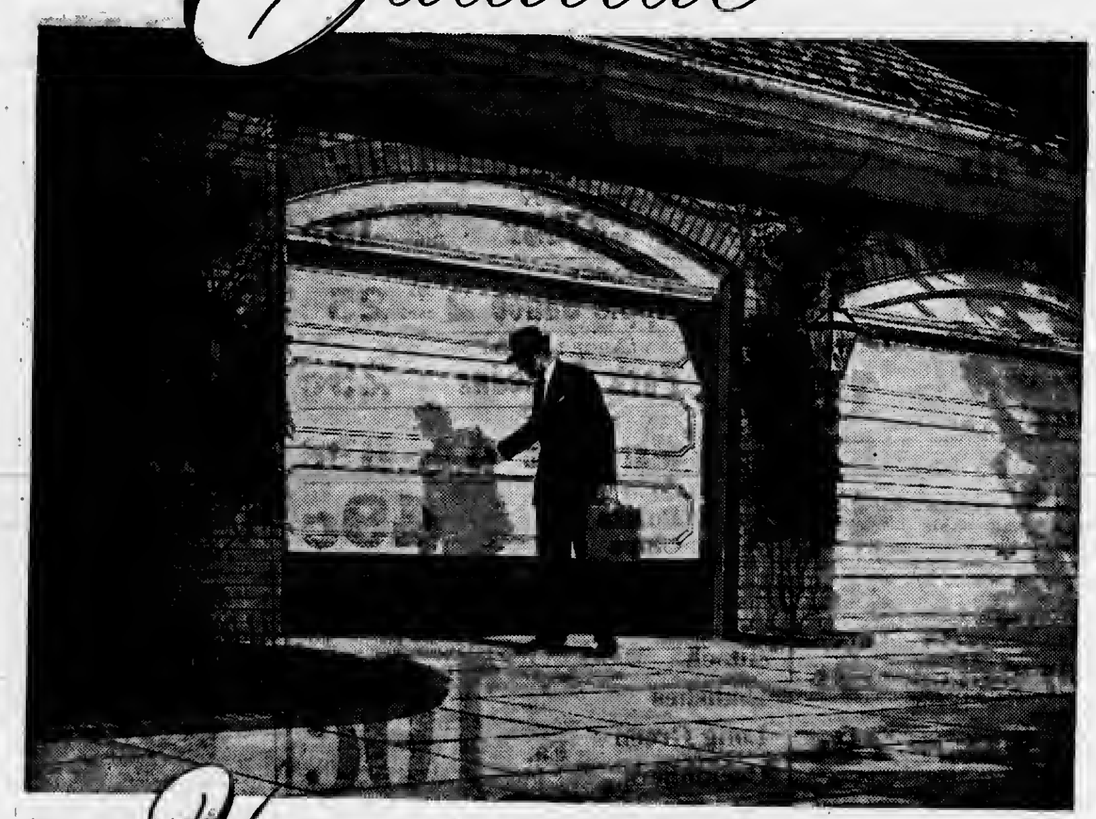
Cadillac



How to pay for a Cadillac—and not get one!

There are several ways that a man can pay the price of a new Cadillac car—and find himself in possession of an automobile of far less stature.

Because there are many motorists currently considering the purchase of their next car, we would like to enumerate those ways of going astray.

1. Assume that the purchase price of a new Cadillac car is higher than it actually is. (There are eleven models of other makes that this year cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac model.)

2. Fail to appreciate that the basic price of a new Cadillac includes many important things that are extra on other cars. (Including automatic transmission, power steering and power braking.)

3. Neglect to find out from a Cadillac dealer what your present car is worth in trade. (He is especially anxious this spring to welcome new owners.)

And if you take one of these detours, think of all the unique pleasures you could be missing.

There is Cadillac's comfort—so wonderful that every journey becomes a brief vacation.

And there is Cadillac's performance—so great that it is without rival on the world's highways.

So we suggest that you play it safe—and get all the facts from your dealer soon.

You might be closer to a Cadillac than you think.

Summer Taxes Lower 23 Percent

Taxpayers in the city of Charlevoix are scheduled to receive a 23 percent decrease in the 1962 summer taxes, City Supt. James Taylor has announced.

This will mean that those people who paid $100 in taxes last year will be paying approximately $77 this year.

This was made possible by the application of $30,000 from the electric fund to the budget and by additional revenue from other governmental agencies.

This decrease applies only to the summer taxes which are used solely by the city. The December tax statement includes millage for schools and county operational costs.

To Dedicate Community Reformed Church Fri.

Rev. James Schut, Secretary of Church Extension of the Particular Synod of Michigan, Reformed Church of America,will deliver the dedicatory address at the formal dedication of the Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday

The dedication ceremony will be held at the recently completed church located at the corner of Petoskey ave. on US-31 North and Meech st.

The Rev. Charles A. Stoppels, pastor of the church, will preside at the special service which will feature a prayer and greetings from the Charlevoix Ministerial Association by the Rev. L. L. Lewis; greetings from Rev. Donald VanGent of the Atwood Christian Reformed church in behalf of area churches; words of appreciation by Franklin Boss representing the church board and buliding committee; special music by the church choir and by a choral group from the First Congregational church.

Rev. Stoppels will also read the Scripture and Rev. Schut will give the closing prayer.

A tour of the church and its educational unit and a social hour under the sponsorship of the Women's Guild for Christian Services will conclude the dedication ceremony to which the public is invited.

First services in the new church were held Easter Sunday, Apr. 22.

Ground for the new structure was broken July 22, 1961, and work started the next day under the supervision of Franklin Boss.

The church is constructed of brick-veneered waylite block highlighted with Georgia marble and brick planters. A triangular, bell tower rises over the main entrance, which faces the north, and houses the large bell which has been moved to the new church from the former church located four miles south of Charlevoix on the Barnard road.

The walls of the nave are eight feet high with a steeply pitched roof rising to 36ft. at the peak. Laminated beams carry the pitched roof which is covered with spruce decking.

The nave, or church proper, will seat 304 people. The chancel, located on the west end of the church proper, is covered with ash paneling. The pulpit built above floor level is backed by a choir stall seating 26. An office is located to the right and the organ room to the left.

Sliding glass doors separate the foyer from the church proper and permit enlargement of the seating capacity by 250 by utilizing the foyer and educational unit which is located to the left of the main entrance.

The educational unit opens into a large fellowship room when folding partitions which form Sunday school rooms are rolled back. A feature of this section is a massive native stone fireplace. A kitchen, storage room and boiler room are behind this room.

A nursery room for parents with small children is located off the main auditorium. Kindergarten Sunday school rooms and rest rooms are located off a hall that leads from the main foyer.

Entry to the church is through double glass doors at all six entrances. The east entrance is covered with a portico.

Corridors have skylights. Perimeter hot water heating system is utilized throughout the building which has approximately 7,000 sq. ft. of floor space, all on ground level.

A large parking area lies to the south and east of the building, permitting off-the-street parking.

The building has been constructed at the cost of $73,718.72. and furnished at the cost of $7,300. The building cost does not include architect's fees.

It is presently being landscaped.

The church board did its own contracting. Work was sub-contracted to various area firms. The work was done under the supervision of Franklin Boss with Dale Boss handling the bookkeeping, purchasing and other details. Both contributed their services.

The present church board is composed of the following members: Clyde Cunningham, Nathan Boss, Eldon Potter, Conrad Klooster, Franklin Boss, John L. Boss, Charles Weilenga and Marinus

County Tax Board Allocates 9 Mills to District Schools

The school districts of Charlevoix county were allocated nine mills and the county five mills for 1963 when the final tax rate was set Friday by the Charlevoix county tax allocation board.

Townships were allocoted one mill with the exception of Bay township whose budget showed a need for only .8 of one mill and Charlevoix township whose budget did not show a need for any millage.

The final rate, as adopted by a four to two vote by the six-member board, set aside one more mill for the schoola than was allowed at the initial meeting May 18 and the most ever allocated schools in the county in recent years, according to Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk.

When the tentative rate was set, schools were given eight mills, the county six with all townships with the exception of Charlevoix township receiving one full mill.

Immediately following tha meeting of the tax allocation board, Lee Sneathen Jr., chairman of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, called a special meeting of the board of supervisors to consider an appeal to the State Tax Commission on the final decision of the allocation board. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. tonight(Thursday) at the county building.

The county's tentative budget of $363,293 for 1963, as approved at the April meeting, would require 7.7 mills.

Last year both the schools and the county received seven mills and the townships one mill when budgets showed need. St. James and Peaine township turned their allocated mills over to the Beaver Island Community School district.

No Perch Caught in 'Small Fry' Contest

The perch failed to cooperate in the 'small fry' perchorama scheduled Saturday by the Kiwanis club in cooperation with the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce.

As a result not a single perch was caught by the 44 local youngsters who turned out for the event.

However, rather than call the whole thing off, the youngsters drew lots for 20 silver dollars being offered as prizes and all participants received other prizes, according to Barney Englehart, vice prsident of the Kiwanis club whose Youth Foundation furnished the prizes.

Kiwanians who assisted were Kit Carson, Capt. H. E. Paddick, Don Anders, Ted Weidman and Mr. Englehart.

Schools to Ask Two-Mill Tax Levy Instead of Three

The voters of the Charlevoix school district will be asked to approve a two-mill tax levy to underwrite the cost of additional teacher needs and for operational costs in the forthcoming June 11 election instead of the three mills as announced earlier.

The decreose in the voted millage needed to balance the budget for the 1962-63 school year was made possible when the Charlevoix county tax allocation board allocated nine mills to schools instead of the anticipated eight mills given when the tentative rate was set May 18.

The increase to nine mills was made Friday when the final tax rate was set. This action by the allocation board allows the Charlevoix school district to cut its request to two mills instead of the three mills needed earlier to make up the 11 mills necessary to balance the budget.

At the same time the voters are asked to approve the millage issue, they will elect two trustees for terms of four years each to the board of education. Candidates are Henry Stephan, George A. LaBlanee, Dr. Robert G. Tollas, Dale Boss, Claire C. Martin, Richard Fochtman and John Barkdoll. They are candidates for the post being vacated by Robert G. Liberman and Dr. Robert G. Martin whose term expire and who are not candidates fnr re-election.

Register 111 for Kindergarten

If pre-school registration is any criterion of things to come, next fall's kindergaten is going to set a new record according to Mrs. Ralph McRay, kindergarten teacher, who accepted registrations Friday.

A total of 111 children have already been registered and there are others who will be registered before school opens in September. Some parents, for a number of reasons, did not get to school Friday but have indicated through telephone calls or notes that they have children who will be eligible for enrollment in the kindergarten next fall.

This year's enrollment is at a record high of 110 and has varied very little during the school year, Mrs. McRay said.

Parents of children who were not registered Friday may do so by calling tha elementary school office, LI 7-6583, and asking for an appointment with Mrs. McRae. Parents must bring the child's birth certificate and health record, which includes the record of various immunization shots, when they come to register. Children must be five years old by Dec. 1 to be eligible for kindergarten in September.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, the new mines in the southwest corner of the state were supplying the Union with desperately needed iron ore. And, all over Michigan, beer was supplying folks with sparkling refreshment.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of hospitality to any occasion. Folks in Michigan have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its Centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

A Unified Universe

Now, in late spring, one can understand why God sank back in rest upon the Seventh Day. Creation never seems more overwhelmingly exhausting than when spring blends into summer and the scrambling, tumbling, multiform shapes, sizes and species of new life bursting into glad being upon the earth make more apparent the incredible variety, the intricate design, the orderly arrangement of life in the world. No wonder Genesis says that when the Creator had fashioned the world, "God rested"!

Even creating the springtime inhabitants of a forty acre plot like the one where I now muse would seem to tire the Almighty. Already I have lost count of the kinds of birds I have seen and the varieties of bird-songs I have heard since this year's first days of spring. And the species of grasses and flowers, of sedges and ferns, mosses and lichens that timidly peep from the earth as the sun warms their sleeping places are beyond enumeration. Young life teems in the woods, swims in the streams, plays at the entrance of hillside dens. Young things frolic and suckle and sleep and grow. The variety and energy represented here is quite enough to make even the Creator catch His breath and sigh in relief when all this new life seems safely on its way toward fulfillment.

But still more wondrous than the incalculable assortment of living things to be found on one small woodland plot is the way that seemingly independent pieces of the natural world fit together, making sense, unity and wholeness, like scattered pieces of an intricate jig-saw puzzle brought together by a preceptive mind and a deft hand. To the last small detail all woodland events and all woodland creatures here bear significant relationship to each other as do all events and all creatures throughout the world. The humidity of the atmosphere, the direction of the wind, the amount of light reaching the forest floor, the chemistry of the soil, all have their reason for being as they are and where they ore, and all have their effects. Caterpillars feeding on a particular apple tree leaf and insect larvae under a certain stone in the stream, the chickadee mother tending her young in the hollow of a birch, the doe and twin fawns drinking from the brook, the male fox squandering the afternoon snoozing on a scatter-rug of shade obligingly spread by yonder spruce—all these belong to each other and to the skillfully assembled, unified universe.

The acidity of water in Edgewood Pond depends upon the character of the soil in the surrounding woods, and in turn the welfare of the trout in the pond depends, in part, upon the acidity of the water that environs them. Yet the character of the soil has been affected by leaves, branches and trees that died and fell and formed forest loam hundreds of years ago. Today's trout are thus meaningfully related to the trees that grew here centuries before Christ was born. In nature ancient times and the present moment belong to each other.

The bright, torch-like scarlet tanager now calling from a distant birch copse brings to these northern acres, and burns here, energies stored from his winter feeding in far-off South America. When the summer passes he and his offspring will take Northern Michigan sunshine back to his winter resort in Bolivia and Peru, so that next December small particles of Hidden Brook, atowed away in a scarlet tanager, will flit from tree to tree in a sunny glade beneath the Equator. In nature our nearty contrived human boundaries vanish as the distant and the near are blended by the essential oneness of the world.

Now, in our time, man, too,—once so seemingly independent, going his own way, being as different as he pleased, or dared or needed to be, living in wigwams here and igloes up there and eaves over there, raising rice in Asia, yams in Africa, maize in North America hell all over—man, too, is beginning to recognize what was always dimly true of him, that we belong to each other. We are now joined together by such vibrating nerves of intercommunication that impulses in Americans are felt by Argentinians and Australians. Kennedy and Krushchev act and react to each other like nextdoor city neighbors without a fence in between. You and I and Ivanoff cannot let more than a few hours go by without wondering what "the neighbors are doing now," meaning the Russians and the Americans. Humanity shares a common nervous system. Pinch the human race in the Congo and it is felt in Chicago, Cologne and Calcutta.

In such a world what you are, where you are, effects what a man can be, where he is, halfway around the globe. As the troubled and tormented nineteenth century post-scientist, Francis Thompson, claimed,

All things by immortal power,
Hiddenly to each other linked
are,
That thou canst not stir a flower
Without troubling a star."

In a world like this where our complex interrelatedness causes us to hurt and be hurt, to help and be helped, by influences far beyond our sight, does any sensitive soul dare to live less than his best?

CHARLEVOIX PUBLIC SCHOOLS
MINUTES OF SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

May 7, 1962

Present: Lieberman, C. Smith, Dinwiddie, Martinchek, Blanchard, Martin, Al Smith, Bennett, Supt. Absent: None.

The meeting was called to order at 8:10 p.m.

Minutes of the meeting of April 16 were read and approved.

It was moved by Martin and supported by C. Smith, that bills in the amount of $5,136.99, payable from General Fund, be approved and ordered paid. Motion carried: 6-0.

The President advised of the legal action being taken by the Peerless Insurance Co., bondsmen for Wallace N. Bjorklund, in the Kent County courts for determination of accounts of the Bjorklund construction company connected with the construction of the new Charlevoix High School.

The Seeretary was requested to make replies to the representative church groups who had made suggestions regarding the usc of the school facilities on Sundays.

Considerable discussion was given to the teaching needs for 1962-63, and the diffieulty of securing teachers meeting the qualifieations which have been determined, with two eandidates being recommended to Mr. Bennett as meeting these qualifieations.

Clarence Smith and Joe Martinchek were appointed by the President as a committee to determine, with Marvin Sugden, the kind and type of mower and grounds equipment nccessary for the maintenance of the school grounds.

Because the State Primary Fund would not be sent until the 16th of May, rather than the 14th, a Loan was discussed. It was moved by Dinwiddie, seconded by C. Smith, that a loan in the amount of $5,400.00 be negotiated—said note to be dated May 15, 1962 and not to exceed 4% interest per annum, duc and payable on September 1, 1962. Motion earried: 6-0.

Al Smith entered the meeting.

The summer maintenance program was considered and deeision made to continue with the regular school maintenance group and one or two additlonal, as has been done the past few years.

The driver training program was studied, including the problem of securing another car to replace the one from Surplus that is no longer satisfactory. Decision was deferred until the next meeting.

Completion of the leveling of the land at the site of the old high school was studied and steps taken to determine the best method, and to include the sidewalks necessary.

A report on the petitions for nomination of school board trustees showed none has been filed and that May 12 would be the final date for filing.

Finances for the coming year being difficult to determine, since neither the State Ald Bill has been passed or an allocation made, the need of additional millage was recognized and a means of informing everyone was studied. A meeting of everyone at which all problems of the budget would be presented was suggested, and a written explanation to go to every home, was considered, as well as newspaper reporting.

Suggestions for bus drivers to replace R. T. Davis and John Martin were made. Other subjects discussed were:

Landscaping and blacktopping.
Commencement.

The meeting adjourned at 10:55 p.m.

Retired Coastguard Peter B. Scott Wins Gallatin Award

Peter B. Scott, one of the few remaining civilian lighthouse keepers in the service that has been a part of the U. S. Coast Guard since 1930, has been retired.

He is a veteran of 32 years and four months in the service he joined on Jan. 2, 1930.

Upon the occasion of his retirement, he was presented with the Gallatin Award given to U.S. Treasury Department personnel on retirement after long service in the department of which the U.S. Coast Guard is a part and with a letter of commendation from Rear Admiral G. H. Miller, Commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District. The presentation was made by WO Louis DeBernardi, executive officer of U.S. Coast Guard Group Charlevoix, who commended Mr. Scott on hs fine service record.

The award, signed by Douglas Dillon, U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, reads as follows:

"Upon your retirement from Federal Service this award is presented as evidence of the esteem in which you have been held by the Treasury Department which has been the principal beneficiary of your labors for so many years.

"The fine contribution you have made to public service well merits this commendation of your government".

Mr. Scott, a native of Charlevoix, joined the service on Jan. 2, 1930, while serving aboard the U.S.C.G. cutter Hyacinth. In 1937 he was transferred to the cutter Hollyhock when it waa newly commissioned. He later served as a keeper at Minneapolis Shoals light station off Escanaba for 14 years. He was assigned to the Manistique light station at the time of his retirement.

The Gallatin Award with which he was presented was named for Albert Gallatin, a native of Switzerland who won enduring fame as a financier during his three terms as U.S. Secretary of the Treasury from 1801 to 1813. It is given to veteran personnel upon retirement from the Treasury Department of which the Coast Guard is a part. The U.S. Lighthouse Service was absorber by the U.S. Coast Guard on July 1, 1939.

Old Aerial View of Charlevoix Included in CMU Exhibit

An exhibition of "Bird's Eye Views" of Michigan cities and towns during the last century being held at the Clarke Historical Collection of Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant includes a view of Charlevoix in 1889.

These aerial views were usually lithographed on stone and colored by hand. Called "Bird's Eye Views" because the possibility of man's flying was not conceded at that time, the pictures show how the artist pictured the town from the viewpoint of the bird.

Most of them, John Cumming, director of the collection, explains are accurately done and modern aerial photographers could do little to improve upon them. He pointed out that the students are fascinated by them and are surprised that they can recognize old homes and familiar landmarks.

The Clarke Historical Collection is always searching for copies of these "Bird's Eye Views" to add to its long list of Michigan towns. Mr. Cumming hopes that spring cleaning will turn one up in some attic.

Death was due to a skull fracture and concussion suffered when she was thrown from a car driven by John Gleason, 16, of Farmington, when the car went out of control and rolled over several times. Gleason was admitted for treatment of bruises and abrasions.

Gleason was discharged from the hospital Friday and taken to Bellaire, the county seat of Antrim county, where he was questioned regarding the stolen car he was driving at the time of the accident. He had escaped from and Oakland county detention home where he was being held for stealing another car.

Linda, who would have been 16 years old in July, had known the youth, as had her family, when he had visited the area with his family during the summer months.

Farm Leaders Oppose Legislation

More than 50 northern Michigan farm leaders met recently at Gaylord to discuss proposed farm legislation.

Following a lengthy discussion at which the proposed legislation was studied, the group went on record as opposing the proposed administration farm bill on the grounds that it will bring about the complete government control of agriculture and thus force the whole economy into a federally controlled program; that the program is being forced upon farmers in spite of the fact that recent polls showed 95 per cent of farmers were opposed to compulsory government quotas; and that such a program would lead to inefficiency in agriculture which would bring high costs of fiber and food for both urban and rural consumers.

Seven Candidates Seek Election to Board of Education

The annual school election, at which residents of the Charlevoix school district will east their ballots on a millage issue and elect two trustees to the board of education, will be held Monday.

The polls will be located at the foyer of the new Charlevoix high school gymnasium on May st. and will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

This is the election which has been held in July until this year when the date was set by the State Department of Public Instruction in legislation adopted last year.

In Monday's election voters will be asked to approve a two mill tax levy to underwrite the cost of five new teachers and the growing cost of operation.

The growing enrollment has resulted in classes with memberships ranging from 35 to 47 students in the fourth through the seventh grades during the current school year. In addition, the kindergarten had a total membership of 110 throughout most of the school year and next year's enrollment, though not complete, has already reached this number.

As a result plans are being made to engage five new teachers including a second kindergarten teacher as well as one who will teach either the third or fourth grade and one each for the fifth, sixth and junior high.

In addition, four other teachers needed to replace the same number who are leaving the school system for various reasons must be found.

Increased membership during the current school year, an unanticipated decrease in valuation of the school district last fall and a rise in the cost of operation has resulted in a substantial deficit the financial report which will not be completed until the end of the fiscal year June 30 indicates.

The names of seven candidates for the two vacancies on the board of education will also be found on the ballot in Monday's election. The candidates are: Dr. Robert G. Tollas, Claire C. Martin, Richard Fochtman, Henry Stephan, Dale A. Boss, George A. LaBlance and John Barkdoll. Two will be elected to succeed Robert G. Lieberman and Dr. Robert G. Martin who are not candidates for re-election.

To Dedicate New City Golf Course June 17

The dedication of Charlevoix's beautiful new municipal golf clubhouse will be bserved with nine days of free golf at the nine hole course located off US-31 north, Keith Carey, manager of the course, has announced.

The event is being sponsored by the city of Charlevox and the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce in an effort to attract area golfers to the community.

The only requisite is that the golfers register at the clubhouse before starting play. They will thus become eligible for valuable prizes to be offered on Dedication Day, Sunday, June 17, when the new clubhouse will be dedicated at a special program.

Complimentary refreshments will be served by the local Lions Club on the next two weekends.

The attractive new clubhouse is located on Central ave. a block off the highway. It replaces the frame structure which had been in use since the course was established many years ago by the Chicago Club.

The one-story structure is of simple design and constructed of Onaway stone, waylite block and glass.

The pro shop, located in one section of the lounge will feature a complete line of golfing supplies.

To the left and accessable from the front poreh are the storage rooms with 96 racks and adjacent shower rooms.

Living quarters fnr the club manager are located to the rear of these rooms.

Mr. Carey is returning for his ninth year as manager and pro. He is assisted in the management of the course by his wife, Lois and their daughter, Nancy. They have two other daughters, Kitty and Amy.

The Lake Construction Co. was the general contractor for the clubhouse which was built at a cost of $34,285.64.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

- By Harold E. Kohn -

Nests

Now in late springtime one hears the determined, whirring wings of male birds busily feeding their mates whose days and nights are spent incubating eggs. Stroll through your garden, saunter through a meadow, walk a woodland path, and in every pastel paradise you can sense the secret presence of mother birds upon their nests.

Nests are built in the canopy of the forest and at the base of fire-blackened stumps on the ground. Nests are open to the sky, or spread with a coverlet, or entered from the side like an oven and sometimes even entered from the bottom. Some are made from coarse mud and others woven from spider silk. Nests may contain but one egg or twenty. Nests are as varied as the chirps, whistles and arias of their owners.

I know one place, secure in the friendly shadows of evergreens, that is favored by nesting bluejays.

Yesterday I saw a male chickadee dilly-dallying around a birch near where I stood. I thought possibly he was hesitant to betray the location of a nest where his spouse might be incubating eggs. Sure enough! Upon making a moment's search I found the female settled in her nest in the hole of a birch stub, nearer to the ground than I had ever seen a chickadee nest before.

The nesting habits and sites of birds offer abundant opportunity for the nature detective to ply his wits, and they present a never ending array of surprises.

In late May and early June countless questions arise as to the nesting customs of our native birds. Here are a few queries that have been brought to my attention:

* DO ALL BIRDS BUILD NESTS? No. Most do, but not all. Some sea birds such as murres and auks build no nests, neither do our familiar whippoorwills and nighthawks. They simply lay their eggs on the ground. Killdeers do little better, laying eggs in a ploughed furrow or scraping a few pebbles together to make a careless sort of nest. The parasitical cowbird takes no responsibility for its young. Instead, when the urge to lay an egg comes upon her, the female cowbird looks about pastures and fencerows for the nest of any small bird. When the mother leaves the nest for a moment the cowbird furtively deposits her egg in it and flies away, leaving her egg for another bird to hatch and her young for another mother to feed and raise.

* DO BIRDS TOO YOUNG TO BREED SOMETIMES BUILD NESTS? Yes. Sometimes adolescent birds build nests which they abandon when finished. Possibly they are practicing for the duties of adulthood.

* DO BIRDS EVER DECORATE THEIR NESTS? Many species of birds seem to have a yen for ornamentation. Some birds consistently use white to decorate their nests. They transport cleaning tissue, strips of newspaper, torn-up bus tickets, pop bottle straws, calking cotton usually used in boat seams. Some years ago Philadelphia firemen blamed the burning of a house on a bird that had attempted to use a lighted cigarette to build its nest.

More than thirty species of birds are known to use snake skins as part of their nesting material. Some observers have wondered if these cast snake skins are used for the purpose of frightening predators away. Probably not, as shown by the fact that birds that use the skins are preyed upon during the nesting season as readily as are others.

Some species of hawks decorate their nests with green rather than white. They use green leaves. When the green leaves fade they are replaced with fresh ones.

At Palmerton, Pennsylvania a robin found someone's prize blue ribbon and cemented it into her nest so that one half was on the inside and the other half hung down the outside of the nest as if her home had been selected by judges at a house builder's convention as the prize-winning model of the year.

* WHAT DETERMINES THE NUMBER OF EGGS A BIRD WILL LAY? Most likely the security of the eggs from danger and the number required to assure perpetuation of the species Ground nesting birds, like the mallard duck, ruffed grouse and ringed-neck pheasant suffer exposure to such predators as crows, skunks, and snakes, and the eggs can be spoiled by execessive dampness or carelessiy stepped upon by passing animals. Therefore a clutch from one of these birds may number as many as fifteen or twenty eggs. Terns, gulls and skimmers, which usually nest on islands where they are protected from wandering predators and which gather in colonies so that their sheer numbers would overwhelm and confuse a potential enemy, often lay but one or two eggs.

Ornithologists have observed that a female bird seems to have some "psychological" control over the number of eggs she produces. Perhaps it is the dim awareness that a certain number of eggs must be produced to guarantee the survival of her specie. In the woodpecker family, and in many other birds, this phenomenon has been observed: remove from a normal clutch of eggs (let us say five eggs) one egg and the female will replace it. Remove the replacement and she will lay still another. This procedure will be repeated many times. (Can the bird mother count? Possibly.) One flicker was tested some years ago by removing all the eggs, except one, from her nest. Each time she laid a replacement it, too, was removed. The puzzled but persistent flicker laid seventy-one eggs in seventy-three days before the experiment was brought to a close.

But explanations of bird behavior are soon exhausted. We can know what birds do and sometimes how they do it. But the "whys" elude us. The "whys" we must guess at, and the clues for an "educated guess" are not found in a bird watcher's binoculars, but in a faith that affirms that bird nesting, like all natural wonders, is part of a provision a kind Creator has made for even His smallest creatures.

Kiwanians Hosts At Pancake Feast

More than 100 youngsters, boys and girls, who had assisted the Kiwanis club in its maple syrup project last spring turned out for the pancake supper held at the elementary school cafeteria Monday night.

The supper which featured pancakes, sausage, ice cream, soft drinks and candy bars was prepared and served by the members of the Kiwanis club.

The supper was given in appreciation of the youngsters' efforts in the club's behalf.

BURR BLANCHARD, SECRETARY

Steven Kroll (center) and Robert Odmark, Charlevoix high school music students, being congratulated by their director, C. A. Odmark, on receiving scholarships to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

C.H.S. Musicians to Attend National Music Camp

Two young Charlevoix high school musicians will attend special sessions at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, C. A. Odmark, director of the music program in the local schools, has announced.

They are Steven Kroll who has been awarded the Charlevoix Band Parents Association scholarship and Robert Odmark who has received an 'assistantship' awarded by Orien Dalley, administrator of the All-State group at the music camp.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kroll of Ironton, Steve, who is completing his sophomore year, plays trombone with the high school band and is also a member of the City Band. He will leave here June 25 and will attend the world-famous music camp until July 8. While at Interlochen, he will receive private lessons on his instrument, attend other classes and become a member of the All-State Band which has a membership of approximately 200 members.

Bob, son of Mr. snd Mrs. Odmark, will join the All-State High School Orchestra from July 23 through August 5. A French Horn player, he was awarded the 'assistantship' by Mr. Dalley who suggested that he join the All-State Orchestra rather than the band. He is also completing his sophomore year and is a member of both the high school and city bands.

Both will appear in Sunday afternoon concerts presented by their respective groups while at Interlochen.

Last year Bruce Kroken was awarded the Band Parents Scholarship and a second scholarship provided by the Charlevoix PTA in conjunction with the Band Parents Association was awarded to Judy Walker, both of whom benefited greatly from the experience.

James Pierce, Evangelist from Oshawa, Ontario, Canada continuing services until June 17, Assembly of God, 8 P.M. No services Saturday or Monday. 25x

by M. L. Wolf

Census Report

The 1959 Agricultural Census will continue to provide discussion material for months to come. First off, it lists an interesting version of what constitutes a farm . . . "Places of less than 10 acres were counted as farms if the estimated sales of agricultural products for the year amounted to at least $250. Places of ten or more acres were counted as farms if the estimated sales of products for the year amounted to at least $50."—So now you know.

A special report listing the top 100 ranking counties throughout the United States in terms of specific commodities has just been released. Michigan, as might be expected, rates high in the number of counties in top brackets with several among the top ten in a number of commodities. All-around Berrien county ranks 61st nationally in the production of vegetables harvested for sale, 35th in nursery and greenhouse products sold, 15th in both tomatoes and grapes, 11th in pears, 8th in apples and peaches, and 6th in cherry production! Small wonder that Berrien county also places 18th among all counties in the nation in the total value of fruit products sold.

When it comes to cherries, Michigan has 23 of the top 100 counties, with Grand Traverse second in the nation, (followed Door Co. Wisconsin) and followed in turn by Oceana (3rd), Leelanau (4th) and Berrien, 6th. Van Buren is 8th and Antrim is in 9th spot.

Only one Michigan county, (Sanilac) placed in the top 100 for milk cows and milk production.—Another, (Washtenaw) barely made the top classification for numbers of sheep and lambs on farms. Both Allegan and Ottawa counties made the "honor roll" for chickens and eggs sold while Ottawa is listed as 45th in total production of turkeys, and 67th for total value of poultry and poultry products sold.

By some quirk of reasoning the United States department of Agriculture did not see fit to list Navy bean production, . . . with Michigan counties sure to take most of the top spots.

Not so surprising fact: no Michigan county ranks among the top 100 in total numbers of horses and mules!

Girl Scouts Make Preparations for Vermont Roundup

The first Roundup Outdoor Training session for the combined Traverse City-Charlevoix Girl Scout patrol who will attend the International Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Vermont in July was held at Traverse City recently.

Mrs. Robert Thompson of Traverse City and Mrs. Lloyd Arnold adult leaders, were in charge with both the Roundup and the alternate patrols present. However, they were in different camps.

The Roundup patrol worked on a very tight schedule under actual Roundup conditions, using Roundup menus and practicing water conservation. This was the first time the Roundup patrol had all the Roundup equipment available and in use.

The patrol had at least one adult guest for every meal during the weekend camping experience. An example of the meals prepared over a charcoal grill and served out of doors: barbecued chicken, rice, peas, white bread, butter and grape jelly, tomato and lettuce salad with dressing, brownies, milk and coffee with cream and sugar for the adults.

The girls arrived at camp late Friday afternoon and immediately began setting up camp. During the three-day period, the girls practiced lashing, gave their own demonstration and worked on their "Scouts Own", a devotional program. At meetings held during the camping period, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Arnold presented information relating to transportation to and from the Roundup, the packing of equipment and the new Crooked Tree area council. At the closing session the Senior Scouts received their baggage tags, Roundup patches, bank forms and information about telephone facilities at the Roundup camp.

Shortly after 11 a.m. Sunday, the four Senior Scouts, Sherry Holborn and Marilyn Lesher, Roundup delegates, and Barbara Wood and Frances Arnold, alternates, accompanied by Mrs. Arnold, headed for home.

Fledglings

Somewhere west of the pines and poplars that encircle our green meadow juvenile crows are hoarsely shouting their unrestrained exuberance and shrill insolence. Some of the black young hoodlums are already capable of flying and now flap from one wilderness glade to another loudly cawing raucous maledictions at an unimpressed world. Other youthful crows are making their first flight tests now, fluttering clumsily from one tree to another in the green forest world before attempting the blue space above.

Mid-June is the time when many of the young of forest and meadow are trying their pinions for the first time. Baby robins and wrens have been blunderingly beating their wings from limb to earth and back to limb again for some days. Phoebe babies nesting above my study window won't be ready for a week or so. Infant Chickadees in yonder birch stump will launch themselves in first awkward flight at any moment now.

Quite naturally, with so much activity in the bird-nursery world around us, questions are raised about bird behavior that is observed in the June nesting season. A few of these questions are mentioned here.

• HOW LONG DO BABY BIRDS STAY IN THE NEST BEFORE THEY ARE COMPETENT TO LEAVE? . . . Some precocial birds leave the nest in a matter of two or three hours, or less, as do mallard ducklings, ruffed grouse and pheasant chicks. The young of the big-footed megapodes (mound-building birds of the South Pacific) are not only capable of running shortly after hatching, but can actually fly within a few minutes after breaking free of the egg. On the other hand, baby hummingbirds stay in the nest for about three weeks. Young woodpeckers remain in their tree holes from three weeks to a month, and fledgling owls and hawks do not leave home for the first time until about six weeks have passed. The amount of time the young need to stay in the nest depends largely upon the extent of their development at the moment of hatching.

• HOW OFTEN DO THE PARENT BIRDS FEED THEIR YOUNG? . . . Unbelievable as it may seem, an ornothologist has reported one house wren that made 491 feedings in one day, and a phoebe has been known to bring food to her nest 845 times in a single day. Goldfinches feed their babies about every half-hour, by regurgitation. On the other hand, the young of sea birds may be fed only at long intervals, such as once a day, since the adults must range many miles from the nest to find food.

With heavy feedings, many of our native birdlings double their weight in the first day after hatching and continue to grow at an astonishing rate until after they have left the nest. An infant robin may eat as much as fourteen feet of nutritious earthworms per day. Many young birds eat half their weight in food between dawn and sunset, and some have been known to eat the equivalent of their entire weight in the same period.

• WHY DO SOME BABY BIRDS APPEAR TO BE BIGGER THAN THEIR PARENTS? . . . The simple and direct answer is quite startling to some folks: the reason certain fledgling birds seem larger than their parents is that they are bigger. The parent birds feed their young prodigious quanities of highly nutritious food that builds up a reserve of fat and energy against the day when the fledglings face the problems of finding sufficient food for themselves. By the end of its first summer a young bird's size subsides to that of his parents.

• WHAT ARE THE CHIEF DANGERS FACING BABY BIRDS? Predators, such as wandering house cats, prowling foxes, marauding hawks, and mischievous boys are dangerous to young birds. But the gravest peril threatening baby birds is probably a prolonged rain. Even a cold snap does not endanger the lives of the newly hatched as does a long, steady rain. Well-fed baby birds produce enough body heat to survive considerable cold. But during stretches of rainy weather the parents are seldom as successful in finding food as ordinarily, and cold rains chill the fledglings while their parents are searching for the next meal. On a certain Maine island all the baby terns in more than a thousand nests have been known to die during a protracted rain.

• WHAT HAPPENS TO AN EGG THAT DOES NOT DEVELOP PROPERLY? Usually an undeveloped egg is left in the nest when the young birds desert their home. Last year a ruffed grouse laid fourteen eggs in a fire-blackened hollow stump near my study. For twenty-one days we watched the mother brooding the eggs and observed her tactics from distracting our attention by flying a short distance from the nest and then fluttering and limping in mock agony. At last one afternoon we visited the nest and found the mother and grouse chicks were gone. Of the fourteen eggs, twelve had hatched. We opened the two that remained. One was rotten and had not developed at all. The other contained an embryo that had developed for something like fifteen days and then had stopped. Of course the embryo was pulseless and dead.

In rare cases when none of the eggs in a clutch hatch, the mother will vainly attempt to incubate them for a greatly extended period, not seeming to realize at first that anything is wrong.

Are these all the questions? Good. Now may I get back to writing my regular column—? Please?

Cadillac

How to pay for a Cadillac—and not get one!

There are several ways that a man can pay the price of a new Cadillac car—and find himself in possession of an automobile of far less stature.

Because there are many motorists currently considering the purchase of their next car, we would like to enumerate these ways of going astray.

1. Assume that the purchase price of a new Cadillac car is higher than it actually is. (There are eleven models of other makes that this year cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac model.)

2. Fail to appreciate that the basic price of a new Cadillac includes important things that are extra on many other cars. (Including automatic transmission, power steering and power braking.)

3. Neglect to find out from a Cadillac dealer what your present car is worth in trada. (Ha is especially anxious this spring to welcome new owners.)

And if you take one of these detours, think of all the unique plaasures you could be missing.

There is Cadillac's styling—so majestic that it attracts attention wherever it goes.

There is Cadillac's comfort—so wonderful that every journey becomes a brief vacation.

And there is Cadillac's performance—so great that it is without rival on the world's highways.

So we suggest that you play it safe—and get all the facts from your dealer soon.

You might be closer to a Cadillac than you think.

Each patrol must demonstrate something typical of its area. This patrol has selected the baking of vinegar pies, a delicacy reminescent of the early lumbering days of northern Michigan, as its project.

During the demonstration the Scouts prepared and baked vinegar tarts over an open fire typical of the type of camping they will do at the Roundup.

Lions Club Hears Episcopal Vicar

The Rev. Alexander Wood, vicar of Christ Episcopal church, was the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Lions club held Monday at the Weathervane Inn.

Workers were again recruited to complete the club's float for the Venetian boat parade next month.

The meeting concluded with group singing accompanied by Les Payne on the accordion.

During the summer

Here's a simple, money-saving tip. Keep your fuel oil tank filled to the top this summer and you'll keep it free of rust and corrosion. Any air space in your tank allows rust-causing condensation to form . . . rust that will clog strainers and burner nozzles next winter.

Special summer budget terms make it easy to FILL UP NOW, PAY NEXT FALL, or errange a special year-long budget plan with low monthly payments. Call us today.

Charlevoix Public Schools Hire Three New Teachers

Three new teachers have been engaged and will nssume their duties in the Charlevoix school aystem this fall according to Supt. R. G. Bennett.

They are Delbert R. Terrill, former coach, who will return here as a junior high teacher, Mrs. John (Marguerite) Makel who will teach in the upper elementary or seventh grade and Mrs. Helen Rodgers King who will teach in the third grade.

Mr. Terrill, who was coach and teacher here for five years before leaving the profession in 1955, returned to Charlevoix from Reeths-Puffer high school where he has served as head basketball and Baseball coach and athletic director since 1958.

A native of Pennsylvania and a graduate of Wayne State University with a Master's Degree in education, he will return here as a junior high teacher.

He and his wife, Eleanor, and their children, Chip, Kathy and Chuck have returned here to make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Terrill will operate the Charlevoix play camp for the summer, their eleventh.

Mrs. Makel, who has made her home here while teaching in Boyne City for the past four years, will teach in either the upper elementary grades or the seventh grade. Mrs. Makel is a graduate of Central Michigan University with a B.S. degree and has done some graduate work at Michigan State University and the University of Michigan. She taught at Gaylord and Lansing and served as deputy county superintendent of schools in Otsego county before returning to the classroom four years ago.

Mrs. Makel and her husband, Probate Judge Makel and their daughter Marianne, were scheduled to leave today (Thuraday) on a tour of Europe.

Mrs. King has been engaged as a replacement in the third grade. She has a B.A. degree from Central Michigan University and comes here from Rapid City where she taught last year. She formerly taught in Gladwin.

North American to Visit Local Port

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commeree have been issued an invitation to cruise to Traverse City with the Grand Rapids Chamber and attend a dinner aboard ahip Thursday night.

The S. S. South American scheduled to visit Charlevoix last Saturday while on a Greater Bay City Chamber of Commerce Chartered cruise eancelled its visit here when the ship went aground in the St. Clair river whilo enroute to Bay City. As a result, the 300 members and guests boarded the cruise ship at 7:30 p.m. Friday for a brief trip to Sault Ste. Marie and returned, A. M. Maxwell, Chamber manager, informed Mr. Kohler in a letter received this week.

He also said that plans are now underway for the 1963 eruise and that Charlevoix is likely to be scheduled as a port of eall if no major ehanges become necessary.

Leave Them to The Wild

During late May and early Junn, thousands of spotted, wobbly-kneed youngsters are born to Michigan's deer herd, adding a special sightseeing thrill to many an outdoor trip each summer. For some people, thern is a strong urge to take one of these "Bambis" homn for a pet. Other outdoor visitors simply want to "save" fawns which seem to have been lost or abandoned by their mothers. Whatever thn reason, it's wrong (and illegal) to whisk these young animals away frnm their home in the wild. Don't be misled into thinking a fawn has been orphaned if ynu find one alone in the woods. It is common for the doe to wander away from her young during the daytime to eat and drink. Hownver, thn mother is never far off and she returns nften to nurse thnsn hungry youngsters.--Mich. Dept. of Cnnservatlon

Yes, the Civil War Was Noisy!

Plenty interesting to watch, but just a bit noisy. That was this youngster's reaction to a match between Civil War teams at Greenfield Village's Muzzle Loaders Festival. The Eighth Annual event, set for Saturday and Sunday, June 23-24, will feature Union and Confederate soldiers of the Civil War and colorfully-garbed pioneers and frontiersmen of the old west in an exciting spectacle that recaptures the realism of this era of our nation's history. Friendly competition, as shown above, featuring military teams, will highlight the Sunday events between noon and 5 p.m. Frontiersmen and similarly dressed historical figures will stage individual competition the same hours on Saturday. Other features both days will include cannon demonstrations, precision drills, bow and arrow versus muzzle loader competition and costume contests. Registrations indicate the two-day Festival will draw more than 300 shooters from nearly 40 organized gun clubs and Civil War commemorative regiments. Besides Michigan, participants are from Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, New York and Washington, D. C. Greenfield Village, with 200 picturesque acres of Americana, is located near Detroit, Michigan.

Makes Good on Assignment With Millions at Stake

Assignment: Come up with a multi-million dollar competitive bid on generators and switch gears for the longest microwave telephone line in the world. That was the problem facing Frederick deCastro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred deCastro, when he was promoted to sales engineer by Onan division of Studebaker-Packard Corp.

It was a make or break challenge and he accepted it. His efforts were successful and recently Radio Corporation of Ameriea (RCA) prime contractors for the network with 267 generators and switch gear, agreed to a contract for approximately $16,400,000.

"Freddie", in a letter to his parents stated he had eaten his finger nails down to the quick, and who would question him with those stakes?

The 3,060 mile communication system is to be constructed from Anhara, Turkey through Teheran in Iran to Karachie, Pakistan. It is a project of the United States International Cooperation Administration (ICA).

Because of the rugged nature of the terrain and climate, M.C.W. Onan, President of the Minneapolis-based firm, said that many precautions were being taken to safeguard uninterrupted operation of the network described by the U. S. State department as "an important part of the U. S. Mutual Security Program."

Exporters of power units to government and private industry for more than a generation, his firm already has had considerable experience in the Near East, Onan said.

"This made it possible for us to offer RCA—against stiff competition—Power units that will operate in areas where the temperature ranges from nearly 50 dgrees below zero to nearly 130 degrees above, in mountain climates, in deserts, and in places so remote that intervals between even normal service will be as long as 30 days".

The network will include key stations—which also will be maintenance and alarm centers—in each of the three capitol cities and 88 additional posts that include 68 repeater stations, 10 drop repeater stations and 10 terminal repeater stations with maintenance alarm equipment.

CIVIL DEFENSE is a field of concern in which every individual must make a judgment.

Much of civil defense preparation depends on one big "if"—if a nuclear attack occurred near you.

For example, State Health Department officials say if a medium range nuclear weapon were exploded in the center of a city the size of Lansing, an estimated 40,000 people would be killed outright, 33,000 would be wounded serious enough to require medical attention, and 52,000 would survive the explosion without serious injury.

The individual's choice is whether he is located where a fallout shelter would be of value or whether he wants to take his chances on existing facilities in the hope the "if" never occurs.

Communities, however, have little choice, according to health authorities.

The problems which would confront a community at or near a nuclear blast are of a magnitude rarely realized by individuals

Statistics are available, however, to show what facilities, equipment, supplies and personnel would be required for the care of mass casualties.

In the event of a blast at a city like Lansing, State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis said two-thirds of the victims who survived the initial explosion would be suffering from burns alone, or in combination with lacerations and broken bones.

This would not include cases of radiation sickness, which would not be detectable until later symptoms developed.

Of the burn victims, half would be able to "go to work" after treatment; and 40 per cent would be critical with survival dependent upon treatment. The other 10 per cent would suffer fatal burns, with chances for survival remote under even ideal conditions.

Community planning to care for casualties would require at least 300 physicians surviving, and around 2,000 hospital beds, including emergency facilities.

This would allow only one bed for every 10 injured but might be sufficient if proper pre-planning was carried out, Heustis said.

Effective use of every survivor of such an attack would depend greatly on widespread knowledge of first aid and medical self-help techniques, Heustis said.

MICHIGAN'S CONSERVATION program could get a boost under a legislative proposal whch is gaining strength.

The House of Representatives recommended Senate approval this year of a measure which has been under consideration for six years by legislators interested in lessening the problem of delinquency among youth.

Representatives Harry DeMaso, Battle Creek Republican, and E. D. O'Brien, Detroit Democrat, headed the move to gain acceptance of a part of a program proposed by a legislative interim committee they led.

Of five proposals, the House accepted two almost without opposition.

The main proposal which was approved by the House would allow the creation of a camp facility, similar to the CCC camps operation during the depression.

Youth referred to the State Social Welfare Department by courts, police, or other agencies, could be put to work in the camp unit. It initially would include 60 persons.

The Conservation Department and Department of Public Instruction would cooperate in the project.

The Conservation Department would provide work for the youths to do at state forests and park lands. Teachers for an educational program at the camp would be provided by the Department of Public Instruction.

Minnesota and several other states have similar programs in operation, DeMaso said. Success of these programs led to the camp recommendation by the Michigan legislative committee.

Strong bi-partisan support of the recommendation to provide a facility of the CCC-type gave impetus to the committee proposal. Gov. John B. Swainson made a recommendation of this type in a message to the Legislature on youth.

Six years ago, a study of the probate code started the committee on the road to this year's proposal.

By putting delinquent youth to work helping improve the state's conservation and recreation lands, DeMaso said the Legislature would be "taking a realistic step toward building the defenses which the state must have in order to have an effective and adequate defense to the ever-occurring juvenile problems."

AGRICULTURE in ACTION

Scalp Hunting

As the old saying goes, there is more than one way to skin a cat, or for that matter, to catch a turkey. The old Indian Scouts used to gobble like a wild turkey and then wait for the white man to show up looking for dinner. In this fashion many scalps were added to trophy belts.

In view of recent attempts by the United States Department of Agriculture to drum up support for a proposed national turkey marking order, this comparison is more apt than might at first seem. Further the time-table calls for getting the job done before the referendum vote of turkey producers scheduled June 18-22.

USDA scalp hunting procedurea include deliberate exemption of about 90 percent of all turkey growers from a vote in the referendum, plus voting rules that give the Secretary of Agriculture tight control of the "election" all along the line. Ballot results will not be announced locally, or by county or state. Only by the Secretary on a "national basis."

Another Indian-atyle trick used by the Secretary is a recent letter from USDA to all turkey handlers and containing an agreement which if signed by a processor is an automatic, official endorsement of the proposed national turkey marketing order, prior to the referendum.

An air of legitimacy has been woven around the order proposals through use of industry "advisory" committees. As expected these hand-picked committees echoed the Secretary's endorsement of the national marketing order idea, considered a first, big atep, in the agricultural supply-management control theory.

The claimed objective of the proposed national turkey order would be to "assure fair returns to producers and reasonable prices to consumers,"—all of course, through the blessings of government.

But turkey producers are pondering the words of Dr. James Ralph, when speaking as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture he gets just enought to keep them (growers) a tremendously profitable price but let's them get just enough to keep them working as hard as they have in the past ao consumers can continue to enjoy cheap turkeys."

The "beautiful Blue Danube" is reported to be a dirty gray.

Money saved for rainy days buys a much smaller umbrella than it used to.

Instructor Billy Reynolds (turning front wheel) and Shell dealers check out a car at one of Shell's 123 training centers.

Shell instructor Billy Reynolds offers 10 clues that may help you spot trouble before it starts

Billy Reynolds

Over 12,000 Shell dealers go to Shell training centers every year. There, they learn how to spot trouble quickly.

Here are 10 trouble signals that Billy Reynolds, one of Shell's chief instructors, always stresses. If you notice any of them in your car, tell your Shell dealer. His advice might head off a big repair bill later on.

1. Mushy brakes. When your car is standing still, push the brake pedal down with a firm, steady pressure. If it feels soft and sinks to the floor, you've got trouble that should be fixed right away.

2. Wandering wheels. If your front tires show more wear on one side of the tread than the other, your wheel alignment is probably at fault. Out-of-line wheels can increase tire wear up to 50 percent.

3. Jiggly front end. Shove down hard on either bumper with your foot. If the car bobs up and down for a long time before coming to a rest, ask your Shell dealer to check your shock absorbers.

4. Decrepit tail pipe. If your muffler or tail pipe is rusted through in spots, it's a good idea to replace it.

5. "Bloated" radiator hoses. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they're cracked or swollen, they can fail at any time and cause your engine to overheat.

6. Marred windshield. If your windshield is scarred or streaked, it's probably due to faulty windshield wipers. Have your Shell dealer check and replace them if necessary.

7. Strange noises. Listen for any odd noises from your car. They can be warnings of trouble on the way.

8. Under-the-hood clues. You can learn a lot by looking at your engine. Watch for oil, fuel and water leaks. Also, loose wires and worn insulation.

9. Sluggish battery. If your engine turns over more slowly than usual when you start up, a weak battery is probably the trouble. But it could be something else. Better check it.

10. Oil-streaked sidewalls. Check the sides of your tires you seldom see—the sides facing in. Look for signs of leaking fluid on the tire walls. Could be a leaking brake cylinder, or faulty oil seals on the rear wheels. Both can be serious.

Any trained Shell dealer knows many trouble signals besides these. Take advantage of his training. And one last tip: when you've got your car in top condition, keep it filled with today's Super Shell—for top performance all year long.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

Its The Season For Gyp Salesmen

It's the season when door-to-door magazine salesmen flock to Michigan. Some of them represent reputable companies. Others are known to be illegally operating in the state, according to Frank J. Kelley, state attorney general.

His office has recently received reports and complaints concerning a new variation of the old "survey" trick being used to sell magazines. The salesman makes his pitch by first stating he is not interested in selling magadines but is employed to conduct a survey to determine the most popular magazines for an opinlon poll. The prospective eustomer is asked to look over a printed list and cheek the magazines known, read and liked.

Soon the eustomer begins to receive bills for magazines "ordered" by this check-off system. Attempts to deny the order or to cancel it are followed by threatening collection letters.

Citizens are warned to be alert for this magazine "survey" racket and report any contact of this kind to the Chamber of Commeree, eity police, prosecuting attorney and the office of the state attorney general.

Governor Swainson Stops Here On Tour of Northern Michigan

Gov. John B. Swainson (left) personnally greets citizens of the area Friday morning following a breakfast in his honor at Grey Gables Inn. Pictured here he greets Josepb M. Foster, one of the old stalwarts of the Democratic party in Charlevoix. Waiting his turn (center) is John Wolf of Charlevoix.

More than 65 Charlevoix county residents, Democrats and Republicans, gathered at the Grey Gables Inn early Friday for a breakfast at which Governor John B. Swaninson launched a seven-stop tour of northern Michigan.

Mayor E. D. Hawley was present to welcome Governor Swainson to the community. George A. LaBlance, Charlevoix county Democratic chairman, spoke briefly and introduced county officers and visitors who had gathered for the event.

Governor Swainson then addressed the group in the first of seven such meetings, following through on his recent announcement to "take the story of the legislative failures to the people".

He talked mainly on the need for more monies for education from the local schools to the state's colleges and universities.

"It is in an intelligent, well-educated youth that lie Michigan's hopes for a bright and prosperous future." However, there apparently is still need to convince some people that children are our most precious asset," he added.

"State assistance to our school system has dropped from 52 per cent of all funds used at the local level to 41 per cent in the past 10 years. This means that local taxpayers have had to pick up the difference", he said in conclusion.

He also touched briefly on the need for more funds for mental health and for promotion on the tourist industry.

During the tour of the Lower 11th district Gov. Swainson visited Petoskey, Cheboygan, Mackinaw City and Rogers City.

Neither India nor China is the most populated area per square mile. It's Holland.

Forty-eight Graduates Receive Diplomas

"It is not possible to do nothing" Dr. John J. Pruis, administrative assistant to the President of Western Michigan University, told the 1962 graduating class of the Charlevoix high school in his commencement address Wednesday evening.

"Because our every act signifies something it is important that we do the 'right' things . . you must use the education you have been given to take the right road, to make the right decision for every experience, action, decision leaves its mark on you."

He went on to tell the graduates that they have been taught some of the answers thus far and also some of the questions and he challenged them to reason their way into the future. He concluded by saying that making decisions and using one's education is not an unpleasant experience.

Immediately following Dr. Pruis' address, H. E Bingham, high school principal, presented the 48 members of the graduating class, the smallest in recent years. Robert G. Lieberman, president of the board of education, then presented the students with their diplomas.

Special awards were presented to members of the class. E. K. Shanahan, past president of the Charlevoix Kiwanis club, presented the Kiwanis award for excellence in science and mathematics to Mary Anne Klooster along with a check; Mr. Bingham presented the Robert S. Wilson awards to George Majors and Judy Ikens. These awards are given to members of the class who, in the eyes of their classmates and teachers, have contributed the most to their class and school. The recipients receive a loving cup engraved with their names and checks for $50.00.

Mrs. C. A. Duerr, chairman of the Harold E. Kohn Scholarship committee, was introduced. She then presented the first annual Harold E. Kohn award given to an area resident who is following a career of church work to Ronald Koteskey, a 1959 graduate of the Charlevoix high school. Mr. Koteskey, who has completed his junior year at Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky., is studying for the ministry.

Mr. Bingham then announced the winners of scholarships. They were: University of Michigan Regents-Alumni scholarship Donna Berg; Central Michigan University State Board of Education Edueational grant, Albert Arvilla; Northwestern Michigan College Corrie E. Smith Schuyler Scholarship, Wanda Warner; Anderson College first annual Michigan State Youth Fellowship Scholarship award, George Majors; Michigan State University Alumni Distinguished Scholarship, Jeanette Novak. He added that other students had applied for scholarships but had not yet been notified regarding their applications.

Mr. Bingham then read a congratulatory cablegram from Lia Drenth, 1960-61 exchange atudent from Holland and introduced this year's exchange students who were members of the graduating class. They are: Nynke Bierma of Holland, Pertti Salmela of Finland and Ulrich Kallmeyer of Germany.

Wanda Warner greeted parents, teachers and friends to open the traditional program. She was salutatorian of her class. She was followed by Mary Anne Klooster who presented the valedictory. Supt R. G. Bennett introduced Dr. Pruis.

Special music was by the Charlevoix high school girls glee club and choir, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns, and the Charlevoix high school band. Both were directed by C. A. Odmark who also directed the graduates in the "Alma Mater".

The Rev. Alexander Wood gave the invocation and Rev. James Lugibihl the benediction.
